Receive Writers Who Flew Atlantic.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 21.—The duke and duchess of Windsor received a dozen American newspaper representatives here today and announced they are planning a visit to the United States in the near future.

"Of course we have made no definite plans, because things have been rather tense here," said the duke, former King Edward VIII. of Great Britain. "But we are thinking of it all the time."

"The only reason we have not made a visit sooner is that we have been afraid of the American newspapers," added the duchess. "If you all could only promise to be as friendly as you are this afternoon!"

Reception Called a Feeler.

The reception granted to newspaper writers who crossed the Atlantic to Europe on the preview flight of Pan American Airways trans-oceanic air service is regarded here as a feeler. It is understood the duke and duchess are prepared to visit the United States this summer if they can be assured of a kindly reception by the country.

The duke's desire to visit the United States has been known ever since his marriage on June 3, 1937. In 1937 elaborate plans for a visit were made through Charles E. Bedaux, American industrialist and friend of the royal couple. These plans suddenly were canceled when labor groups objected to Bedaux's connection with the proposed trip.

[Bedaux was attacked by American labor as the inventor of the Bedaux system for the speeding up of manual labor.]

Sudden Change in Plans.

Especially significant today was the sudden change in the plans under which the reception was given. When the newspapermen arrived at 24 Boulevard Suchet, the beautiful new home of the royal exiles, they were told that everything was to be "off the record." Neither the duke nor duchess was to be quoted and no stories were to be written. However, after farewells were said, and the guests filed out of the house, they were informed that all restrictions were removed and they might quote anything that was said.

The writers, upon entering the home of the Windsors, were marshaled by red coated servants and led up a sweeping staircase to a cheerful library and living room on the second floor. The duchess was alone and she greeted each visitor with a handclasp and cordial smile.

She wore a black taffeta afternoon dress of just below the knee length. It was without ornament, with plain elbow length sleeves and high neckline. She also wore a band of coral and crystal beads with earrings to match.

Footmen Serve Champagne.

A moment later the duke appeared and introductions were repeated. The duchess led the party into an inner room and footmen handed around champagne and platters of pastries. The duke immediately began asking about the ocean crossing on the Atlantic Clipper.

Assured it was comfortable, he was asked when he planned to follow his brother, King George VI. of England, to the United States. After both he and the duchess replied they proposed to make a visit soon they were asked if they would consider flying across.

"I am frightened of planes," replied the duchess. "I have claustrophobia and cannot bear to sit inside them. When we go we will sail. I do want to get back to visit my uncle, Ben Warfield."

[Claustrophobia is defined as a morbid dread of being confined.]

Says People Can Believe Him.

The duke then was told that his recent plea for world peace had been heartily echoed throughout the United States.

"I am glad," he replied. "People do not trust politicians. They listen to their statements and then say, 'What is the game behind it all.' I have no game, you know, and people can believe what I tell them.

"The whole situation is a little easier now and I firmly believe there is no disagreement so difficult it cannot be worked out without war. We all know a general war would mean the end of civilization, and I do not believe any one—no matter who he is—is willing to take the responsibility for such a calamity."

SPURNS DEMAND FOR WARSHIP TO LEAVE SWATOW

Admiral Says Vessel Has Duty to Stay.

SHANGHAI, June 22 [Thursday].—(AP)—Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander in chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, was said by reliable sources today to have rejected flatly Japanese demands that the American destroyer Pillsbury and American citizens leave Swatow, China. He was reported to have made the statement following a Japanese military occupation of the port yesterday. The Japanese naval commander at Swatow was said to have demanded that all foreign warships leave the harbor by 1 p. m. [midnight Wednesday, Chicago time].

Admiral Yarnell is at Chinwangtao on the North China coast. He was said to have told Admiral Koshiro Oikawa, commander of Japan's third fleet in Chinese waters, that the American navy's duty was to protect American lives and property wherever they existed and that it would execute its mission.

Admiral Warns Japanese.

It was said Admiral Yarnell had informed Oikawa that the 40 Americans at Swatow would attempt not to interfere with Japanese naval operations. However, he was reported to have emphasized that the United States would hold Japan responsible for any damage or loss of life.

British authorities said they had refused a Japanese demand for removal of the destroyer Thanet. They added there were two coastal steamers at Swatow prepared to take away any British desiring to depart. There are 80 Britons in the port.

Earlier British embassy officials had reported that the Japanese had followed demands for the removal of foreign warships with one for the exodus of all foreigners.

Japs Deny It was Ultimatum.

Otherwise, Japanese were said to have stated, "we cannot be responsible for their safety."

A Japanese naval spokesman here had denied that the removal of foreigners and men of war at Swatow had been demanded by 1 p. m. [midnight Wednesday Chicago time]. He said that through the foreign consular corps here the Japanese China fleet yesterday had requested all foreign ships of whatever description and all foreigners in Swatow to leave the area of hostilities within and about Swatow, where the Japanese navy began operations yesterday.

He said if any time limit had been set at Swatow it was made without the authority of the commander in chief of the Japanese China fleet, who is in Shanghai.

1,000 Killed in Attack.

The Japanese naval forces at Swatow consisted of two aircraft carriers, five destroyers, two troop transports, and five armed trawlers.

One thousand persons were killed and many more wounded in yesterday's attack by 800 Japanese who marched suddenly from two landing points north and south of the city. An intense air bombardment and shelling from the warships preceded the occupation.

A Japanese naval communique said the Chinese offered little resistance against the attack on the port.

Chinese sources had placed the Chinese garrison force of the city at 30,000. This force was reported to have withdrawn in good order to the northwest toward Chaochow to make a stand against any Japanese drive inland.

Japs Stop British Ships.

British advices said Japanese vessels stopped three British ships during the advance on Swatow and forced them to anchor off the coast.

Swatow's importance had been greatly increased since the Japanese captured Canton last Oct. 21. Millions of dollars worth of war supplies had entered there for overland transport to Shuikwan, 240 miles inland, Chinese political and military headquarters for Southeastern China.

Swatow's fall leaves Foochow and Ningpo, in Fukien and Chekiang provinces, respectively, the only important ports remaining in Chinese hands.

The Japanese in their campaign to establish a new order in China, begun July 7, 1937, previously had taken the great ports of Shanghai, Canton, Tangku, which is the port for Tientsin, Amoy, and Tsingtao.

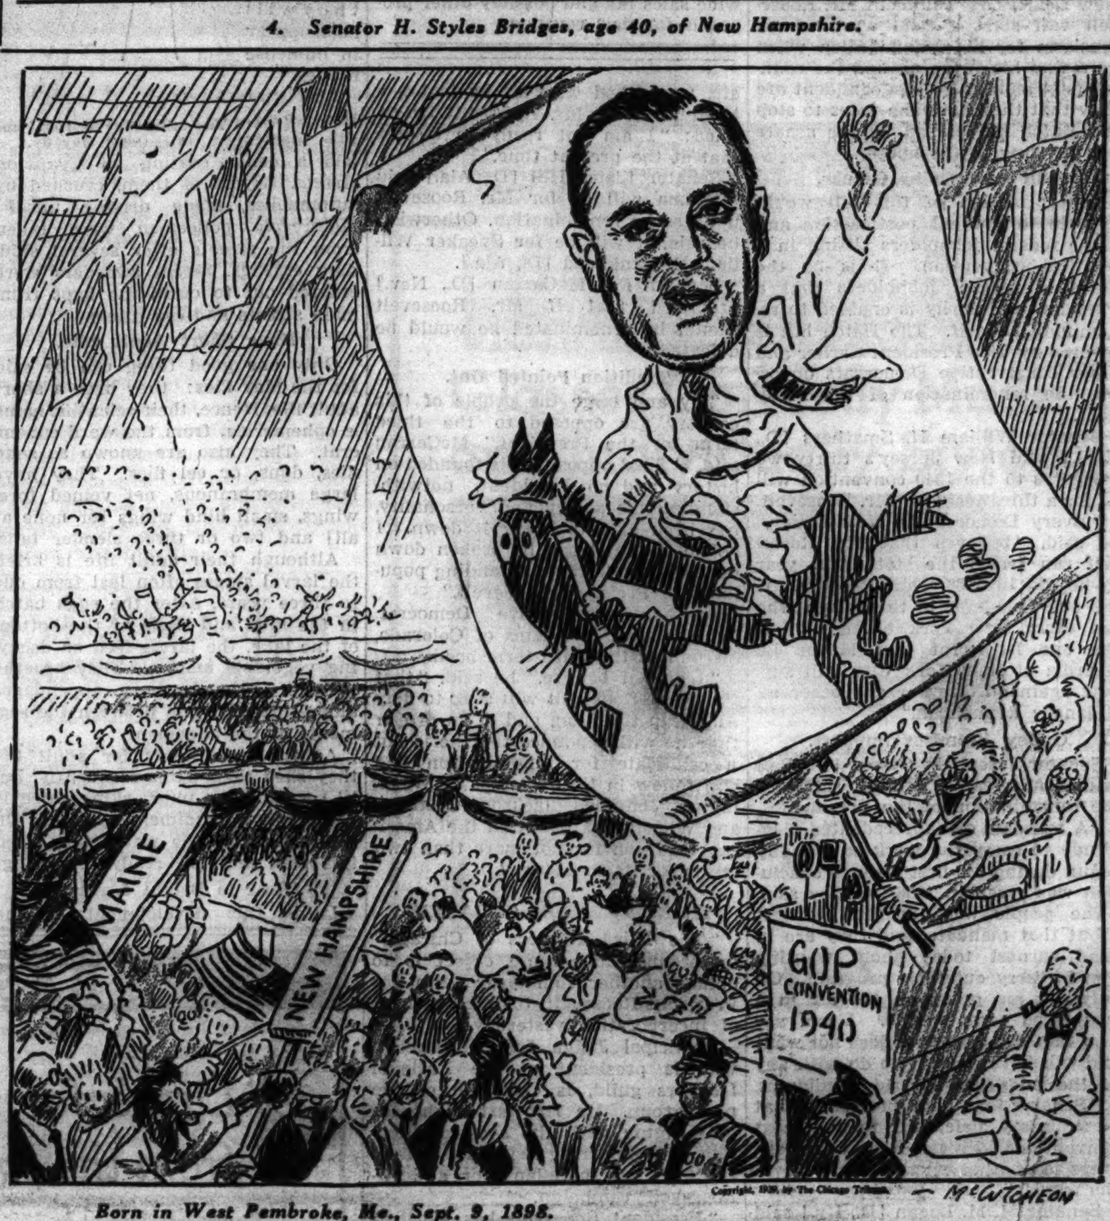
REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

4. Senator H. Styles Bridges, age 40, of New Hampshire.



Copyright, 1939, by The Chicago Tribune.

Born in West Pembroke, Me., Sept. 9, 1898.

Graduated from University of Maine in 1918. Married in June, 1928.

First name—Henry—not often used.

Former secretary of the New Hampshire Investment company, former secretary and treasurer of the Farm Bureau Automobile Insurance company.

Served as governor 1935-'37. During this time came into national notice by being mentioned for the vice presidency with Alf Landon. Not chosen because the combination "Landon-Bridges" was too suggestive of downfall.

Elected to the United States senate in 1936.

At present may be considered one of three or four dark horsemen in 1940 nomination race.

Senator Bridges says:

"Peace and the recovery of general prosperity must be the twin goals of the Republican party."

"In 1940 there must be a return to the fundamental planks of the platform on which Lincoln campaigned seventy-nine years ago."

"The Republican party is the only instrument through which the people can prevent national bankruptcy. We've reached the end of the trail. We have the biggest national debt in the history of our nation. More than 11 millions of unemployed Americans are walking the streets."

"We now have oppressive taxation, broken promises, an economic philosophy of destruction rather than production, a foreign trade policy that robs the American farmer and manufacturer and worker of their markets and jobs."

"Economy, thrift, and the return to sanity are today our most necessary objectives."

HEN, 20 YEARS OLD, STARTS TRYING AGAIN TO FOUND A FAMILY

It was Henrietta, Frank Peglow's White Minorca hen, that laid the egg in his henhouse at Elgin yesterday. But it was Peglow who cackled. Henrietta is 20 years old, old enough to have gone to her reward years ago and much too old to begin laying eggs again.

ONE HIT, 2 RUNS AND 2 ERRORS; ROBBERS LOSE

Public, 2. Bandits, 0.

Earl Nichols of 7 North Keeler avenue, a telephone company collector, was stopped by a gunman yesterday at 67th street and Maryland avenue. Nichols swung from his heels, knocking the robber down. Then the collector chased the bandit to his car, took the license number, and asked police to catch him.

Oscar Larson of 1641 North Kildare avenue was counting the money he had collected on his milk route when a robber stepped up to his truck in the 4300 block of North Keeler avenue. Larson frightened him away, yelling after him, "You ought to be ashamed."

Ant Extermination Scheme Sends Two to a Hospital

Mrs. Lou Russel, 38 years old, and her son, Jack, 16, devised a scheme for exterminating the ants which were streaming from hills in the back yard into their home at 517 North Lawler avenue. They packed paper and rags around the hills and set fire to them. Yesterday Mrs. Russel and her son were treated at West Suburban hospital for burns on their legs and arms.

What's in Street Names? City Expert Discovers Family Tree

If you have been losing sleep lately wondering how the street you live on got its name, your insomnia now may end. Every street name—and there are 1,363 in Chicago—has been solved.

Howard C. Brodman, head of the city map bureau, announced yesterday that he can explain each of the 1,363. He also can explain the 500 names the city deleted in 1913-'15, the 300 deleted in 1934-'35, and the four new names created in 1936.

The names have been accruing for over a century, but it took Mr. Brodman, his staff, and Edward Brennan, chairman of the City club street name committee, only a year to unravel them. To do it, they delved into scrap books, history books and old newspaper files.

1,363 Reasons Uncovered.

There are exactly 1,363 reasons, he said, for the 1,363 street names.

Chicago's original subdividers, for instance, being only mortal men, had a tender little habit of naming streets for themselves and their relatives. Philo Carpenter, an 1840 realtor, not only perpetuated his name with Carpenter street, but created Anne, Ada, and Elizabeth streets for each of his three daughters.

Cottage Grove avenue was named for a cottage set in a grove of trees at 22d and State streets. Ravenswood avenue was so named because of the noise the ravens made at night in the woods. Weed street was named, believe it or not, for a man, as was Root, but Terra Cotta was named for a firm situated on it.

The names of such streets as Marquette and La Salle are obvious tributes, Mr. Brodman said, to the two early explorers, but Wilson avenue is not named for Woodrow Wilson, as many people believe. It was named for Frederick Wilson, a real estate man.

Some Wishful Thinking.

Much of the street naming is merely wishful thinking, Mr. Brodman believes. A street named Highland is sure to run through swampy lowlands, he says, and something like Alta Vista [high view] generally is in a gulley.

Mr. Brodman himself has been working with street names for thirty-three years, and believes they should be short, phonetic, euphonious, and easy to spell. He dislikes such names as Dowagiac, named for an Indian tribe. He was happy when the city council changed old Irving avenue [which was being confused with Irving Park boulevard] into Bell avenue, which, he says, has all the desirable qualities.

Everybody Is Pleased.

Everybody seemed pleased with it, he commented amiably. The militarists thought it was named for the Spanish-American war general. The telephone people thought it was named for Alexander Graham Bell. "Take your choice," says Mr. Brodman. "Anyway, it's easy to spell."

Other names recently added to the city's street list were Cabrini, which is musical and which serves as a tribute to the beatified Mother Superior; Hubbard, named for the first Indian agent at Fort Dearborn, and Monitor. There was no real reason for Monitor, except that Chicago already had a Merrimac and it seemed lonesome by itself.

Bolt in Storm Hits 'L' Train; 3 Hurt in Panic

Eighty passengers stampeded in panic when lightning set fire to an elevated train in Niles Center late yesterday. The bolt struck at the height of the storm of near cloudburst proportions which drenched the Chicago district.

The north bound two car train, which runs at ground level in Niles Center, was approaching the Oakton street station when the lightning started a fire in the head car. Passengers fled to the second car, a number of them trying to squeeze through the narrow lane between the cars at the same time. The train was halted some distance south of the station.

Trample Woman in Flight.

As the passengers scrambled to get out, Mrs. Susanne Bourghman, 62 years old, was knocked down and trampled. She was so severely injured that she was taken to St. Francis hospital in Evanston. She lives at 4826 Elm street, Niles Center. Mathew Pruesh of 4937 North Winchester avenue, one of the trainmen, was slightly burned, as was another man whose identity was not learned.

Vice President Robert F. Hoffman of the Niles Center State bank, a passenger on the train, gave this account:

"There was a blinding flash. Smoke began to pour out of the front car. There were women screaming. The train stopped and the doors were opened. Passengers began piling out on top of each other on the ground below."

North Shore Hit Hardest.

The storm was fiercest on the north side and the north shore. Engineer James Church of the sanitary district plant at Howard street and McCormick road reported that 1.55 inches of rain fell in 3⅛ hours there, ½ inch of it in 15 minutes. The rainfall was relatively light on the south side, the official gauge at the University of Chicago weather bureau station showing only .53 of an inch.

Flooded underpasses halted street cars and automobiles in many parts of the north and west sides. Thomas D. Garry, superintendent of the bureau of sewers, received 500 calls from property owners whose basements were flooded. Crews found from five to six adjacent basements needing attention on almost every call. It was sometimes necessary to bail the water out.

Deluge Area Is Wide.

Garry said the heaviest rain was in the area bounded by Kedzie and Chicago avenues, Addison street and the western city limits.

A 20 foot section of the steel smokestack toppled from the 18 story Delaware Towers apartments at 25 East Delaware place, falling through the roof of a two story building at 874 North Wabash avenue, which was unoccupied at the time. Mrs. Lucy Will, manager of the apartment building, refused to comment when efforts were made to determine whether lightning or the wind caused the fall.

Sleeps in Pajamas, but He's Still a Hobo—Won't Work

Memphis, Tenn., June 21.—(AP)—Each night for a week, workers on the government dredge Omega watched a "gentleman hobo" come to the riverbank, carefully don pajamas and bed down on the ground. Finally, some of them rowed over and asked the pajama-clad one if he would like a job on the dredge. "Nope," he replied pleasantly, "I left St. Louis to get out of work."

GOV. LECHE OUT; ILL HEALTH IS REASON GIVEN

Senator Nye Bares Fraud Affidavit.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 21.—[Special.]—Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] appeared before the senate appropriations committee this afternoon and read an affidavit containing sensational charges of WPA graft in Louisiana. A few hours later official Washington was informed that Gov. Richard W. Leche of Louisiana had announced his resignation, to take effect next week. He gave ill health as the reason.

It was indicated the voluntary disappearance from the scene of Leche, one of the political heirs of the late Senator Huey P. Long, would not stave off an official inquiry which observers in New Orleans have predicted would "rock the state."

Expects More Affidavits.

Senator Rush D. Holt [D., W. Va.] announced that he expects to receive at least twenty additional affidavits tomorrow bearing on the alleged misuse of public funds in Louisiana.

"When I do," the senator said, "I shall go to the senate and demand formally that there be an investigation of wholesale frauds."

In his announcement Leche said he has suffered frequent attacks of arthritis.

His departure will give the governor's post to Earl K. Long, fiery brother of the senator who was slain in 1935 in the marble corridor of the huge state capitol at Baton Rouge. Long is regarded as politically unpredictable. At times he quarreled with Huey Long. At other times he was on good terms with that spectacular figure. He is believed to be acceptable in New Deal councils.

State Officials Accused.

In effect the affidavit read by Senator Nye, which was signed by five men, asserted there had been dishonesty and corruption in the administration of WPA funds at Louisiana State university, and that WPA labor had been freely used in the construction of homes for state officials and the improvement of their estates.

The affidavit makers added that they were willing to give their testimony before any official federal body.

The movement for an investigation emanating from Washington was given a push forward earlier in the week by J. R. Crutcher, state WPA administrator, who demanded that Washington look into the charges.

Picture Gives Evidence.

A still more vigorous demand was made by a New Orleans newspaper, The States, which printed a picture of a state university truck, piled high with window frames, being unloaded in front of the new home of a prominent political figure. The newspaper also charged that the frames had been made in the university carpenter shop in Baton Rouge.

Confronted by these allegations, Gov. Leche called what he described as an "open hearing." This was on June 10. On June 13 the hearing was indefinitly postponed. The governor said an inquiry by Attorney General David M. Ellison had disclosed there was no illegal or improper use of public property for private use.

This was followed by Ellison's announcement that he was investigating "more important and serious matters." The nature of these matters was not made public.

Records Shut to Public.

Then came a statement from the record keepers at the university that their books were no longer available for public inspection. It was reported here today that the books have been taken by a regional inspector of the WPA for study.

For the last week Leche has refused to talk for publication. It is known that for three days he has been almost constantly in conferences at the executive mansion with his closest advisers.

These conferences have stirred deep political currents. Some Louisianans believe the governor's retirement from office will mean a strenuous fight for the control of the state. Lieut. Gov. Long, State Senator James A. Noe, and State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell all have announced that they will be candidates for the Democratic nomination, which is equivalent to election in Louisiana.

Cogs in Huey's Machine.

All these men were cogs in the Huey Long machine. In the lifetime of Senator Long, however, Leche and Mayor Maestri of New Orleans and Seymour Weiss, a hotel owner, were regarded as closest to him. It was reported here that the mayor said that he knew nothing of Leche's intention to resign, but that anything the governor did was all right with him.

Earl Long now apparently has the inside track. He will control the state machine at the time delegates for the national Democratic convention are chosen. Less spectacular than his brother, he is regarded as just as vindictive toward enemies and just as resourceful in political combat.

Just how far the affidavits go in joining state politics to the alleged WPA graft was uncertain tonight. Reports from New Orleans indicated, however, that some of the affiants were specific and had supplied names and dates to go with their charges.

BUILDERS ASSAIL WASTE

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—The Works Progress administration has been wasteful, inefficient, demoralizing, and destructive of private enterprise in its handling of building projects in the last four years. This was the assertion today of a special committee of the Building Trades Employers' Association of New York in a report submitted to all members of the United States senate.

"From the testimony of your investigators and others that have appeared before your committee," the report said, "you unquestionably have a vast wealth of detailed information from all sections of the country that will confirm our statement that WPA, under its present form and administration on building operations, is:

"1. Inefficient.

Denounced as Extravagant.

"2. Wasteful and extravagant.

"3. Demoralizing to its employés.

"4. In many instances not worth the effort and expense as a means of providing relief.

"5. Destructive to private enterprise."

The association, which has 900 members representing general contractors and all types of special and sub-contractors, disclaimed any bias toward the WPA, but contended the association was the best qualified observer of WPA work on building projects.

One of the glaring deficiencies of the WPA, the report asserted, has been the refusal of the WPA administration to coöperate with private enterprise to increase WPA efficiencies on building projects and lighten the load on the public purse.

Lack of Coöperation Cited.

"In each case," the report said, "even though the local administrators were willing to attempt coöperation, they found a complete unwillingness on the part of the Washington directors of WPA to authorize any changes. Our attempts with national administrators were equally fruitless."

The report listed among the faults of WPA procedure its inability to conduct large building operations, abuse of the WPA by municipal authorities seeking public works, lack of complete plans and specifications on WPA projects, lack of enough skilled labor on relief to warant certain projects, lack of competent supervision, and high costs.

RUTH ETTING'S VIEWS ON LOVE AIRED IN COURT

Los Angeles, Cal., June 21.—[Special.]—Ruth Etting's views on love were revealed in Superior court today in a deposition she made last October before she married Myrl Alderman, her former accompanist. The torch singer is being sued for $150,000 by Alderman's ex-wife, Mrs. Alma Alderman, for the alleged theft of Alderman's love.

Asked by Mrs. Alderman's attorney if she had fallen desperately in love with Alderman, Miss Etting replied:

"Not 'desperately.'"

"But you did fall in love?"

"Well, I don't know. Love is a funny thing to define."

"Well, you were in love some time during your lifetime?"

"I don't think I ever have been very deeply in love."

Miss Etting denied she had lived with Alderman as his wife, but said she had cooked for him several times, adding: "I cooked pork chops for him."

SALE DISPOSES OF STRANGLED WOMAN'S GOODS

Furniture and personal effects of Miss Rose Neary, who was strangled and bludgeoned to death June 2 in her apartment at 3248 Franklin boulevard, were sold at auction yesterday and last evening. The sale was in her apartment, where she met death at the hands of a still unknown killer.

The auction was directed by the American National Bank and Trust company, which was appointed temporary administrator by the Probate court.

About the first third of Miss Neary's effects went for about $300. A set of breakfast china went for $19. A Paisley shawl, estimated to be 100 years old, went for $8. Miss Neary's sedan was sold in the evening for the highest bid of the auction, $685. Dresses brought an average of $1.25 each. All the goods were sold by 9 p. m.

RIVER FOREST POLICEMEN WIN PISTOL MATCH

A four man team from the River Forest police force was the winner yesterday of the first competition held on the new pistol range of the Western Springs police at 48th street and Flag creek. A plaque was awarded to the victors.

Second in the competition was the Oak Park police team, while third place went to La Grange. More than sixty expert shots were entered, including representatives of the United States coast guard, the Chicago police, and several federal agencies. Fifteen suburbs sent teams.

YOUNG WIFE SUED AGAIN BY OFFICER OF PULLMAN CO.

The third divorce suit involving Irving S. Hopkins, pension secretary of the Pullman company, and his wife, Julia Mary, 24 years old, was filed in Superior court yesterday. In it Hopkins, who is 54, charges desertion and asks custody of their son, Stuart, 4. Last year Hopkins, who lives at 11731 Normal avenue, charged his wife with misconduct in a cross-bill in answer to her suit charging cruelty. Both suits were dismissed last April 2 by agreement.

DEMOCRAT SPLIT INCREASES OVER 3D TERM ISSUE

Sharp Division Shown by Sounding of Opinion.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 21.—[Special.]—More evidence of the cleavage of the Democratic party by the Roosevelt third term movement was forthcoming today.

While some Democratic senators proclaimed that their states would be solid for the renomination of the President in the Democratic national convention next year, others manifested in various ways their repugnance to a third term for Mr. Roosevelt.

Despite this division of opinion, the New Dealers are confident Mr. Roosevelt will start a tidal wave of enthusiasm for his renomination when he makes his swing around the country next month. No less confident are they that they have the votes to stop the Hatch bill passed by the senate and pending in the house.

Bill Favored by Garner.

One provision of this bill would operate to prevent postmasters and other federal jobholders sitting in a political convention. It is by the votes of federal jobholders that a President ordinarily is enabled to renominate himself. The Hatch bill is favored by Vice President Garner and other conservative Democrats opposing the renomination of the President.

Senator William H. Smathers [D., N. J.] said New Jersey's thirty-two delegates to the 1940 convention will be for a third term for Mr. Roosevelt.

"Every Democrat in New Jersey," he said, "believes that Mr. Roosevelt can sweep the state next year as he did in 1936. Mr. Roosevelt is the one Democrat in the nation who can carry New York because he is the one Democrat that Mayor La Guardia of New York City will support against Dewey or any other reactionary Republican."

Guffey Promises Support.

Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.] said Pennsylvania will be solid for the renomination of the President.

"A mandate of unprecedented magnitude to carry the work so speedily begun during his first term to conclusion was given in 1936," Guffey said. "The people were in dead earnest about that mandate, and they are in dead earnest today about wanting him to carry out their program. On July 3 I am going on the air in a real third term speech. I can say now that Pennsylvania does not want and will have nothing to do with any of the middle-of-the-road candidates.

"Senator Smathers' prediction that New Jersey delegates to the next convention will be Roosevelt delegates is another significant straw in the wind."

Senator M. M. Logan [D., Ky.] said he has not changed his view that it would be unwise for any President to seek a third term.

Hopes He Won't Run.

"I hope," Logan continued, "that the President will not run, but if he does, I will support him. I always support the Democratic nominee. If Mr. Roosevelt does seek the nomination he will get it and be elected."

When Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], majority leader of the senate, was asked whether he favors a third term for Mr. Roosevelt he replied: "I am not ready to discuss that at the present time."

Senator Lister Hill [D., Ala.] said Alabama will be for Mr. Roosevelt if he seeks renomination. Otherwise, he said, it will be for Speaker William B. Bankhead [D., Ala.].

Senator Pat McCarran [D., Nev.] predicted that if Mr. Roosevelt should be renominated he would be defeated.

Tradition Pointed Out.

"By and large the people of this country are opposed to the third term for the President," McCarran said. "That opposition is founded on history and no President, notwithstanding his ability and personality, has been able to break it down. I do not think it can be broken down in 1940, despite the outstanding popularity of President Roosevelt."

Another conservative Democrat, Senator Alva B. Adams of Colorado, discounted the third term boom.

"I do not believe," he said, "that President Roosevelt will seek to defy American tradition, and at the proper time he will announce that he is not a candidate for renomination and will follow in the footsteps of Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Coolidge, and Wilson, and maintain the American tradition for not more than two terms for its President."

THIRD TERMERS ORGANIZE.

"The Third Termers of Chicago," an organization whose object is to obtain another four year term for President Roosevelt, took out articles of incorporation yesterday.

Municipal Judge John Gutknecht, who is president of the National Lawyers guild, is chairman of the new group. He left last night for Washington with the avowed intention of conferring with New Deal key men on the plans for a draft-Roosevelt campaign.

"President Roosevelt has gloriously earned his honorable discharge to peaceful retirement," said Judge Gutknecht, "but in this critical time the nation cannot surrender his services. In the emergency we must draft him."

LIGHTNING KILLS 2 BALLPLAYERS.

Danville, Va., June 21.—(AP)—Lightning struck during a baseball game between Negro sandlot teams late today and killed two of the players. Three others were shocked unconscious. The bolt came with a late afternoon storm that was not otherwise severe.

COURT OF APPEALS HOLDS BUDGET CUTS IN N. Y. ARE ILLEGAL

Albany, N. Y., June 21.—[Special.]—The Court of Appeals, New York state's highest court, today unanimously held unconstitutional the action of the Republican legislature in substituting lump sum appropriations for line items in reducing Gov. Herbert H. Lehman's 415 million dollar executive budget by $25,000,000.

The high court sustained the Appellate division of the Supreme court, which last week ruled against the Republicans by a vote of 3 to 2.

Gov. Lehman called a special session of the legislature to convene Friday afternoon to enact a new budget. It is expected that when the two houses convene the governor will send to them a special message confining their action to the passing of a valid budget.

Should the legislature decide to restore any part of the $10,000,000 which the Republicans cut from the governor's budget appropriation for state aid for schools or the $7,000,000 cut from the highway funds, new taxes will have to be levied. These cuts are constitutional. This would open up anew the controversy over a statewide sales tax and possibly other proposals for new revenue.

MAY FLY PESTS ARRIVE ON THEIR BRIEF LIFE FLING

Expect Immense Swarms in Chicago Area.

May flies, those slender, delicate little pests that swarm into the Chicago district each year, are back again. In Evanston, a familiar black rim of them on windows for several mornings has warned householders that they will soon appear in immense hordes.

Last year the gnat-like insects laid a dense coating on Evanston streets. Layers of them, crushed by automobiles, made driving unsafe. Motorcycle policemen were taken from the streets after several skidding crashes. Street sweepers were ordered out to clean the bugs from main streets and car tracks.

Have Short Adult Life.

Only one good thing can be said for the May flies: they have a short adult life. Hence, their scientific name is ephemerida, from the word ephemeral. They also are known as sand flies, duns, or eel flies. They have large membranous, net veined forewings, small hind wings [or none at all] and two or three slender tails.

Although their adult life is brief, the larval stages often last from one to three years. After the eggs hatch in the mud and slime at the bottom of the lake, the larvæ feed on decaying vegetable matter. They breathe through gills, feathery appendages along each side and between the segments of the abdomen.

As the time nears for adult life they shed their skins frequently, until reaching the pupal skin, which is provided with rudimentary wings. On the surface of the water they shed this skin and are ready for flying.

Soar to Bright Lights.

It is this development of the ephemerida that we know, as the May flies soar in great swarms around the bright lights near the lake shore, or around ponds and streams. Then just to be different from other insects, they shed their skins again.

Now the flies' adult life begins. Their mouths are nonfunctional and their alimentary canals are filled with air. So during the brief time they live—from one to three days—they eat nothing.

Their whole life is spent in a marriage flight, the males meeting the females above the water. There the female lays her eggs to start a new generation. By the second night after leaving the water the new batch of eggs is laid. And soon the ephemeral little May fly, true to its name, is no more.

HILL BLACKETT TALKS WITH HAMILTON AND G. O. P. CONGRESSMEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 21.—[Special.]—Hill Blackett, newly elected Republican national committeeman for Illinois, spent today in conferences with Republican National Chairman John Hamilton and Illinois Republican members of congress on plans to regain Illinois from Democratic control next year.

Blackett said he has taken leave of absence from his business and is starting a tour of the state tomorrow to counsel with party leaders. He will speak next Monday at a luncheon of the 1940 club in the Hotel Sherman, Chicago. It will be his first public appearance in Chicago since he was chosen to succeed the late George F. Harding.

RULES REVISED BY LABOR BOARD TO STILL CRITICS

Employers May Petition in Certain Cases.

Washington, D. C., June 21.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations board, target of vehement criticism by employers, the American Federation of Labor, and others seeking to have the Wagner act rewritten, revised its rules today in an effort to meet some of the complaints.

Employers were informed that when rival unions claimed to represent a majority of their workers, the employers could petition the board to intervene and decide which union really was the spokesman for the workers. Up to now, as the board interpreted the Wagner act, only labor organizations had such right of petition—and some employers have complained bitterly that they were "caught in the middle" of fights between warring unions.

Longer Notice Required.

The board also took two other steps to revise rules against which the American Federation of Labor had lodged complaints. One change will require ten days' notice [instead of five] of hearings relating to complaints of unfair labor practices. The other provides that when the board holds hearings on charges that a union's contract with an employer violates the Wagner act, the union shall be a party to the hearing. The federation has insisted that the board has improperly invalidated certain contracts of federation unions.

Whether the revised rules would curb the present movement in congress for amendments to the Wagner act remained to be seen, but they were expected to be stressed by legislators and others opposed to sweeping alterations.

Makes Plea for Changes.

David R. Clarke of Chicago, general counsel for the Illinois Manufacturers' association, urged congress today to repeal the majority rule provisions of the Wagner act before adjourning.

If it fails to do so, he said, it will find the country's industries far more completely paralyzed than now when it reconvenes next session.

Testifying before the senate labor committee, Clarke said recent strife in the coal, automobile, and other strike-ridden industries constituted mere preliminary skirmishes to what is ahead.

"The C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. have now publicly declared a war to the finish on all fronts—a war for control over millions of workmen in industry," the witness said.

Sees Two Groups at War.

"This is a war between two powerful groups of labor union leaders to secure the spoils of victory under the National Labor Relations act.

"It is a war to secure the power the national labor relationc act gives to the victor under the 'majority rule' provisions of that act."

Clarke said the act provides that the union found by the labor board to represent a majority of workmen in a collective bargaining unit shall be the exclusive representative of all employés in the unit.

He contended this policy was unlike the democratic system of government in that there was no provision for minority representation.

"There is nothing in the European situation so threatening to America," he said, "as is the possibility of congress adjourning without—at least—removing this immediate, vital threat to the well being of this country."

MAYOR LEAVES TO SEE ICKES ON TRACTION DELAY

Mayor Kelly left late yesterday for Washington where he will confer with Secretary of the Interior Ickes on traction and subway problems. He was accompanied by Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways and traction, and William H. Sexton, special traction attorney for the city.

The city representatives today will ask Ickes to extend the time limit for drafting a unified traction franchise ordinance. Ickes is head of the Public Works administration, which set July 1 as the deadline for the ordinance in making its $18,000,000 subway grant to the city. The mayor informed Ickes last week that the city was negotiating with the companies, but that the July 1 deadline could not be met.

Ickes is also expected to give his final decision today on the request for high level subways made by a group of loop property owners. Low level tubes, 40 feet below the street, are now called for in the subway plans drawn by the PWA.

SEWAGE PLANT OPERATING AT 25% CAPACITY

Sanitary district officials announced yesterday that the new southwest side sewage treatment works is now operating at about one-fourth capacity. It started operation May 10 and yesterday treated 100 million gallons of sewage. It is expected to reach its capacity of 400 million gallons about the middle of July. The plant, on the bank of the sanitary canal, cost approximately $13,000,000. It treats sewage from the loop district and southwest side.

A. M. A. PRESIDENT RAPS SOCIALIZED MEDICINE PLANS

Socialized medicine was assailed last night by Dr. Rock Sleyster, president of the American Medical association. He spoke before the annual meeting of the Chicago Medical society in the Palmer House.

"The care of medicine," he said, "must never be given over to commercial groups bidding against each other and the control of medicine must never follow political groups. The profession does not lend itself to the modernized and industrialized methods of socialized medicine."

Dr. N. S. Davis III. was seated as the society's president, succeeding Dr. Robert Hayes. Dr. Frank F. Maple, retiring secretary, was inducted as president elect for next year. Dr. H. Prather Saunders was inaugurated as secretary.

EARLE DEFENDS MEANS USED TO PAD PAY ROLLS

Blames Precedent for Money Transfers.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 21.—(AP)—Former Gov. George H. Earle, testifying at the pay roll padding trial of his one time secretary of highways, today met an attack on budget transfers of his administration with the reply that he inherited the system from previous Republican régimes.

Earle, retired to private life since defeat of the Democrats last November, was called to explain the transfer of $1,043,000 from one highway fund to another to cover an overdraft caused by an inflated pay roll in Luzerne county last fall.

$600,000 for Politics.

The commonwealth charges that Earle's secretary of highways, Roy E. Brownmiller, permitted a padded pay roll and the subsequent waste and misuse of $600,000 for political purposes shortly before the November elections.

Earle told the jury today he never approved the transfer used to cover the overdraft.

"I approved the original budget [for the highways department]," Earle testified, "but not any transfers or changes. I assumed the procedure of the office was being carried out legally."

Procedure Assumed Legal.

Earle indicated that when he took office he was informed that the budget secretary handled such intradepartment affairs and added:

"We assumed the procedure of our predecessors was legal when we followed it."

Brownmiller is the first of a dozen Democratic leaders to face a jury on charges of misconduct in office. Earle was named in the petition for a grand jury investigation filed by Republican District Attorney Carl B. Shelley. The jury found insufficient grounds for an indictment.

HOUSE REBUKES ROOSEVELT FOR WAR SCARE HOAX

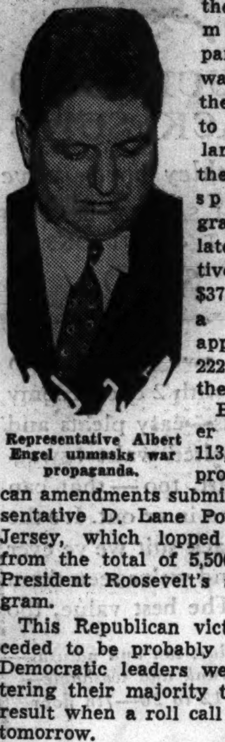
BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Representative Albert Engel unmasks war propaganda.

Washington, D. C., June 21.—[Special.]—Stirred by new disclosures of the Roosevelt administration's part in inciting war hysteria in the United States to whip up popular support for the vast military spending program, the house late today tentatively struck $37,000,000 from a supplemental appropriation of 222 millions for the army.

By a close teller vote of 121 to 113, members approved Republican amendments submitted by Representative D. Lane Powers of New Jersey, which lopped 1,283 planes from the total of 5,500 proposed in President Roosevelt's air force program.

This Republican victory was conceded to be probably temporary, as Democratic leaders were busy mustering their majority to reverse the result when a roll call vote is taken tomorrow.

Rebuked for War Scare.

Today's vote, however, could be interpreted only as a rebuke to President Roosevelt, who was revealed in debate as having taken a leading rôle in the war scare campaign.

With the aid of Democratic members of the rubber stamp type, who were absent today, Majority Leader Sam Rayburn predicted that the $37,000,000 fund and the 1,283 planes will be restored to the bill tomorrow.

Adjournment until tomorrow was forced by Rayburn in fear that the presidential rebuke would be made permanent if the house voted today on passage of the bill.

The bill under discussion appropriates $222,000,000 as an additional fund for the army, which already has received $508,780,000 at this session. This new fund is to be used to purchase 2,290 war planes—part of the total force of 5,500 which has been authorized. New air bases and improvement of old ones are provided for in the measure, as well as $23,400,000 for additional defenses at the Panama canal.

Secret Testimony Revealed.

The temporary setback to the administration's military spending program came as a result of charges on the floor by Representative Albert J. Engel [R., Mich.], ranking minority member of the appropriations committee.

Representative Engel disclosed the secret testimony of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and high army officials in support of his charges. Their statements, he said, were deleted from the record before the committee hearings were published.

The Roosevelt administration, Engel declared, stimulated fears of the American people by suddenly releasing information concerning Germany's air strength which it had possessed for years.

Following the Munich pact on Sept. 19, 1938, which resulted in Germany's seizure of Czecho-Slovakia, Engel said a mass of propaganda was released to put this nation in fear of an air attack from Germany and to justify an increased spending program for national defense.

Painted As An "Emergency."

The impression was given, Engel said, that reports of Germany's airplane construction program and vast force came as a stunning blow to the administration, and that the emergency demanded immediate and huge new appropriations. In reality, he asserted, the evidence disclosed there had been no concealment of Germany's program and the army had not been alarmed enough to purchase 907 planes for which congress provided money in the summer of 1937.

In making his charges, Representative Engel quoted testimony of Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, and of Col. Lindbergh, now on special duty with the army.

"England, France, and the United States knew prior to the Munich conference just what Germany was doing in the manufacture of war planes," he said. "The German air force was no surprise to them."

Visits Plants Three Times.

Col. Lindbergh testified off the record that he went through the airplane factories of Germany in 1936, 1937, and 1938, in company with a military attaché from the American embassy in Berlin. On another occasion he was accompanied by an aviation expert from the French army.

"There was no attempt at concealment by Germany of its expanded air force," said Representative Engel.

"While I realize that the first qualification of a military attaché of an American embassy is a rich wife to finance his social activities, I cannot believe any one would be so inefficient or neglectful as to conceal this important military information from his superiors. Either the war department had the information, or somebody ought to be court martialed for neglect of duty.

"Yet after the Munich conference in September, 1938, there was released such a mass of propaganda as I never have seen to convince the American people that a vastly augmented military spending program was essential. The people were led to believe that Germany had carefully concealed and camouflaged her airplane factories and that no one knew anything about them. They were told that England and France were surprised at Germany's tremendous air force.

War Hysteria Unjustified.

"We were informed that there was danger of Germany attacking this country from a base in South America, bombing the Panama Canal. It was suggested that Germany might have a base in the vicinity of Cuba and Mexico. War hysteria and fear were built up. There was absolutely no justification for such propaganda.

"Gen. Arnold, in a statement off the record, said the psychological time had arrived for putting across the program.

"Col. Lindbergh testified that Germany and Italy were building short range bombers for quick flight to London or Paris, but no long range bombers. He said there was absolutely no chance for air raids across the Atlantic by a European power.

"Gen. Arnold testified there was not a bomber built that could go more than 800 miles, locate its target, bomb it, and return. Later he amended this to 1,100 miles.

"After Munich and the flood of propaganda came the President's message in January telling of the great emergency that existed, of the danger of attack from Germany.

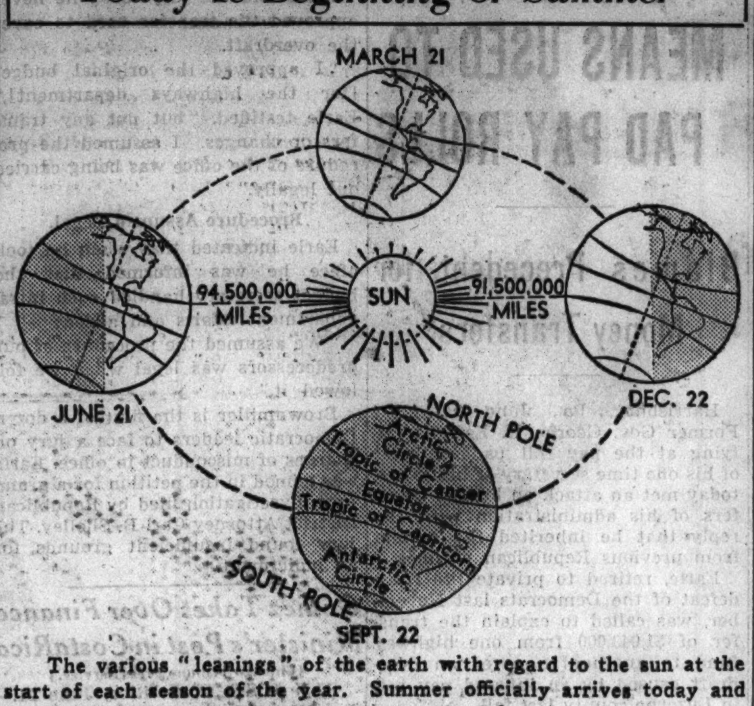
"If there was such an emergency, why on Jan. 30, 1939, had the war department taken no steps to build 907 planes—for which for 17 to 19 months it had the authority to contract and the funds to build?

"There was no emergency. It was simply a campaign of fear to excuse a military spending program."

4 Bandits Load Up $5,000 in Summer Clothes, Flee

Four young bandits with a nice taste in summer sportswear took $200 in cash and merchandise worth about $5,000 yesterday from the A. J. Hahn men's furnishing store at 3246 Lawrence avenue. Harry Sussman, the assistant manager; a porter, and two customers were present when the four entered, armed with revolvers. After looting the till and loading a small truck with polo shirts, slacks, hats, bathing trunks, sweaters, and the best ties, they locked every one, including another customer, in an office, ripped the phone from the wall, and drove away.

Today Is Beginning of Summer



The various "leanings" of the earth with regard to the sun at the start of each season of the year. Summer officially arrives today and the earth is in the position illustrated at the left.

Days to Shorten

Summer arrives officially this morning at 2:40 o'clock, according to the weather man. The day is the turning point of the season, what is known in astronomy as the summer solstice, when the sun is the greatest distance from the equator and has reached its greatest declination north for the year. From now on daylight will decrease every day.

It is the "leaning" earth that makes the seasons. Consider the region in which the earth moves to be something like a great floor in space. The sun is near the center of this floor. The earth moves around the outer edge of this floor [scientists call it the plane of the ecliptic]. Consider the earth as a gyroscopic top that whirls so fast [a thousand miles an hour at the equator], that it holds one position constantly. The axis of the earth, a line extending from pole to pole, is not at right angles to the floor, but leans at an angle of 66½ degrees. As it approaches the solstice period the daylight becomes longer and longer north of the equator, for the angle of the axis turned more and more of the northern hemisphere toward the sun. It is possible for the sun to shine 15 hours and 13 minutes in Chicago today.

DRIVER BELIEVES HE GAVE LIFT TO OUTLAW SLAYER

Hayward, Wis., June 21.—[Special.]—The north woods search for Ray Olson, slayer of two deputies, was concentrated tonight in the vicinity of Bruce, Wis., twenty-five miles southeast of here. A Minneapolis salesman reported he gave a ride to a hitch-hiker he believed was the fugitive.

The salesman, W. H. Malone, said he was driving south on Highway 27 between Winter and Bruce when he was stopped yesterday by a heavily armed man. He had been stopped so many times in the area by deputy sherifs, Malone said, that he supposed the man was an officer.

The salesman became suspicious when his passenger bent low as they passed a road intersection where deputies were examining cars.

When they were about six miles north of Bruce, Malone said, the man suddenly ordered the car stopped. He jumped out then and ran into the dense timber.

Typhoid Season Here, Dr. Bundesen Warns

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, warned yesterday that summer weather increases the threat of typhiod infection. He said the prevalence of the disease can be reduced if vacationists have themselves inoculated. He warned summer travelers against drinking water from roadside wells or streams, and advised them to drink pasteurized milk only.

COOK ON SQUALUS TELLS OF WATER POURING INTO SUB

Portsmouth, N. H., June 21.—(AP)—The cook of the sunken submarine Squalus told a naval court today that he saw a solid sheet of sea water pouring from the main engine room ventilating duct as the undersea boat carried 26 of her crew to their deaths on the ocean bottom on May 23.

The tale of William Isaacs of Washington, D. C., who waded to the safety of the vessel's control room in water knee deep, was the first direct confirmation of previous theories that the air induction system—the surface ventilating system for the engines—was responsible for the disaster.

Only a short time before, the court heard the submersible's executive officer support previous testimony that the virtually unprotected ventilating systems of this nation's submarines are their greatest weakness.

Hears Noise Like Air Swish.

Isaacs was in the Squalus' galley—a small compartment off the after section of the after battery compartment—when the ship's final, fatal dive was executed.

"I heard what sounded like air escaping," Isaacs said. "I stuck my head from the galley. Salt water splashed in my face. I went aft to the door of the engine room. The door was closed, but not dogged down. As I closed the stops, I looked through the door's eye port.

"I saw a solid sheet of water pouring down from the engine room opening on the main engine induction duct. There was no one in sight in the engine room. Water was coming out of ventilator openings and in water knee deep I waded forward to the unflooded control room as the ship started to up-angle by the nose."

Makes Slide for Life.

Isaacs was among five men who slid to safety through the control room bulkhead as Lloyd Maness slammed shut that door.

As Isaacs completed his testimony and the court adjourned for the day, naval officers and their families walked to a navy yard way to attend the private launching of one of the newest additions to the undersea fleet—the submarine Sea Raven, similar in most respects to the ill-starred Squalus.

As the Sea Raven slid down the way with signal flags fluttering word came ashore that navy divers, 15 miles off Portsmouth, had looped a thin wire beneath the Squalus' stern as one of the preliminaries to raising her to the surface.

GOOD OLD Rheingold BEER
Expertly Brewed by Scientific Control Methods

We are proud of the fact that Good Old Rheingold Beer is known as "beer at its best"—UNIFORM BEER. That logical reputation was won by analytical control.

Our Chief Chemist analyzes every ingredient before it is accepted for use. Then he continuously tests the brew throughout all processes and before barrel and bottle filling.

Scientific training, life-time experience and vigilant supervision are applied by our Brew Master to every step in brewing. He permits no guessing—no gambling with flavor and quality.

Because of these high standards, this uncommon beer is always the same, summer and winter, as good beer should be. Try it. Read more about it in future advertisements.

BRITAIN GREETS KING, QUEEN IN TRIUMPH TODAY

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, England, June 21.—England is prepared to give King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth a homecoming reception that will rival coronation scenes when they reach the British Isles tomorrow after their visit to Canada and the United States.

Every one in England believes the king and queen have done a good job in lining up American friendship, succeeding far beyond what could have been accomplished by diplomacy. Tomorrow's demonstration, therefore, will be in the nature of a thanksgiving rite. It is expected, even, that a national thanksgiving service will be held at St. Paul's cathedral to mark the sovereigns' safe return.

Princesses to Join King.

Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret, daughters of the king and queen, will meet their parents at sea. In the company of Sir Alexander Hardinge, private secretary to the king, they will leave London tomorrow for Portsmouth. There they will board the destroyer Kempenfeldt, which will take them to sea to meet the Empress of Britain, the Canadian Pacific liner on which the king and queen are returning.

When the liner enters the English channel it will be met by a large section of the home fleet, together with an aerial escort which will accompany it to Southampton.

The Empress of Britain is scheduled to reach Southampton at 9:20 a. m. [Chicago time] and that port will be aflutter with flags and bunting for the first enthusiastic reception. Three hours later London will welcome the returning sovereigns.

To Be Greeted Along Route.

The rulers will be met at Southampton by Dowager Queen Mary, the king's mother, and other members of the royal family, who will travel back to London with them.

At stations, grade crossings, and railway bridges, arrangements have been made to have crowds assemble and cheer the sovereigns as they pass along in the royal train from Southampton to London.

In London the sovereigns will drive from Waterloo station to Buckingham palace in a semi-state procession over the same route that they took when leaving London for America.

At the railway station in London, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, with most of the members of his cabinet; American Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, and other distinguished personages, will be on hand to welcome the royal couple.

If you think the mortar board and academic gown give dignity to the collegiate crowd, you should have seen the kindergarten class of 1939 at its special commencement exercises yesterday in the Avondale school, 2945 North Sawyer avenue. All fifty-two graduates wore white muslin robes and cardboard caps cut in the accepted tradition, only on a reduced scale. Everybody, well, almost everybody, remembered Miss Constance Hasner's injunction that in the processional feet must follow a stately, measured beat, no matter how much they would like to skip.

The rhythm band played, poems were recited and songs sung in ensemble, and Miss Helen Bridl, the principal, conferred the diplomas, which were tied with the class colors, rose and gray. It was the first time the kindergarten had had a cap and gown commencement. A total of 21,491 eighth graders will have their graduation exercises today. They will hear a radio address of congratulations by Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson.

Celebrates Birthday

EUNICE KENNEDY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 22 [Thursday.]—Extensive publicity is given in the British press today to the return to London of Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, wife of the American ambassador. According to British papers Mrs. Kennedy went to the United States to make arrangements for the visit of King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of England.

The Daily Telegraph says Admiral Sir Martin E. Dunbar-Nasmith, commander in chief at Plymouth, sent out his barge to the liner Washington to bring her ashore ahead of the other passengers. Mrs. Kennedy spent an hour at the admiralty house talking to the admiral and his wife before leaving for London, the Telegraph says.

The Daily Express carries an editorial headed "Return of a Friend." Giving her husband credit for sponsoring the royal tour, the editorial said: "The Kennedys are indeed welcome guests in the capital of the empire." Mrs. Kennedy returned in time for a birthday party today for her daughter, Eunice, 17 years old.

Barney Connett completed last minute preparations yesterday for a solo trip across Lake Michigan in his little one man submarine. Weather permitting, Connett will load the vessel on a truck early today and take it to Michigan City, Ind., or Benton Harbor, Mich. Then he will start the long trip back across the lake to the Navy pier, running under water most of the way.

Connett, who lives at 6818 Stony Island avenue, tested his homemade submarine yesterday in the lake off the 58th street harbor. Last year he made a trip across the lake accompanied by a sixty-five foot sloop with two professional divers aboard. Today he will travel alone, guided by a new directional compass. He will use a short wave radio, just installed in the submarine, to keep in contact with radio stations here. The submarine is ten and one-half feet long, weighs about 1,200 pounds, and has a four foot periscope.

FINDS ROOSEVELT IS A COUSIN OF BRITISH PREMIER

LONDON, June 21.—(AP)—A high British authority on genealogies has announced his conclusions that Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain is related to George Washington and Robert E. Lee, and that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Chamberlain are eighth cousins three times removed, with King Edward I. of England as a common ancestor.

Wagner has just completed a genealogical table showing that Mr. Roosevelt and Chamberlain descended from a daughter and son of William Coytmore, an Englishman who lived in the sixteenth century. Queen Elizabeth's relationship to Washington was discovered accidentally when Wagner was working on Washington's family tree for the British pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

F. RYAN DUFFY NOMINATED FOR FEDERAL BENCH

Ex-Senator Rewarded for Loyalty to Roosevelt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 21.—[Special.] — President Roosevelt today nominated former United States Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Wisconsin New Deal Democrat, to be federal judge for the eastern Wisconsin district. It was understood here that the nomination was made in return for Duffy's support of the President's ill fated plan to pack the court with six administration yes-men.

F. Ryan Duffy.

Although Duffy did not publicly declare his position on the court packing scheme, insiders are aware that he had pledged himself to support the measure. He gave his pledge to the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson [D., Ark.] senate majority leader, who was pushing the administration program because the first vacancy on the Supreme court had been promised to him.

Courtesy Precludes Opposition.

Because of the long established senatorial courtesy with regard to the appointment of senators or former senators, no fight is expected on the Duffy nomination. This courtesy rule even brought confirmation of the nomination of former Senator Hugo Black, Alabama Ku Klux Klansman, to the court vacancy after Robinson died.

It was believed here that the nomination also went to Duffy because President Roosevelt felt Duffy's defeat in the 1938 election was partly due to the White House. The President did little to help Duffy in the campaign, although he was asked to go into the state and speak for him.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was busy with international affairs and sent instead a "Dear Ryan" letter in which he approved Duffy's candidacy. Because of the President's close association with the Wisconsin radicals headed by the La Follettes, the letter did little for Duffy against word of mouth reports that Mr. Roosevelt would be more pleased to see the radical candidate elected.

Job Pays $10,000.

Duffy will succeed Ferdinand A. Geiger, who resigned last May after 27 years of service. Geiger sacrificed $10,000 a year retirement pay by resigning outright instead of requesting retirement. Geiger said he was resigning because of ill health.

It was considered strange here that Duffy's appointment constituted the first recognition of Geiger's resignation by President Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt did not acknowledge or accept the resignation, although it is customary to do so.

At the department of justice it was said that it is not necessary for the President to acknowledge a resignation or retirement. This ordinary courtesy can be dispensed with at his pleasure, an aid said. Geiger is the fourth federal judge to submit his resignation or retire within the year.

The first was Circuit Judge Martin T. Manton of New York, who was sentenced to prison this week for accepting bribes from litigants in his court.

Another Quizzed by Jury.

The second came from Edwin S. Thomas, federal district judge in Connecticut, who was questioned by a federal grand jury in connection with his relations with Manton and his knowledge of the drug swindle of F. Donald Coster-Musica. J. Warren Davis, circuit judge at Philadelphia, requested his retirement in March.

All received letters from the President acknowledging the resignation and retirement. The fact that Geiger, a Democrat although he owed his appointment to President Taft, did not get a letter from Roosevelt again gave rise to reports that the administration is purging federal judges it considers undesirable.

Another explanation for the White House failure to send a letter to Geiger was failure of the administration to punish the jurist a year ago. The New Deal tried to bring the jurist into disrepute over a series of decisions relating to automobile financing.

REPORT U. S. NAVY DEFIES JAP ORDER TO QUIT SWATOW

Hear Admiral Refuses to Remove Warship.

Japanese army took stronger measures to enforce its blockade of the British and French concessions.

An additional company of British soldiers was brought from Peking to reënforce the Durham light infantry regiment, which is stationed here regularly. The new troops raised the British military strength to about 300 men, not including 100 volunteers.

The British municipal chairman, chief administrative officer of the concession, appealed for recruits for a civilian emergency auxiliary to help maintain order in case of need.

Casualty Toll: One Dead Dog.

The Japanese countered with stricter measures on the Hai river, but the casualty toll along the electrified fence with which they have ringed the 950 acres of the British concession and the 250 acres of the French concession remained the same—one dead dog.

Japanese soldiers attempted to halt the steamer Siannewo when it passed the Japanese wharf yesterday en route to Tangku with 100 British women and children. The refugees were the first of about 1,000 who will be removed from the concession.

The Japanese ordered the ship to return, but when the captain demanded to know why, they did not reply. He then proceeded to Tangku, port of Tientsin.

A British lighter coming upstream from Tangku was compelled to stop at the Japanese wharf. Chinese police boarded the vessel and searched the luggage of several foreigners, including Britons, but allowed them to continue.

There still was no serious food shortage within the British and French concessions, in which about 5,000 foreigners and 112,000 Chinese reside.

A Test of Patience.

Such staples as rice and flour were stocked in large quantities and there was a surplus of eggs.

With both the British and Japanese refusing to yield, the blockade seemed to have developed into a test of patience.

Foreign dispatches in Shanghai reported a critical food situation on Kulangsu Island, the international settlement of Amoy, in South China. That area, too, is blockaded.

The reports said less food than formerly was reaching the island and that the Kulangsu municipal council and foreign consuls there had protested to the Japanese.

[A dispatch from Tokio said the Japanese consul general at Amoy has rejected a protest by American, British, and French consuls against a food shortage in the international settlement.]

U. S. Demands Information.

TOKIO, June 22.—[Thursday]—(AP)—Eugene H. Dooman, American chargé d'affaires, again visited the foreign office today in connection with Japan's blockade of the British and French concessions at Tientsin where Americans are resident.

Dooman was said to have asked for official information respecting the situation inside the concessions. Dooman yesterday protested against a Japanese naval blockade of the international settlement of Kulangsu at Amoy and against Japanese bombings of American property in China.

Dooman's action today followed a protest against the blockade at Tientsin by the American chamber of commerce there. The protest was presented to the Japanese consul general at Tientsin by John K. Caldwell, American consul general.

Report U. S. Admiral Defies Japs

The Japanese, after capturing Chinese city of Swatow, yesterday ordered American and British warships to leave the harbor. The American admiral was said to have defied the order and the British also refused to move.

RUSSIA BRANDS LATEST TREATY TALK A FAILURE

MOSCOW, June 21.—(AP)—Soviet Russian quarters tonight asserted that a two hour conversation on a proposed British-French-Russian mutual assistance pact had failed to produce any progress in the long drawn negotiations.

"British ambassador Sir William Seeds, French Ambassador Paul Emile Naggiar and William Strang, special British envoy, were received by Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov. They handed him 'new' Anglo-French proposals which repeat previous proposals of Great Britain and France," said a communique of Tass, official soviet news agency. "Circles in the people's commissariat of foreign affairs note that the 'new' Anglo-French proposals do not show any progress as compared to previous proposals."

The communique abruptly canceled any optimistic hopes which Britons and Frenchmen in Moscow might have entertained that a quick agreement would be forthcoming from today's meeting.

MINER KILLED BY COAL CAR.

Duquoin, Ill., June 21.—[Special.]—Bernie Wiemann, 28 years old, was killed today when caught under a moving coal car at a mine at Pinckneyville where he was employed. He was the second member of his family to meet violent death in less than a year. His sister, Miss Ida Mae Wiemann, was killed in an auto accident last Dec. 17.

BRITAIN CHARGES JAPAN MUDDLES DISPUTE IN CHINA

Tokio's Grievances Not Clear: Chamberlain.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 21.—Diplomatic negotiations between the British and Japanese today indicated that the government of Prime Minister Chamberlain has failed to pin the Japanese down to a precise declaration of their grievances against Great Britain.

The Japanese appear to remain enigmatic and impassive to British overtures. London still is awaiting a clear answer as to whether the Japanese want to confine the blockade on the British concession at Tientsin to the bounds of a local dispute or merge it into a general assault against British interests in China.

Negotiations "Messed Up."

Chamberlain in a statement in the house of commons said he could not get the Japanese to come out and say what they wanted. He declared that this messed up the negotiations.

"The position of the Japanese government on the main issues concerned still is not clear," Chamberlain insisted. "It is still not clear whether these issues will be discussed in Tokio or Tientsin, but we expect to have further news on these matters today or tomorrow."

The prime minister's wary statement indicated the uneasiness prevailing here over Britain's dispute with Japan. Popular opinion especially was stirred by reports of indignities against British at the hands of the Japanese.

Asks Japs to Believe British.

Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, in a speech at a banquet given in his honor tonight, said: "I hesitate to believe that the Tokio government would wish deliberately to challenge the whole position of Great Britain in China."

He asserted that if the Japanese would only believe the British concession at Trientsin never would be allowed to be used for military operations against them and if they would give proof that they do not aim at the destruction of British interests in the far east it should be possible to settle the dispute.

NEW LAW CURBS JEWS IN FORMER CZECH PROVINCES

Sets Up Control Over Their Business.

PRAGUE, June 21.—(AP)—Some of the stringent measures which forced Jews from the business life of Germany were decreed tonight for the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia, the former land of the Czechs.

In a measure which struck the entire protectorate with its suddenness and surprised even the Czech government, Baron Konstantin von Neurath, Nazi protector, decreed that, to carry on business, all Jews must obtain his written consent by July 31. He forbade them to make new acquisitions of real estate and stocks and bonds, or to enter new business undertakings.

Must Report All Gold.

Under the decree Jews must report to the National bank all gold, silver or platinum objects or precious stones in their possession. They are forbidden to buy, sell or pawn them.

The protector assumed the right to appoint trustees to manage Jewish property, presumably until it can be Aryanized. German courts will handle all violations of the decree, although Czechs in the protectorate still are tried in Czech courts.

The Jewish population of the protectorate, which was the heart of the former Czecho-Slovak republic, is between 120,000 and 130,000. Approximately 21,000 Jews have emigrated since the Sudetenland fell to the Germans last October, and Germany began to acquire a predominant influence in the former republic.

Der Neue Tag, regarded as the organ of the protectorate, said Jewish property in Bohemia and Moravia was worth about $680,000,000.

Slovak Constitution Accepted.

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, June 21.—(AP)—The cabinet today accepted a proposed constitution setting up Slovakia as a republic, and approved an ordinance forcing Jews out of the army. The cabinet also provided for conscription of farming property in possession of Jews or foreigners. The new constitution will be placed before parliament Friday. Slovakia, in the eastern portion of former Czecho-Slovakia, is under German protection, though nominally it is independent.

STUDY SHOWS BABIES CHOOSE FOOD WISELY, SCIENTISTS ARE TOLD

MONTREAL, Quebec, June 21.—[Canadian Press.]—A six year study of fifteen children has demonstrated that babies can choose their own diet and thrive on it, Dr. Clara M. Davis of Winnetka, Ill., said today before the convention of the Canadian Medical association.

All ate heartily and all thrived. Laxatives were never needed. A glandular fever was their only epidemic illness, and raw beef, carrots, and beets were favorite foods during convalescence.

Five of the infants had rickets. On the tray of one was placed cod liver oil for him to take if he chose. He did so irregularly and the rickets were cured.

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?

Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

NAZIS, ITALIANS DISCLOSE PLANS TO POOL NAVIES

Berlin Demands Recall of British Consul.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 21.—An understanding for close coöperation between the German and Italian navies in case of war was announced today, as German-Italian naval chiefs concluded a conference at Friedrichshafen. At the same time, Anglo-German relations were subjected to a renewed strain when Berlin retaliated for the recent ousting of a German consul in Britain by requesting that Britain recall Donald St. Clair Gainer, its consul general at Vienna.

The accord for joint action of the German-Italian navies was revealed as Grand Admiral Erich H. A. Raeder, German navy chief, and Admiral Domenico Cavagnari, Italian undersecretary for navy, held the last of a series of talks at Friedrichshafen.

The conferences were completely satisfactory to both sides, an official announcement said. The Italian admiral and his retinue will leave for home tomorrow.

Charge Contact with News Agency.

Berlin's request that Gainer be expelled was outstanding among numerous evidences of anti-British sentiment today. The official reason for asking the recall was given as follows: "During a court action it developed that the British consulate general in Vienna was involved in an affair concerning a forbidden information service."

Request for the recall was made at the same time that Berlin complied with the British request that Walther Reinhardt, German consul general in Liverpool, be ordered home. The British charged he was working for the German secret service.

Simultaneously, the German press campaign against England continued unabated. The Frankfurter Zeitung, frequently the mouthpiece of the foreign office, likened England to Atlas.

Refers to America's Policy.

"The giant Atlas," it said, "carried too big a burden for his strength. Instead of giving others half of the burden, that Atlas looks for auxiliary forces which are expected to support his arms without getting a share of the burden, and incidentally of the world's riches. The world embracing character of the British empire has indeed become evident, revealing, however, its difficulties and problems, rather than its strength."

The Zeitung said America is unwilling to bring her Far East policy into line with Britain's.

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, German minister of propaganda, speaking today to 120,000 Nazis gathered in the Berlin stadium to celebrate the summer solstice, charged: "It is none of England's concern who holds Danzig. England should occupy herself with Palestine. Central Europe is our sphere of interest. The problem facing us now is to solve the Danzig and corridor questions as quickly and as thoroughly as possible.

"Our aim is to get back what history withheld from us. It is impossible to exclude a nation of 80,000,000 people from the riches of the world. As long as this is attempted, all peace programs are empty worries."

Goebbels admitted that the Nazis were playing a dangerous game.

NEW YORK POST SOLD TO LEADER OF LABOR PARTY

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Controlling interest in the New York Post has been acquired by George Backer, American Labor party member of the New York city council, from David J. O'BRIEN PUTS OFF HIS SURRENDER TO U. S. OFFICERS

Lawrence C. O'Brien's lawyer telephoned federal authorities yesterday that O'Brien would surrender within an hour. Presently the lawyer telephoned back that O'Brien guessed he'd make it within 24 hours. The G-men just looked patient. They hadn't really expected their man to come in, anyway. O'Brien, Larry to the north side, is the former state representative of the 29th district who was sent to federal prison for failing to pay his income tax. The federal officials have been trying to serve him with a summons for six months, and now they have a warant for his arrest for interfering with an officer who tried to serve the summons. O'Brien has been out of prison five years now and still hasn't paid that $43,000 tax.

FRANCE GIVES UP A REPUBLIC FOR PACT WITH TURKS

Sacrifices Part of Syria to Get Alliance.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 21.—The French public was informed by the foreign ministry today that a French-Turkish mutual assistance pact, which has been purchased by fat territorial concession to Turkey, has been completed and will be signed by the two governments Friday.

The announcement was made to the chamber of deputies foreign affairs committee by Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet. The pact, which is a replica of that between Turkey and Great Britain, binds the two signatories to join in resisting any threat to peace in the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean.

Turkey Gets Republic of Hatay.

Paris has paid a high price for this agreement, despite the fact that it will have little real value until it is implemented with a mutual assistance pact with soviet Russia. The price has been an outright gift to Turkey of the republic of Hatay, formerly the Syrian sanjak [district] of Alexandretta. Hatay lies between Syria and Turkey, which has long been a bone of contention between France and Turkey.

This is not the only one-sided concession which France is prepared to make in an attempt to mend its diplomatic fences, according to unofficial reports. It is understood that the foreign office, yielding to the urgings of Marshal Henri Petain, French ambassador to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government at Burgos, Spain, rather than to the demands of Burgos itself, has decided to turn over to Spain gold of the Bank of Spain. This gold has been held in France ever since it was deposited there by the Republicans early in the civil war.

225,000 Refugees Still in France.

The best that the French can hope to get in return for this gesture is a promise to speed up repatriation of Republican refugees who are still being taken care of at the taxpayers' expense in various concentration camps. Out of the original 500,000 refugees, there are 225,000 left in France, Bonnet told the members of the foreign affairs committee. He was unable to add that Burgos had agreed to share in the expense of caring for them.

Meanwhile reports are current here that Reichsfuehrer Hitler is planning to unleash within two or three weeks another campaign of military and diplomatic pressure against the western powers with the cession of Danzig as the price of peace.

HANGS HIMSELF IN GARAGE AFTER ILLNESS OF YEAR

The body of Charles H. Dierks, 52 years old, assistant treasurer of the Liquid Carbonic company, was found hanging from a rafter yesterday in the garage behind his home at 2736 North Kedzie avenue. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Alsa Ritsch, who found the body, said that Dierks had been in ill health.

An official of the Liquid Carbonic company said Dierks had been employed there for thirty years and that he had a fine record with the company. This official said that Dierks had been ill for a year and had not been at the office for five weeks. Dierks' wife is a teacher at the Falconer elementary school. An inquest will be held today.

ADMITS DENTAL LAW VIOLATION; AGREES TO FINE

The Merit Dental Laboratories, Inc., 32 West Washington street, will cease soliciting business and advertising in violation of the state dental practice act. This was announced yesterday by Attorney George Crane after a conference in chambers with Judge Jay A. Schiller of the Jury court and Assistant State's Attorney James A. Brown.

Attorney Crane also said his client, Alexander Young, president and technician of the laboratory, would plead guilty and pay a fine of $200 for violating the act. The company, Crane said, will operate only as a laboratory, and will close three branch offices at 6445 South Halsted street, 4707 Irving Park road, and 3138 Lincoln avenue.

If these provisions are carried out by July 5, Prosecutor Brown said he would agree to dismissing similar charges against Dr. Joseph Cohn of Milwaukee. Dr. Cohn and Young were arrested in a raid on June 13.

SUES MATE WHO DEMANDED SHE HAVE 13 CHILDREN

Agnes and Frank Cebrat were married Aug. 11, 1928. Then, Mrs. Cebrat told Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday, her husband insisted that she have thirteen children, as his mother had had.

In annual succession, Mrs. Cebrat had four blonde daughters. But in the next four and one-half years the stork did not arrive, although he was expected four times. The Cebrats separated Jan. 28, 1938.

The four daughters were in court with their mother for a hearing on her suit for divorce, in which she charges desertion and habitual drunkenness. They are Frances, 9 years old; Antoinette, 8; Florence, 7, and Stephanie, 6. Mrs. Cebrat is 29 and Frank Cebrat 48.

Judge Finnegan granted Mrs. Cebrat $15 a week temporary support money after she established that Cebrat earns $30 a week as a machinist. Mrs. Cebrat, represented by Attorney Donald J. Rizzio, lives at 1859 Cullerton street. Cebrat lives at 2037 19th street.

SUBTERRANEAN TRANSIT (4)

By CALEB

UPPERMOST in the general mind—after questions of extent, location, cost, construction, and completion-date have been disposed of—is the climax query as to what this new two-route, $40,000,000 Chicago Subway will do to and for transportation. How will it change the present status? What will be its ultimate advantages to city and citizens?

There will be, first of all, a definite tie-in with present elevated operations—by furnishing the latter, as the construction engineers put it, "with much-needed terminal tracks." Each end of each subway route will connect with the "L" by inclines permitting north and south side elevated trains to pass through the State Street subway; while Humboldt Park and Logan Square trains will use the Dearborn Street subway, and be turned back at a stub terminal south of Van Buren, during construction of the remainder of the west side subway. Following completion of repairs on the Dearborn Street bridge, the present State Street bridge will be replaced and tracks will be carried under the river at Lake Street in separate tunnels.

And now let us see, through the eyes of engineers who have given years of study to both present transit facilities and future subway operations, what are the drawbacks of the former, which the latter are intended to remedy.

"At present," they say, "trains from four tracks on the north side, six tracks from the northwest, west and southwest sides, and three tracks from the south side, operate through a two-track throat at the union loop. As a result, 68 trains are frequently operated over a single track through this throat during the maximum hour—compared with a practical maximum for efficient rapid transit operation of 40 trains per hour. The result of this is delay and loss of time during the morning and evening rush-hours."

So much for the present dilemma—roughly, a 40 per cent overload of track facilities above the "practical maximum" for rush-hour operation. And the solution? Again in the engineers' words: "The initial subways will provide track facilities for more than 40 per cent of the present traffic over the union loop, thereby decreasing the load on the tracks . . . Often savings will be as much as five or ten minutes. In addition, there will be substantial time-savings resulting from the more direct alignment, and the superior subway station layout, totaling almost 12 minutes for through riders between the north and south sides. In the case of the Dearborn Street subway, there will also be a 12-minute reduction in running time for trains from the Logan Square and Humboldt Park branches."

ALL ST. CHARLES REFORM BILLS NOW UP TO HOUSE

Committee Unanimously Approves Final 3.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—[Special.]—The three remaining bills in the series for reform of the St. Charles School for Boys were unanimously approved late today by the house judiciary committee. They were placed in position for advancement in time for a roll call on passage early next week.

The three measures are part of a group drawn and sponsored by a joint legislative committee that investigated escapes and depredations of inmates of the St. Charles school.

The house appropriations committee yesterday reported favorably the fourth bill of the series. It provides for erection of a new institution to house older and more hardened inmates. The younger and more tractable would be kept in the present institution.

Final Bills in Brief.

The bills acted upon today provide:

1. Power to the department of public welfare to decide which institution should house boys committed to St. Charles.

2. New definition of a legal delinquent to distinguish between boys guilty of slight offenses, those convicted of misdemeanors, and youths who commit serious crimes.

3. Authority to the courts to recommit an inmate to a penitentiary if, when he reaches the age of 21, the welfare department decides he is not ready to reënter society. A youth of this class now is automatically discharged when he becomes 21.

Senator Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton] and Representative John C. Friendland [R., Elgin], chairman and member, respectively, of the St. Charles investigating committee, explained the measures to the judiciary committee.

They were reported out on motion of Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago].

Move to Strike Bills Loses.

Late tonight a move to strike all house bills on the house calendar in order to adjourn the session a few days early next week failed overwhelmingly.

The motion was made by Oral P. Tuttle [R., Harrisburg]. Protests came from all corners of the floor, and when Speaker Hugh W. Cross [R., Jerseyville] put the motion it obtained only 32 votes, while 80 members voted against it. Thus the possibilities of adjourning before midnight on June 30 faded perceptibly.

A bill to make incurable insanity a cause for divorce was killed by silent votes in the house this afternoon. It was sponsored by James E. Davis [R., Galesburg]. Needing 77 votes, the measure received only 45, and 36 voted against it. Virtually half of the 152 members sat mute.

Representative S. O. Dale [R., Fairfield] invited the house to go to Fairfield on Oct. 6. On that day there will be unveiled in the Wayne county courthouse a tablet reciting the resolution adopted by the Wayne county Republican central committee in 1860, urging Abraham Lincoln for the presidential nomination. Dale said records show this was the first county committee to indorse Lincoln for the White House.

SEIZE ACCUSED SWINDLER; $2,100 IN MONEY BELT

Pete Shimrock, 48 years old, accused of taking $2,043 from Mrs. Jeanette Tietgen, 6348 Drexel boulevard, in the name of charity, was arrested at 111th street and Cottage Grove avenue yesterday.

Pete told Sergts. John Griffith and John Warren of the confidence detail that he was just a harmless chap, making a living by selling razor blades from house to house. They didn't believe him because [1] he had no razor blades and [2] he had $2,100 in a money belt.

They also knew Shimrock was wanted at six Chicago police stations on charges similar to Mrs. Tietgen's. She posted her money to prove she was honest and worthy of distributing to the poor a fictitious fortune left by an imaginary uncle of the swindlers. She identified a picture of Pete, whose record starts with a sentence to the Columbus, O., penitentiary in 1912.

Gunman Seized After Shooting Store Owner

Samuel Volk, 48 years old, was shot and wounded slightly yesterday by a colored robber who tried to hold up Volk's clothing store at 1321 Emerson street, Evanston. The robber was apprehended a short time later. He is William Langston, 18, of 1414 Florence avenue, Evanston.

NO. 48 ESCAPES AT ST. CHARLES; SEIZED IN STORM

Another Fugitive Trapped in Theft; Pal Flees.

For a time yesterday serenity prevailed at the St. Charles School for Boys, an unwalled state institution in the Fox river valley for criminal novices, wayward boys, and orphans alike. For a homecoming, one of two prisoners who escaped Tuesday was back, and two graduates who had stolen a truck were returned as parole violators.

Then came 5 p. m., the fury of yesterday's rain and wind storm, and the forty-eighth escape this year.

Felix Lewandowski, 15 years old, of Chicago, sent there twelve days ago by the Juvenile court, decided he did not like the place. So he broke away from his guards, jumped from a second story window to the ground eighteen feet below, and fled. The rain caused him to seek shelter, and pursuing guards found him under a haystack a half hour later.

Seized by Policeman.

Philip Crylen, 17 years old, of Chicago, one of the two who escaped Tuesday, was recaptured at 2:30 a. m. yesterday by Policeman Wilbur Cannon as he was trying to steal a truck. A short time before that, his companion, Chester Henry, 20, also of Chicago, who has been paroled twice, had become separated from him while Dr. Ralph E. Edwards, 211 East Illinois street, Geneva, was shooting at them. Henry is still a fugitive.

Dr. Edwards had heard the two in his garage. He called on them to halt as they started to run, then fired. They also had entered the garage of Police Magistrate Harold Olson, who lives next door to Dr. Edwards.

Parole Violators Seized.

The two St. Charles graduates returned there yesterday as parole violators were arrested in Waukegan after an old truck they had stolen tipped over when they drove it too fast on a country road. They are Jack Helton, 14, of Watseka, and Dudley Clark, 13, of Decatur.

Clark's left eye was cut by broken glass and he may lose the sight of it. The boys said they intended to come to Chicago, steal a boat, and live out in the lake, coming in only when they needed provisions, which they would steal. Both had been sent to St. Charles as runaways and had been paroled to work on farms near Barrington.

Six inmates who escaped from the school Saturday night were recaptured Tuesday.

BIND TRAIN GUARD AND ROB EXPRESS CAR SAFE OF $6,000

Cincinnati, O., June 21.—[Special.]—Lashing a Railway Express Agency guard to a heavy casket in the express car of the Pennsylvania train, two bandits last night robbed a safe of $6,000 destined for the Federal Reserve bank in Cincinnati.

While the guard, T. E. McKernan of Newport, Ky., struggled to free himself, the bandits leaped from the train at Norwood, a suburb of Cincinnati, and escaped through nearby woods.

The robbers boarded the New York to Cincinnati train at Milford, Ohio, on the outskirts of this city. McKernan's keys gave them access to the safe. The robbers passed up two pouches containing $1,000 in silver.

-COOK WITH ELECTRICITY!

● Get a lift out of life! Have spare time for "Spring doings" . . . . golf, gardening, baseball games and the many other things you enjoy. COOK WITH AN AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC RANGE!

Yes, time saved means spare time for pleasure. And when you cook with electricity, you save hours of kitchen time in three important ways.

FIRST—you save because electric cooking is fast. Bake biscuits...golden brown, light, delicious...in less than 10 minutes from a cold start. Broil tender, juicy, toothsome steaks . . . just 6 minutes to a side.

SECOND—you save because electric cooking is automatic. No watching or waiting. Place a complete meal in the oven, set the controls...and forget it. At the exact time selected the electricity turns on...cooks the food perfectly, then turns off. Dinner is ready when you return.

THIRD—you save because electric cooking is clean. No grimy soot on kitchen walls or curtains. No wasted hours spent in scrubbing and scouring. Pots and pans stay bright as new.

And now here's a real surprise: Actual meter tests indicate the average cost of electricity for cooking in Chicago homes is only $2.18 a month. How can you afford to be without an automatic Electric Range!

EYE-OPENING FACTS!

Bill Lifting Local Option Barriers Protested.

Church and temperance groups in Chicago and Illinois rallied yesterday for a fight against house bill No. 802, a section of which would permit sale of beer in the 716 local option dry districts in the state.

At an emergency meeting in Chicago it also was decided to test in the courts the legality of taverns operating in communities which were annexed by Chicago and other municipalities on contracts that they were to remain dry unless residents of the areas voted otherwise. Test cases are planned in Hyde Park and other Chicago communities and in verious parts of the state.

Protest to House Speaker.

Telegrams were sent yesterday to Representative Hugh Cross [R., Jerseyville], speaker of the house, by every temperance group in Chicago and many throughout the state, according to Dr. Robert Pugh, assistant state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

The telegram from the Chicago Church Federation read:

"The Chicago Church Federation, representing 1,060 churches, protests most urgently against passage of house bill 802. Its clear implication is the over-riding of our fundamental democracy which grants to the majority the right to regulate state policies under the law. We respectfully urge that this bill should not pass."

It was signed by the Rev. Ralph Wakefield, president.

One provision of the bill, which is sponsored by Paul Powell [D., Vienna], would make a new classification of state liquor licenses to include "grocers of good character." These then would be permitted to sell beer for consumption off the premises without local licenses and would be unaffected by dry referendums.

Ask 8,000 Churches to Wire.

Dr. Pugh said the State Council of Churches, representing 8,000 Protestant congregations with a total membership of more than 1,000,000, had asked each church to wire Representative Cross. A. D. Dixheimer, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, has been in Springfield since Monday, Dr. Pugh said, aiding in fighting the bill.

Members of the various dry groups met yesterday in the offices of the American Business Men's Research foundation, 111 West Jackson boulevard, a liquor research body. They agreed to obtain support of their organizations against the bill and to coöperate in attacking neighborhood taverns which encroach on local option dry territories. Walter O. Cromwell, president of the Illinois Temperance council, was elected chairman of the campaign.

Present were officers or members of the Juvenile Protective association, Chicago Church federation, Illinois Woman's Christian Temperance union, Anti-Saloon league, Illinois Temperance council, Woodlawn Civic association, Illinois Prohibition committee, Du Page law enforcement committee, and other community groups.

Attorney Paul E. Thurlow of the Illinois Temperance council will be in charge of preparing suits against taverns which are believed to be illegally situated.

FIREFIGHTERS' FORMER MASCOT, NOW OFFICER IN ARMY, VISITS IN CITY

Lieut. Burton Schwind

Yesterday was a proud day for Albert E. Schwind, fire and police department repairman and former captain of the fire department's baseball team. At 3:40 p. m., out of the sky above Chicago airport roared the former mascot of his old team, his son, Lieut. Burton E. Schwind, in a silvery army pursuit plane. Present also to greet the army flyer, now stationed at Selfridge field, Mich., was Capt. William Torpy of Hook and Ladder company No. 24, Art Breitzke of Hook and Ladder company No. 41, and Chief Harry T. Schneckel of the 26th battalion. Lieut. Schwind recently completed his training at the army's flying school at Kelly field near San Antonio, Tex.

CLARK ADMITS ERROR; HOUSE FOR TAX REFUND

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—[Special.]—An estimated 32,000 owners of small homes would benefit by correction of a mistake in realty taxation in 1935 under a bill passed, 118 to 0, by the house tonight. The spectacle of a public official admitting he made an error drew cheers from house members.

Assessor John S. Clark of Cook county made the error in computing the tax on two-flat bay window buildings more than 20 years old. according to Representative Edward J. McCabe, Clark's chief deputy. An item of 54 cents per $100 of assessed valuation was put in twice.

There were 52,000 taxpayers in the class affected and about 32,000 paid in full without protest. The mistake was discovered and the others were then able to have their bills reduced. Clark was not able to rectify the error for the 32,000 who paid promptly, McCabe said. He introduced a bill to permit the assessor to deduct the amounts of overpayment from 1939 tax bills. The overpayments averaged about $9.30, bringing the total to almost $300,000.

Body in Bushes Believed That of Missing N. Y. Boy

FORT ERIE, Ont., June 22 [Thursday].—(AP)—Chief Constable A. E. Griffin reported today the nude body of a boy about 12 years old, trussed with a leather belt, shoe laces, and adhesive tape, had been found in a clump of bushes near here. Griffin tentatively identified the boy as that of Donald Doto, who was reported missing from his home in Buffalo, N. Y., since Monday night.

SENATE TRIMS $1,250,000 OFF PARKS' PEG LEVY

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—[Special.]—Without debate, the senate today cut a total of $1,250,000 from the Chicago park district pegged levies for 1939, 1940, and 1941. It amended the authorization bill to meet objections of Gov. Henry Horner. This ends the battle over the amount of the levies.

The total for the three years now stands at $31,250,000 instead of the $32,500,000 provided for in the bill passed by the house last week. After the house concurs in the amendment, Gov. Horner is expected to withdraw his reported threat of a veto.

Mayor Kelly agreed upon the cut in a conference with the governor here yesterday. The mayor's legislative spokesman, Senator Harold G. Ward, initiated the amendment with few words.

Arbitrary Decision, Says Ward.

"The original amount is needed to operate the parks efficiently," Ward said, "but the governor has arbitrarily decided that the levies must be reduced by $1,250,000. We have agreed to defer to his judgment."

Following are the levies now proposed and those first contained in the bill:

Tax year.	Now.	Originally.
1939	$10,500,000	$10,500,000
1940	10,500,000	11,000,000
1941	10,250,000	11,000,000

The levy of $7,600,000 under which the park district is now operating resulted from a victory by the Horner forces in the general assembly two years ago, when $9,000,000 was requested for the parks.

Battles Fought in Secret.

This session did not provide a counterpart of the sizzling battle of 1937, because most of the recent conflict on the subject was behind closed doors. In this session the park request was not opposed by the Civic federation and the Bureau of Public Efficiency, regarded here as chief spokesman for Cook county taxpayers.

Chicago high schools would receive about $400,000 from the state school distributive fund under amendments adopted by the senate today. The rate of payment is $2.50 a pupil.

A $1,000,000 appropriation for state aid to high schools during the current two year period did not benefit Chicago. It was distributed on a basis of need, not as a flat grant such as was approved today.

Income Tax Bill Amended.

A bill for a 2 per cent state income tax was amended to include corporations by its sponsor, Senator Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago]. He also changed the measure to provide that no return need be filed by a family head with gross income under $1,000 or an unmarried person earning less than $500. The bill was advanced to passage stage, but it is doubted that a majority of the senate favors the plan.

A bill providing for examining and licensing psychologists was passed, 35 to 1. Arnold P. Benson of Batavia, floor leader of the Republican minority, said the public lacks a means of distinguishing between scientifically trained psychologists and charlatans.

The dissenting vote was cast by Senator Peter P. Kielminski [D., Chicago], who has a bill pending to license house painters.

Twenty senate bills remaining in committees were killed by one motion. Among them were four sponsored by the citizens' committee on tax collection, designed to solve the tax delinquency problem of Cook county.

HOUSE SAVES $68,627; STOPS GRANTS TO KIN OF FORMER OFFICIALS

Springfield, Ill., June 22 [Thursday].—[Special.]—The Illinois house saved $68,627 early this morning and at the same time served notice it has stopped the practice of making state appropriations for widows and children of deceased public officials. Thirteen bills totaling this amount were stricken from the calendar.

Action started when the house defeated a bill to give $7,200 to the widow of Judge Max Allaben of Glen Ellyn. The sponsor, Representative Joseph Sam Perry [D., Wheaton], unable to overcome the effects of strong speeches by Minority Leader Benjamin S. Adamowski and others, retaliated by demanding all similar bills be killed. The house approved Perry's request by a voice vote. Only one dissenter was heard.

FORT SHERIDAN REVISES ITS GUN PRACTICE HOURS

Yachtsmen and owners of smaller sailing craft were cheered yesterday by the announcement from Fort Sheridan that there would be no gunfire from the fort into Lake Michigan on Saturday afternoons, Sundays, and holidays. A previous warning from Brig Gen. Karl Truesdell, commandant, had cautioned boats to keep eight and a half miles off shore between 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. each day until Aug. 12, during summer maneuvers at the fort. The warning, Gen. Truesdell said yesterday, still applies to week days and Saturday mornings. He invited the public to visit the fort and observe training activities any day during the summer.

$1,020 Found in Patient's Tobacco Can at Elgin

William Banks, 70 years old, a patient from DeKalb, Ill., kept insisting that Elgin State hospital attendants bring him his tobacco can, which he had left in another ward. Attendants found the can yesterday and also found out why Banks was insistent. They saw him remove five $100 bills and twenty-six $20 bills from the tin, and count them carefully. The $1,020 was deposited to his credit in a bank.

AMATEUR FLYERS FIGHT THEIR WAY TO PLACES IN SKY

Farmer's Career Typifies Students' Struggles.

David Bishop, a jovial young farmer pilot, is typical of the free lance flyers who compose the 300 entrants in next Sunday's second annual Amateur Air show, which will be held at the Curtiss-Reynolds airport, Glenview.

He will demonstrate a J-2 Cub plane, putting it through all manner of maneuvers to illustrate the strength and performance of a light airplane. [Seventy-five is the maximum horse power allowed any airplane competing in any of the many races, bomb dropping contests, spot landing tests, or other events of the show.]

The story of Dave Bishop's struggle to become a pilot is worth telling because it typifies the struggle of most amateur pilots of recent years, and it illustrates a condition which the Amateur Air Show's sponsors hope to help correct. Bishop grew up on a farm in Montgomery, Kas., where his ambition was to become a pilot. At 18 he came to Chicago to begin his career.

Drives Bus for a Year.

That was in 1927. For a year he worked as a bus driver, saving every penny to pay for flying lessons that cost $28 for every hour in the air.

At that rate he would never get far, so he managed to buy a plane of his own, an old army Jenny. Bishop rebuilt it and got his pilot friends to teach him to fly.

In 1933 he entered his first air race in the Tribune sponsored American Air Races held in June and July of that year at Chicago airport. Since then Bishop has been a flying instructor at Harlem airport, 87th street and Harlem avenue. He has graduated more than 200 pilots.

Small Planes Forced Out.

For a while in 1933 he kept his airplane at Chicago airport, which then housed at least 100 privately owned planes. But the rise of the big air lines, the increase in trafic with its inevitable tightening of restrictions, and higher rent charges forced him and most of the other small plane owners to seek new hangars. Today there is no longer a city airport provided for the use of small planes. A lake front airport, it is agreed, would help to correct this situation.

That is one reason the sponsors of the Amateur Air Show have declared as the first of its three aims: The "promotion of interest in the amateur pilot of America, who is the hope for aviation's future and the backbone of future national defense in the air." The other purposes are to demonstrate the practicability of light airplanes and to promote Chicago as an aviation center for amateur pilots and small planes.

A PARK ON WHEELS TO OPEN ANTI-LITTER WEEK DRIVE MONDAY

Anti-litter week, carrying the slogan "Help beautify Chicago, Don't littler your parks and public places," will open Monday.

The city-wide campaign, of which Mayor Kelly is honorary chairman, and Karl Eitel general chairman, will open officially at 11 a. m. Monday when a flat car at the corner of State and Madison streets will be christened "anti-litter car."

The car, donated by the Chicago Surface lines, will be tranformed into a park on wheels, complete with lawn, flowers, shrubs and four beautiful girls. During the week, it will tour the city, averaging 100 miles of street-car track a day.

In his official proclamation, the mayor urged Chicagoans not only to refrain from throwing waste paper or other litter in parks, streets and alleys, but also to keep their own property neat and tidy.

FOUND DEAD IN VACANT LOT.
The body of a man, identified through a WPA card as Frank Joyce, 40 years old, 19 South Leavitt street, was found in a vacant lot at 1930 Kinzie street yesterday. Death apparently was due to natural causes.

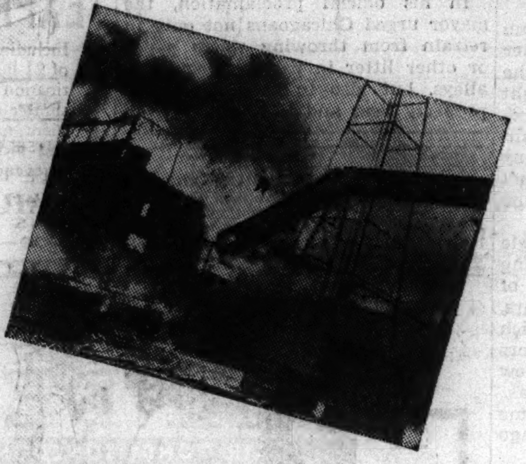
FIRE DESTROYS $4,000,000 GRAIN ELEVATOR



Twelve hours after the Chicago Tribune color photographer had taken shots of Chicago's $4,000,000 grain elevator fire on May 11, Tribune presses were turning out the May 12 issue containing a page-wide reproduction in color of the blaze at its height.

It was the first time any daily newspaper ever reproduced a natural color photo of an event in the same editions in which the event figured as spot news.

All readers in Chicago and suburbs had the picture in their Tribune that morning. It appeared in more than two-thirds of the total daily circulation.

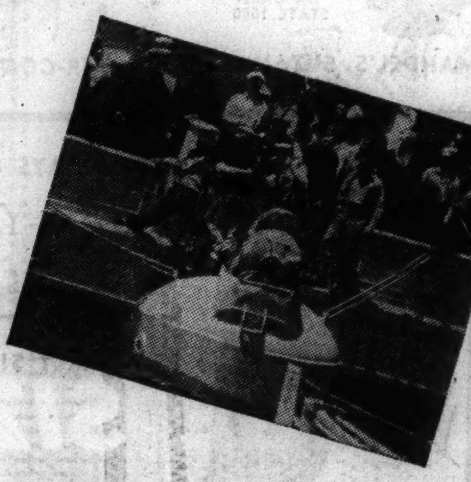
NATIONAL ITEM:

SUB SINKS WITH 59 ABOARD



The Chicago Tribune of May 24, which carried the news of the sinking of the submarine Squalus with 59 men aboard, presented picture diagrams showing details of the craft and making plain the operation of the navy's new diving bell, with which a submarine rescue was to be attempted for the first time.

Because of the accuracy with which these drawings, made 1,000 miles away from the scene of the disaster, illustrated the chief news interest of the hour, the Associated Press requested permission to wirephoto them to subscribing newspapers throughout the country.

As a result, one or more of the Chicago Tribune's diagrams were used by the New York News, the Philadelphia Public Ledger, the Philadelphia Bulletin, the Baltimore Sun, the Los Angeles Times, the Detroit News, the Denver Post, the Atlanta Journal, the Cleveland News, the Des Moines Register and Tribune, the Houston Chronicle, the Washington Star, the Boston Post, the Minneapolis Tribune and more than 300 other newspapers throughout America.

GERMANY, ITALY SIGN 10-YEAR PACT

On Monday, May 22, Foreign Ministers Col. Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano signed a 10-year offensive and defensive alliance between Germany and Italy.

Hours before either had put pen to paper, however, Tribune readers saw in the issue of May 22 the complete details of the pact, obtained in advance by Sigrid Schultz, chief of the Chicago Tribune Berlin Bureau—a clean-cut scoop available only in the Tribune and newspapers subscribing to the Chicago Tribune Press Service.

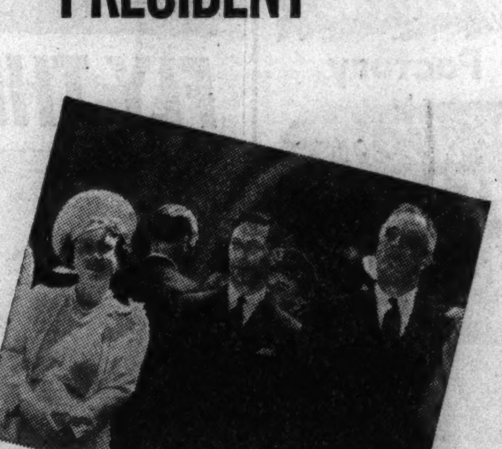
WASHINGTON ITEM:

KING MEETS PRESIDENT



Three new records in the production of a daily newspaper were established by the Chicago Tribune with its issue of June 9.

On that date, reproductions of natural color photos showing President Roosevelt welcoming King George VI. in Washington on June 8 were printed in more than two-thirds of the Tribune total daily circulation.

It was the first time any daily newspaper delivered to readers a photo record of a far-distant event in the same editions in which the event figured as spot news.

It was the first time Associated Press Wirephoto facilities were utilized by any daily newspaper to present a spot news photo in color.

THESE are a few recent examples of the editorial enterprise which makes each fresh contact with the Chicago Tribune an exciting experience in the daily lives of a majority of all the families in metropolitan Chicago—which has built for the Tribune a total circulation of more than 900,000 on week-days and in excess of 1,000,000 on Sunday.

The newspaper which best serves its readers produces the best returns for advertisers.

Month after month, year after year, the vital character of the Chicago Tribune attracts new thousands of families who turn to this newspaper for news, help and entertainment.

Every day of the week, the Tribune reaches more than 725,000 families right in Chicago and suburbs—practically as many metropolitan Chicago families as are reached by any two other Chicago newspapers combined.

Every day this audience reassembles in voluntary session to get the news of the day, guidance in personal affairs, information about fashions and finance, beauty and homemaking—and buying ideas.

As a result, through the Tribune an advertiser can reach Chicago's largest constant audience in the most favorable circumstances for selling—a fact demonstrated by the sales records of retailers and manufacturers.

Chicago retailers, because the results warrant it, place far more advertising in the Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper. General advertisers likewise make the Tribune the mainstay of their sales efforts in this market.

No matter what you sell . . . or to whom you sell . . . you can sell more in Chicago by building your advertising program around the Tribune. Rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in America.

DRAFT ORDINANCE TO CURB GROWING MENACE OF RATS

Alderman Will Introduce Bill in Council.

A model "ratproofing" ordinance, designed to curb the growing rat menace in Chicago and to insure the construction of buildings secure against the vermin, will be submitted to the city council on Tuesday.

Ald. Joseph C. Ross, chairman of the council's health committee, said yesterday he will introduce the measure. The proposed ordinance was prepared by the United States department of agriculture. It not only would make it unlawful to construct buildings not secure against rats, but contains provisions under which owners could be forced to ratproof old buildings, and breeding places could be destroyed.

"Chicago has no ordinance which protects it adequately against rats," Ald Ross said. "The new building code has many provisions for fireproofing walls and floors which also may be regarded as ratproofing, but more stringent regulations are needed."

Mere Killing Not Enough.

Ross said he was asking the health department to investigate the possibility of a rat extermination program, but that mere killing of rats will not solve Chicago's problem.

"Four years ago the board of health sponsored a WPA project of rat extermination and today it is estimated that there are three and a half million rats in the city," he continued. "We receive reports daily of neighborhoods overrun with them.

"To halt the spread of these vermin we must get at the source. We must destroy breeding places and rat runs in all buildings."

The proposed ordinance makes enforcement the duty of the health department. It defines ratproof construction as a three inch concrete basement floor with nine inch walls. It requires that the foundation be cement or masonry for one foot above the surface of the ground and two feet below. Similar provisions to those are in the present building code.

Would Close Openings.

A provision not in the building code is the requirement that all "accidental and unnecessary spaces and holes, ventilators, and other openings other than doors and windows in every building . . . be closed with cement, mortar, or other material impervious to rats or screened with wire having not more than one-half inch mesh."

Ald. Ross cited that provision as one of the most important for old buildings in the crowded districts.

The measure provides that openings in walls be closed between floors to prevent rats from passing from one floor to another. Similar provision is made in the building code which described the stoppages as "fire-stops."

Special Provisions for Food.

The proposed ordinance makes special reference to ratproofing of floors in buildings where footstuffs are stored. It also requires that lumber, boxes, and barrels stored on the ground must be placed on platforms at least two feet high

"Wherever rats can crawl under lumber or boxes breeding places will develop," Ald. Ross said.

Inspection to Be Sought.

Ald. Ross said that if a rat extermination project is undertaken he will recommend that the workers, in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance, also inspect buildings housing rates.

"Without doubt most of the rats found near residences are found around old structures built before the strict tenement building ordinance was passed about thirty years ago," he said.

Workers exterminating rats in those areas could also inspect basements and walls and report to the health department. The health department could in turn notify the building owner of infractions of the ratproofing ordinance and recommend the necessary repairs to the building, Ald. Ross said.

Emerald in Rough

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Joseph Issarcharoff, London jewel importer, in New York with 225,000 carat emerald in rough.

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—Jacques Issarcharoff, member of a London firm of importers of precious stones, has arrived here with a 225,000 carat emerald in the rough, valued at $250,000, to show it to a private collector. The stone, said to be the largest rough emerald ever mined, has been placed in a bank vault.

The crystallized emerald is now in two pieces, one measuring nearly a foot in length and width. It is various shades of green with some pyrite. Issarcharoff said the stone was mined in Russia six centuries ago, later belonged to an Indian maharajah. The present owner, he said, is a wealthy man in India.

JAS. ROOSEVELT STOPS IN CITY ON RETURN TO CLINIC

James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, stopped in Chicago for two hours yesterday on his way from New York to Rochester, Minn. He will enter the Mayo clinic there today for a physical examination. Roosevelt had a gastric ulcer removed from his stomach last September by Mayo doctors. He said yesterday he is in good health and that he expected today's examination would be routine.

Roosevelt, traveling alone, arrived at the Chicago airport at 1:50 p. m. and left later for Rochester from the North Western railroad station. He plans to return to Chicago tomorrow and then go to Los Angeles, Cal., by plane. He will be kept busy this summer, he said, handling movie production work as vice president of Samuel Goldwyn, Inc. This work will keep him moving back and forth between New York and Hollywood, he added.

IDENTIFY HEART VICTIMS BODY.

The man who fell dead of heart disease Tuesday in front of 151 Asbury avenue, Evanston, was identified yesterday as James T. Cleary, 77 years old, of 4525 North Claremont avenue.

SOCIAL WORKERS ARE LINED UP TO FIGHT WPA CUTS

New Deal Spending Must Go On, Says La Guardia.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Buffalo, N. Y., June 21.—[Special.]—The nation's social workers, in convention here, were exhorted today to wield all the political influence at their command to save the Roosevelt régime's social ventures from the economy drive in congress. Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York topped off the list of administration supporters.

Speaking before 8,000 convention delegates in defense of the Works Progress administration, the New York mayor pointed with pride to the billions of dollars of public money which have been spent in his city on a variety of schemes. He said spending must go on until the unemployment problem is solved.

La Guardia had a sympathetic sounding board for his views because the convention, called the National Conference of Social Workers, is dominated by payrollers who owe their jobs to the huge spending waves of the present administration at Washington.

Fears for Relief Funds.

To block pending WPA cuts in congress, the New York mayor proposed a political mobilization of the social workers. He told them the economies would destroy the American system of relief.

"You people are the soldiers in the mighty army to speak up about these conditions, to show the benefits of what has been accomplished during the last five years with this new policy of governmental responsibility," he shouted.

La Guardia told the crowd he would appear tomorrow before the senate appropriations committee in Washington to make a plea for the restoration of WPA slashes approved last week by the house.

Giving the Roosevelt panaceas his blanket indorsement, La Guardia declared himself in favor of further shortening the work week under the wage and hour law. He pointed out that in many cases all that has been done is to give overtime to a man who already has a job, without giving a job to the man out of work.

Told to Wire Protests.

Immediately after La Guardia's speech the conference president, Paul Kellogg of New York, urged every delegate to telegraph his or her senator protesting the cuts.

At other conference sessions during the day, the social workers were urged to enter actively into politics to save the newly formed government agencies from the ax of economy and incidentally to save their own jobs.

Wayne McMillen, of the school of social service administration, University of Chicago, declared that social workers should band themselves into a united front in order to push along desired legislation. He suggested their most effective field is among labor unions and women's organizations.

McMillen spoke at a luncheon meeting arranged by Social Work Today, a leftist publication of the social workers.

Asks Help for Settlers.

Before another conference gathering of anti-child labor and home mission women, Congressman Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.] asserted the federal government should pay for the resettlement of migrating families on reclaimed land. He said there are 350,000 migrating families in the country today.

Guiding geniuses of the conference sidestepped a hot issue today when they decided to propose only the city of Grand Rapids for the meeting next year. The time and place committee of the convention originally voted to give the membership a choice between Grand Rapids and St. Louis.

St. Louis, however, would not agree to give Negro delegates the same hotel accommodations as their white brethren, while Grand Rapids did agree to grant equal privileges. Negro social workers, who have increased in large number in the New Deal build-up of the relief burocracy, threatened to boycott the convention next year, so St. Louis was dropped from the running.

THE MAKE BELIEVE DEBT.

Senator Thomas, the Oklahoma Democrat and silverite, is a monetary medico with inflation pills. He is a greenbacker as well as a silverite, a friend of printing press money, and of anything which would cheapen the dollar. He is, of course, for the extension of the President's authority to manipulate the currency. He is for the 50 cent dollar and would clip the coins until people began actually to see that they had shaved money and to learn, in the market place, how much more was needed, without their having it, to buy their necessities.

Mr. Thomas says that by cheapening the dollar he will give a major measure of relief. "I admit it will hurt the bondholder, hurt the big banks, and hurt the members of congress who receive a fixed salary." Congressmen would have the remedy in their own hands. They could raise the pay. That would be easy, at least for the members of the house of representatives, whose terms expire every two years. For other incomes there would be more difficulty. The gem of Mr. Thomas' financial ethics relates to the bondholders.

Mr. Morgenthau's many customers may take it hard that the government for which he sells the one-half of one per cents should knock half or more off the value. But then, as the best of the truly good have assured us, the debt isn't a debt. It's a make believe for the nursery. As the children grow up they'll forget it.

Repudiation or liquidation by inflation will wipe out debt and the creditors. Mr. Roosevelt once knew what it was to own German marks and sell them to others.

DEWEY TURNED MANTON UP.

Martin T. Manton, a judge in the New York federal district for 22 years, has been sentenced to two years in prison and to a fine of $10,000, having been found guilty of giving decisions in favor of litigants who gave money to him or to corporations in which he was interested. Manton, a man of wealth, of high judicial position, ruined a life which might have been respected to the end by an uncontrollable desire for more money.

The trial was before Judge Calvin W. Chesnut in the federal court and the prosecutor was Federal Attorney John T. Cahill, but Manton's nemesis was District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York, whose investigations and prosecutions have given the metropolis a purge such as its criminal politics has not had since the days of Tweed. Dewey has done what no other person of authority in New York state has been willing or able to do, although the conditions have been notorious during the lifetime of persons still high in authority.

The first revelation of Manton's turpitude was contained in a letter written by Dewey to Representative Hatton W. Sumners, chairman of the house judiciary committee of congress. In his letter Dewey made six charges, accusing the then judge, or his corporations, of receiving a total of $439,000, half of it from companies interested in litigation in the Circuit Court of Appeals of which he was presiding judge. Dewey had found the evidence in investigation of Judge Manton's state income tax returns. The information was given to Mr. Sumners as chairman of the congressional committee which would have charge of impeachment proceedings. Manton's resignation took the matter out of the hands of congress and gave it to the federal department of justice.

There is no reason to believe that the convicted judge would have been discovered in his disgraceful conduct if the Republican district attorney in his pursuit of highly protected wrongdoers had not found the evidence which was waiting to be found if other persons in position of authority and responsibility had cared to know anything about political criminals in their state. They didn't.

THE TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHTS.

In the trips of the Clipper planes the United States has taken the lead in trans-Atlantic air passenger service. The engineers and designers in this country have an acknowledged superiority in the large plane field, whether their ships are used for transport or bombing. In experience and safety precautions American operating personnel, both ground and air, likewise has a tremendous lead over foreign competitors.

For both commercial reasons and those of military defense the United States must retain the commanding lead that it now holds. That will not be easy. With national prestige and military necessity as motives foreign aviation has large subsidies and close coöperation from its governments.

There was a day when the American clipper ship gave this country the most efficient merchant marine in the world. That merchant marine was allowed to die from neglect, and modern efforts to rebuild it have been more expensive than effective. The same mistakes must not be repeated in the air.

American aviation should receive the backing of the United States government. It should be freed of the little burocrats in Washington, who contributed nothing to its present success but are doing everything they can to hamper its future progress.

The development and extension of our foreign air routes should be made a part of our foreign policy. That means that we should replace the present branch of the British foreign office in Washington with an American state department.

DEMOS, DEMOCRACY, AND DEMOSTHENES.

The political significance of Gutenberg's use of movable type was quickly manifest in the acceleration of the development of freer government. The printed word was the new torch bearer and it prevailed over the autocratic attempt to suppress or control it. When Marconi sent a message through the air, political action had taken another new turn unperceived.

When the schools, the modern press, and new methods of newsprint paper production had made a reader of nearly every voter where suffrage was widely extended, persuaders of opinion used the printed page. Except where illiteracy prevailed, in backward or blighted regions, the electorate could be approached in greatest numbers, not by hiring halls and making speeches, but by getting these speeches in type. That was the fashion in which they were widely circulated. The argument and the appeal to sentiment and emotion went, then, to the eye and not the ear. The cooler, more reasoning faculty received the message and the information. The tactics of political action were designed to reach reflection more than emotion.

The technique which Gutenberg brought into politics has now been modified by the technique ushered in by the radio. New qualities have been added to the arsenal of the persuader. That is, they are new to this age, but they are very old. The radio has taken political action back to the days of the small Greek city state, where the power of the orator was applied in the presence of the people he intended to influence. Pericles could produce a golden age by the magic of his voice and words added to the wisdom of his mind. Cleon could raise a mob by appeal to the emotions.

The statesman might have done as well in print, but the demagog would need the voice. Now it is recognized that a man in public life is badly handicapped if there are serious faults in his use of the radio. He needs qualities of voice and manner, smoothness of diction, and ease of manner almost as magnetic as an ancient politician who had to carry the votes of a state so small that all its citizens could assemble within sound of his voice. The persuader again can use the artifices which try to elude the reason and reach the passions and prejudices. His artifices can be as shrewdly applied to all the people of the United States simultaneously and as effectively as could be done in Athens when all the voters of Attica were assembled to debate and decide.

The radio voice need not be the voice of reason. It can be the voice of demagogy, which has gained a new outlet. The gifted performer need not be constrained by a feeling that his utterances must pass the test of reflection. He can more easily get beyond the mind and to the sentimentality than is possible for an attempt confined for its greatest circulation to the page of print.

The effect of this upon political action in a representative government is yet to be fully revealed. It is conceded that Mr. Roosevelt's political success is to be attributed in part to the almost perfect tuning and timing of his spoken words as they go on the air. The destinies of the nation might, it is conceivable, be determined in part by a voice regardless of what it said.

The radio asks new qualities of candidates. The orator has regained a dominance which the printing press took away from him. His power for evil has almost been fully as great as his power for good. He can enslave as well as make free. Observe Hitler and Mussolini.

PULASKI VS. CRAWFORD.

Unless we are greatly mistaken, the change of the name of Crawford avenue to Pulaski road was not a popular one among citizens of Chicago generally. Particularly among those who own property along the street the change was disliked. Though the new name was adopted several years ago and in the intervening time the people have had ample opportunity to become accustomed to it, the preference for Crawford avenue appears to be as strong as ever today.

Numerous tricks and subterfuges have been employed to prevent the restoration of the former name. The latest of these efforts resulted recently in the surreptitious approval by the state senate of a bill intended to modify the existing state law on street names.

These maneuvers have had a most unfortunate consequence. They have created in the popular mind a disposition to suspect that Americans of Polish blood are trying to set themselves up as a race apart, willing to antagonize the whole community in pursuit of peculiarly Polish aims. Obviously this is a misapprehension of the purposes and motives of the proponents of Pulaski road, but as sensible men and women they should be able to see that their efforts are doing a great deal of harm. Gen. Pulaski's claim to fame is secure whether the street is called by his name or another. The issue is not whether Pulaski is a significant figure in American history but whether the men and women of Polish blood in Chicago are determined to antagonize their fellow citizens needlessly.

Editorial of the Day

[Buffalo Express.]

"I am struck with how much less people are reading now than they did when I was young," says John Masefield, who adds that he cannot wonder at the fact "because the citizens of today have so many other amusements open to them. It is idle to expect that they should abandon their new toys for the toys which delighted the last generation."

It is evident that the poet laureate is permitting himself to indulge in the prerogative of age and authority by expressing regret at the passing of the good old days. We have every respect for his high official position and many of us have enjoyed reading his poetry, especially the sea verses he wrote when he was very young. But his plaint fails to win unanimous support. In the first place, it is worth noting that his speech was made on the occasion of the opening of a new building of the City Literary Institute of London, in itself an admission of the need of more extensive quarters for the readers of today. And, in the second place, reports from circulating libraries and book clubs show that more books are issued and sought by more readers today than ever before in the history of publication.

Of course it is true that folk today have found many new toys, but good books are not toys. They are cherished as much as ever. Individual authors may have reason to complain that their own creations are not read, but that is hardly the fault of readers, who have the right to read what they prefer. The libraries and the publishers report a prosperous season, with several items on their lists running to hundreds of thousands of copies.

Tiger Tale.

An English visitor tells the story of the man-eating tigers who were frightening the natives in a locality in India. A famous hunter finally was sent for, a man whose method had been unfailingly successful. It was to tie a goat to a tree, climb the tree and in the night when the tigers came to get the goat to shoot when he saw the gleam of their eyes, aiming between the eyes. The hunter followed his usual method. He fired when he saw the tigers beneath the tree, but in the morning the goat was gone, and so were the tigers. The second night he followed the same procedure, with the same results. On the third night when he heard the tigers coming to get the goat and saw the gleam of their eyes, he turned the rays from a flashlight full on them in the hope of solving the mystery. He saw six tigers walking in pairs, each with one eye closed.

Seen by motorists stopped by the lights at Division street and the drive: A man wearing a straw hat and long woolen underwear, which he removed and carefully folded, revealing bright blue bathing shorts underneath. . . . Down-and-outer at public library reading Barron's financial weekly.

Dear Miss Provines: Yes, those tuned sleighbells are, too, sold sometimes for sheep. There is a flock of sheep down here belled with them and every one drives by there to hear the musical tinkle. They are on the Scovill farm on the lake, a fabulous place you ought to come down to see, anyhow, for it is an exquisite Chinese country place filled with magnificently beautiful oriental art objects as beautiful as any in the Bendix lama temple during the Fair or in the Art institute now. Or like parts of Robert Allerton's garden at Monticello. There are few things to equal these two gardens anywhere in the United States, and I've been around and can vouch for it.

Decatur, Ill. Louise Adair.

A Query Answered.

A batch of letters in answer to the inquiry as to why the building at Indiana avenue and 18th street bears the name, "Scene in Action." It's a hangover inscription from a time when the premises were occupied by a firm that manufactured animated advertising displays, producing a "scene in action." Sorry the explanation is not more interesting, and thanks to the informers.

Radio Announcer's Revolt.

Radio station announcer Chet Switall was giving early morning time signals and he wasn't in the mood for it, apparently. Anyway, listeners heard him intone: "At the sound of the gong will some one please be kind enough to phone and tell me the correct time?" Not a single one—of all the telephone calsl that came in—gave the correct time.

DANES PROBE LIVING COST

BY JOHN AHL-NIELSEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COPENHAGEN, Denmark.—At the time of the great war thousands of officials and employés of the Danish state found themselves in an unpleasant financial situation. Unlike other employés, who can command their own price, their salaries and wages had been fixed by the legislature and could not be changed except by act of parliament.

In order to place their remuneration on a fairer basis the government issued instructions to the statistical department under the ministry of finance to investigate the cost of living, both before and after the war.

This institution still is in existence. Every three months 200 municipalities throughout the country, representing 200 of the average sized towns, must forward to the department of statistics the cost of food, fuel, laundry, and clothing. Their findings are based upon questionnaires sent to a selection of business people in the various trades in the municipality and representing average households.

Upon receipt of these figures the department adds the figures covering taxes, house rents, trade union fees, etc., and by this procedure eventually arrives at the final figure representing the current cost of living.

1920	261
1925	211
1930	165
1935	171
1938	183

The department of statistics estimates that the annual cost of living for an average household of four persons [parents with two children] amounts to $760.

How to Keep Well

"IT'S MY LIVER."

EVERY now and then a patient will begin his recital of symptoms with the remark, "Doctor, it's my liver and I want something to clear it out." If there is an abnormally yellowish tinge to the skin, and if the whites of the yes portray a saffron hue, the physician will understand that—probably because of some obstruction—bile is being absorbed into the circulation.

But the answer is not always simple. We cannot look at these persons and make a diagnosis on sight, for the condition known as "liverish" is rarely accompanied by jaundice. To the layman it means the loss of appetite, a heavily coated tongue—particularly in the morning—and signs of indigestion. The very sight or odor of food may be revolting. The individual may be so altered from his usual well being that life is scarcely worth living. Perhaps he has been taking calomel or some highly advertised liver pill which apparently has no effect other than inducing a brisk diarrhea.

When asked about his daily consumption of alcohol he may vow that he is a discriminating drinker. Close questioning, however, reveals that he takes a little pick me up in the morning, a couple of cocktails with the noon lunch, two or three at the club en route home, a highball or two with dinner, and a brandy to top it off. Then, there is the nightcap which he never omits because "it helps him to sleep."

Such habits explain the lack of desire for food, the sallow complexion, and the mental irritability. The chances are that there is just enough degeneration of the liver cells to account for all the symptoms. In fact, the diagnosis—hepatosis—is made with substantial frequency. The difficulty may be identified positively by a few simple tests which measure the liver function. Now and then there is a slight temperature, some discomfort or pain in the right upper abdomen, and while there is no true jaundice, nevertheless the skin acquires a peculiar, pasty look which is quite characteristic. On physical examination the lower border of the organ can usually be felt and the individual will complain of tenderness on pressure.

Fortunately, this large secreting structure has great powers of regeneration and with many a sufferer it is necessary only to forbid alcohol in any form on an empty stomach. Whenever the drug reaches the liver in highly concentrated form the effect is far more deleterious. The same quantity taken with meals is beneficial. A diet high in glucose is less destructive, aiding the cells to recover.

We must not forget that there are many other causes. Everything absorbed from the digestive tract is poured into the liver via the portal vein. Furthermore, infections [bacterial] may reach the region from the intestine, traveling upward along the ducts. If the amount of hydrochloric acid in the gastric juice is below normal, this is far more likely to occur. Thus we may add poisoning from the alimentary canal, occasioned by the abuse of laxatives and the toxic products of bacteria.

The so-called bilious attack more often than not typifies migraine, or sick headache. The reason that the seizure is termed bilious is that the retching may be so intense and prolonged that bile is drained backward, appearing in the vomited material. While the patient feels relieved after the stomach is emptied there is little or no connection between the nervous manifestation which we call migraine—and the liver.

We have a hint, however, that laziness on the part of the hepatic organ may play a minor rôle. This has been demonstrated by many victims who find that fatty foods bring on an attack. In consequence, many will omit eggs, cream, fried foods, and chocolate and thus be spared repeated bouts with this distressing ailment. All of these elements contain a high percentage of the substance known as cholesterol—the chief constituent of some types of gallstones. It is entirely possible that this may be the starting factor in an occasional sick headache siege.

INJECTIONS WON'T HELP.

G. P. writes: Recently I read an article on injections for nearsightedness. Are these any good?

REPLY.

MORE INJECTIONS NEEDED.

P. K. H. writes: If a child had diphtheria toxoid after a positive Schick and then another test three months later—still positive—what would this mean?

REPLY.

PHOTOPHOBIA.

L. H. writes: Are the causes of photophobia known?

REPLY.

Many conditions may be responsible. You should consult your eye physician without delay.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

CITIZENSHIP STATUS.

Chicago, June 14.—[Friend of the People.]—A woman who is 45 years old and was born in this country in 1912 married a man born in Italy who has never been naturalized.

1. Is she a citizen of the United States?
2. Did she lose her citizenship when she married this alien?
3. Is this woman allowed to vote?
4. If she votes and is not a citizen, can she be punished by the law? A. S.

1. No.
2. Yes; if she married an alien between March 2, 1907, and Sept. 22, 1922, she lost her citizenship by such marriage, under the laws then in effect. If she desires to regain her citizenship, she may do so by applying for final naturalization papers. A declaration of intention [first paper] is not required in her case.
3. It is understood that only citizens are eligible to vote, if otherwise qualified.
4. It is suggested that this matter be taken up with the office of the Board of Election Commissioners, City Hall, Chicago.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

POLES AND PULASKI ROAD.

Chicago, June 20.—The misinformation of some people is refreshing. A Karl Weiss says in these columns that the Poles of Chicago, through arrogance and deception, have seized Crawford avenue. He suggests that Crawford avenue should be returned to Chicagoans, and Danzig to the Germans.

I write to say that the Poles of Chicago have not seized Crawford avenue. The renaming of that street to Pulaski road was suggested by Mayor Edward J. Kelly, and this writer pins this on him, although he is not a die-hard Democrat. At any rate, this street was renamed in honor of a man who shared the ideals of George Washington and who came here to lay down his life in defense of these ideals.

As to Chicago's citizens of Polish extraction, they are a fine lot, loyal to the United States in every respect. They probably have a feeling for their native country, which is only natural, but in the selection between the two, Poland and the United States, they will stand 100 per cent behind the latter, for they never forget that the United States was a haven through the many years when Poland was dismembered by the then three powerful rulers of Europe. F. X. W.

DRIVEN INTO WORSE SLUMS.

Chicago, June 20.—Apropos of the Voice of the People letter, "Slum Clearance a Fake." What became of the people forced out of this district by the Jane Addams project?

The answer is just like the song entitled "Annie Doesn't Live Here Any More." They now do live in a terribly congested small section of the west side, a district bounded by Hubbard street to Chicago avenue, and from Halsted to Ashland, in fire traps, many erected before the Chicago fire, many condemned years ago, rarely get sunlight, and have been vacant for years.

I know and no birdie told me so—as I help to administer to the medical needs of these people, many of whom are indigents on relief.

SAMUEL A. GERACI, M. D.,
1201 West Grand avenue.

AIR FILLED WITH BASEBALL.

Chicago, June 18.—It seems a great pity that during the summer all Sunday afternoons and into the evening the air is filled with baseball games. There are many who like baseball, but there are also many who don't, and it does seem strange that three, four, and sometimes five broadcast stations give only this kind of entertainment for hours and hours. They do it nearly every weekday during the season. Why not let some of the tired working people who are not at all interested in baseball get a break?

I am writing THE TRIBUNE because you are one of the worst offenders. Sometimes I feel like screaming as, although I never have my radio on on Sundays during baseball games, there is always a neighbor saving the price of a ticket, who blares his radio until—well, some day I am afraid I will do something rash. V. R. U.

FINDS BIAS AND HYSTERIA.

Chicago, June 19.—What's wrong with the baseball broadcasts heard via the radio stations here in Chicago? I'll tell you in a very few words—too much biased, partial hysteria and not enough baseball knowledge.

HARRY N. STROUSS.

WOES OF THE INVENTOR.

Chicago, June 18.—There is no lack of inventions. About 1,000 patents are granted each week, but a very small percentage will ever appear on the market. Suppose only 10 per cent had any market value, it would still mean about one hundred new products on the market every week, giving employment to thousands of people.

The independent inventor has less than a gambling chance to cash in on his inventions, but he is constantly losing time and money. He has to pay for getting a patent, which sometimes may be high enough. Then he will approach manufacturers in his field, starting with the largest. Invariably they say they cannot consider it at present. If they do they sign a royalty contract, put the invention on the shelf, and the inventor gets no royalty nor can he manufacture it himself. When he turns to small manufacturers they are liberal with promises, but he will soon find out the manufacturer just added his line to his own and is not doing anything special to promote his invention, or perhaps is lacking capital to do so. Without publicity nobody will know about his novelty and another year or two are lost.

This is written by one who has had all these experiences in spite of the fact that he has several household inventions made of wood, simple to manufacture, and with big potential sales possibilities.

My advice to inventors is: If you cannot promote your invention yourself save your money and spare yourself endless disappointments by forgetting all about it no matter how valuable you think your invention. DISAPPOINTED.

The weather report was the first thing I read every morning, but I lost all interest in it when the temperature readings were relegated to a back page.

MARTIN E. NELSON.

AN IRRITATING HABIT.

Chicago, June 16.—Can nothing be done to stop the annoying and destructive mode of advertising practiced by certain garages, that of pulling up the windshield wipers on parked automobiles and jamming in printed cards between the rubber and the glass? A. R. B.

A COLOSSAL FAILURE; REHIRE HIM?

Chicago, June 16.—Suppose you were the president of a large corporation. You assumed that office and held it for six years. During that time you practically put that concern into receivership. You depleted the treasury so there was nothing left and then proceeded to borrow huge amounts, all of which put your concern in the red for years and years to come no matter who might succeed you as president. Furthermore, you laid off great numbers of men in your industry. In short you were a colossal flop as a manager of the business. Under the circumstances, would you expect to be rehired?

Still that is precisely what this man, Ickes, and some of the other New Dealers are advocating in regard to the President. To me it sounds insane. This talk of drafting a man for the only third term presidential contest in America's history, and to draft a man who has made the most colossal failure of any President in America's history, would seem to make sense only to a lunatic.

A READER.

HE'S ALL FOR THE WAGNER ACT.

Chicago, June 17.—That THE TRIBUNE is still trying to mislead the worker in his choice of a labor organization is evident by the editorial, "Wagner Act Strikes."

The Wagner act is the one ray of hope for permanent labor peace in America. It will release the American worker from the bondage of labor racketeers and tyrants; from sluggings and killings which have held sway in this country since 1881. Of course the labor racketeers who have bled both worker and employer dry for so many years will try to wreck the Wagner act. Labor haters among the employers and the officers of the A. F. of L. are sole cause of the present labor trouble.

Yes, the Wagner act should be amended, but amended to be made stronger and not weaker. R. J. NUGENT.

A REAL FLAG DAY.

Chicago, June 16.—You will rejoice to know that one observer reports a more general flag display today than for many years. I covered the near north side and near west side and the loop. It warmed the cockles of my heart and renewed my faith in old-time Chicago patriotism. OSCAR EVERTS.

Test Your Facts

SUPERHIGHWAYS PROGRAM MEETS DELAY IN HOUSE

Amendments Postpone Committee Action.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—[Special.]—Action on Chicago's superhighway legislation was postponed today by a house committee for twenty-four hours for consideration of amendments. With only seven working days remaining in this session, the delay was considered dangerous to the bills.

Representative E. P. Hitter appeals to downstaters.

Representative Elmer P. Hitter [R., Joliet] said that at tomorrow's session he will argue for passage of the amended bills on grounds that may appeal to downstaters. He said the pledging of future revenue for the deathproof construction program would restrain Chicago and Cook county from building political pavements. He said it also would prevent future diversion of these funds to purposes foreign to motor transportation, such as schools or relief.

Amendments Offered.

Amendments were introduced at a meeting of the house roads and bridges committee this afternoon by Representative Arthur M. Kaindl [D., Chicago]. They seek to remove provisions authorizing the state to issue $60,000,000 in notes to be retired from the state's share of the gasoline tax in the next ten years. As passed by the senate, the bills assign half of this $60,000,000 to Chicago superhighway construction and half to downstate secondary roads building.

If the Kaindl amendment is adopted, the bills will authorize Chicago and Cook county each to issue $30,000,000 in notes to be paid with its revenues from the gasoline tax in the next twenty years, the $60.000,000 to be assigned to superhighway construction.

Limitations Suggested.

Representative I. A. Palmer [R., West Frankfort] objected that the bills even in that form would authorize any city or county, without referendum, to issue notes to be retired with 50 per cent of its revenue from the gas tax.

Representative Henry Knauf [D., Ladd] suggested that another amendment should limit such authorization to Cook county and Chicago.

Quizzed in Kidnaping and Robbery

Tie Victim to Tree

Burnside police last night were holding four men seized earlier in the day after two of them had kidnaped a motorist, tied him to a tree, and fled in his automobile. The men, who were arrested in the stolen car, were questioned during the day by Assistant State's Attorney Frank Fitzgerald.

The four identified themselves as Robert Ward, 19 years old, 1423 East 62d street; Robert Murray, 18, who gave a fictitious address; Elmer Kehler, 21, of 5004 Drexel avenue, and Emmett Howell, 33, of 6429 Harper avenue. Julius Gordon, 676 State Line street, Calumet City, the kidnaped motorist, signed robbery complaints against them.

Robert Ward and Murray seized Gordon when he stopped for a stop light at 83d street and South Shore drive. They drove him to 130th street and St. Lawrence avenue, where they robbed him of $1 and tied him to a tree. Gordon freed himself after his two captors, joined by the two other men, had driven away.

Fitzgerald said that Robert Ward admitted having obtained $26 from a gasoline station at 10445 Indianapolis boulevard Sunday evening in company with a paroled convict known only as Walker. Also in custody was James Ward, a brother of Robert Ward, who was arrested in a stolen car used in this holdup.

SON OF HOSPITAL WARDEN FINED IN LOVE LANE CLASH

Throop Vaughan, son of Dr. Roger T. Vaughan, night warden of County hospital, was angry when county highway policemen arrested him Tuesday night for parking without lights on Flossmoor road, just west of the village limits.

The policemen testified yesterday in the Homewood police court that Vaughan became abusive, threatened to have his father get their jobs, and tried to assault one of them. Then they said they had to prevent his young woman companion, a Flossmoor resident, from driving away in the car.

Vaughan, who lives at Bremen Junction, northwest of Homewood, said he didn't know that the policemen, who were wearing uniforms, were policemen. And he added he was afraid they would "abscond" with his friend. Justice of the peace fined him $30.

JUDGE WARNS: BEWARE 3 G'S, GIRLS, GAS, GIN

Two Municipal court judges yesterday issued warnings to children and motorists to be careful now that summer vacation is approaching.

In the Safety court Judge Thomas A. Green and Assistant State's Attorney Howard Christensen said that through the coöperation of the school board each of the schoolboy safety patrols would give one day of the vacation period to guarding a dangerous crossing. The coöperation of the Boy Scouts also was promised.

Judge J. M. Braude in the Boys' court declared now that youth has completed its three R's it must "beware of the three G's—girls, gas, and gin." This combination, he said, results in an increase of juvenile crime during the summer.

In the Safety court Anton Mskauski, 46 years old, 4643 South California avenue, was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail for drunken driving. In May, 1937, he was fined $50 on two other trafic charges.

Mrs. Blanche Trice, 27, colored, 3408 South Michigan avenue, was sentenced to ten days in jail, and William Hafner, 33, of Westmont, Du Page county, was fined $100 for reckless driving. While teaching her to drive, Hafner's truck crashed into a restaurant at 3501 Cottage Grove avenue.

BARBER SHOP STENCH BOMBED.

PASSENGER DIES WHEN TWO AUTOS CRASH IN BERWYN

Three Motorists Charged with Manslaughter.

Joseph Redine, 35 years old, 3201 Harlem avenue, Berwyn, was killed last night in a crash of two automobiles at 38th street and Wenonah avenue, Berwyn. He was a purchasing agent for the Liquid Carbonic company.

Charges of reckless driving were placed against the drivers of the cars. They are Ulrich Brake, 42 years old, 385 Herrick road, Riverside, with whom Redine was riding, and Charles Vich, 35, of 3831 Wenonah avenue, Berwyn. Vich also was charged with manslaughter.

Another Charged with Manslaughter.

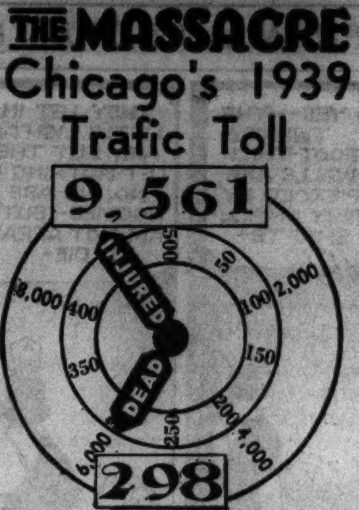
Thomas L. Bray, 19 years old, 629 South Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, was charged with manslaughter yesterday as the result of an automobile collision Tuesday at Euclid avenue and Randolph street, Oak Park. John Gapko, 46, of 1516 Oak Park avenue, Berwyn, was killed in the crash.

A coroner's jury yesterday recommended that James Brown, 33 years old, colored, be held to the grand jury for manslaughter in the death of James Dunnigan, 56 years old, 4430 Union avenue. Dunnigan was struck by Brown's auto June 6 while standing on the sidewalk at 45th street and Emerald avenue. Brown lives at 4930 South Park way.

Dies of Injuries Suffered Sunday.

Stanley Bundauskas, 59 years old, 2449 West 69th street, died in County hospital last night of injuries incurred Sunday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 6735 South Western avenue. John Kelly, 21, of 7509 South Sangamon street was the driver.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 383 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 298 were killed in Chicago, where 9,561 were injured in the period.



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

MOMBASA, Kenya Colony, June 21.—(AP)—The flying boat Guba alighted here at 9:52 a. m. today, completing in four hops a 4,674 mile survey flight over the Indian ocean to test possibilities of an alternate England to Australia air route.

DOG WON'T TELL ON FRIEND, BUT HE GOES TO JAIL

Edward H. Dea keeps a watchman and a watchdog in his trucking establishment at 119 North Loomis avenue. When $325 worth of machinery vanished Sunday night Dea reasoned that the dog must have known who was responsible, because the dog frowns upon strangers.

The dog did, although he didn't tell. And Judge J. M. Braude sent the miscreant to jail yesterday for three months, because Dea had gone to him and obtained a confession after reflecting for sometime about the dog. The man who went to jail was James Howell, 67 years old—the watchman.

FLYER DAHL ASKS U. S. TO WIN HIS RELEASE IN SPAIN

SALAMANCA, Spain, June 21.—(AP)—Harold Dahl, Champaign, Ill., flyer who was seized as a prisoner of war by the Spanish Nationalists two years ago, has requested the American embassy to effect his release. At Salamanca provincial hospital where he is being held, Dahl conferred with Earl Craim, third secretary of the embassy.

Craim questioned Dahl particularly about his American citizenship. After his citizenship status has been checked fully, Ambassador Alexander W. Weddell was expected formally to request the aviator's release.

Police Nab 252 Drivers Without Safety Stickers

Police issued summonses to 252 motorists yesterday, the first day of a renewed drive against those who have failed to obtain safety inspection stickers. The park police will join in the drive today. Edward J. Gorman, deputy vehicle commissioner, said there was a 33 per cent increase over Tuesday in the number of machines appearing at the fourteen safety lanes.

Sacramento, Cal., June 21.—[Special.]—An automobile driven by Mrs. Ave Steiner got out of control today. It struck another car, rammed a gasoline pump and then plunged halfway through a brick wall. Mrs. Steiner and three passengers brushed bricks off the running board and stepped out unhurt.

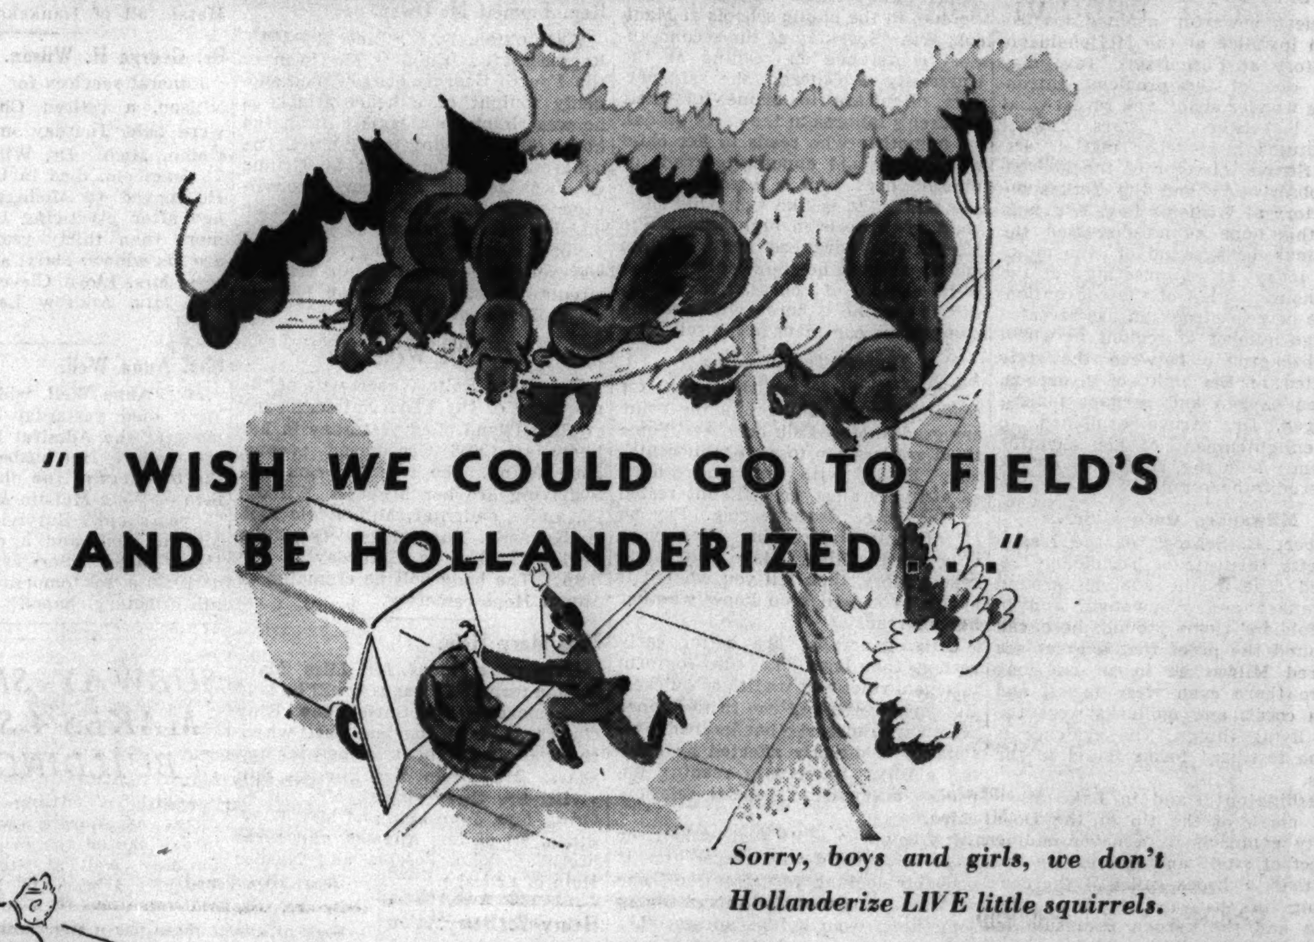
MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

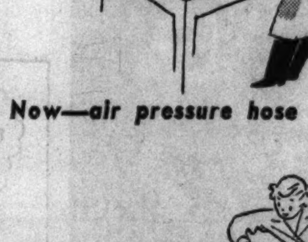


"I WISH WE COULD GO TO FIELD'S AND BE HOLLANDERIZED . . ."

Sorry, boys and girls, we don't Hollanderize LIVE little squirrels.

Eagle-eyed inspection

Lining expertly sized



Now—air pressure hose

The deft lining pressing

Final scrupulous stitches

But your squirrel (provided it's a coat)—or your mink—or your seal—can be Hollanderized.

Hollanderizing is the fur cleansing process that not only cleans the fur but revitalizes it at the same time. It not only doesn't harm the fur, it is good for it.

The process was established by A. Hollander & Son, world-famous dressers and dyers of furs. Men who know furs handle your coat, from the first careful step to the last. It is inspected with an eagle eye, and exactly the right things prescribed. For raccoon, this treatment. For sable, that. For Persian lamb, yet another.

Linings are cleaned and re-lusterized by a special sizing process. And off goes the coat to the sawdust drum, to be whirled in fresh sawdust especially suited to its fragility or sturdiness. The right length of time is important, and its importance is observed. And whisk—into a well-padded cage, where a current of air draws the sawdust out and the last remaining particles of dirt with it. The life-giving oils and fats of the furs go "into action" and the pelts become beautifully soft and supple again.

Now the hand blowing. Compressed air is blown through a hand hose, to spread and raise each hair to its full length. And if the lining, though now clean, has any spots on it, a ruthless inspector catches these, and removes them deftly. Finally, the expert glazing, the infinitely delicate ironing. And your coat is ready.

Ready, and the operation has cost you no more than ordinary cleaning would cost. Send your coat to Field's for Storage, and be sure to say "I want it to be Hollanderized."

If your coat is already here, call State 1000, ask for the Fur Salon, and leave an order to have it Hollanderized before it is returned to you.

It is impossible to give any fur coat better care than we give every fur coat.

NEW DEAL PERILS LIVING STANDARD, SAYS SCIENTIST

Taxes Hamper Recovery, Convention Hears.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 21.—[Special.]—Whatever the intentions of the federal government, it unquestionably has hampered business in the United States and served to lower the American standard of living and deter industrial production. This was the statement today of Dr. Harold Glen Moulton of Washington, president of the Brookings institute, at the 104th convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"I can't read the minds of the government officials," he said, "but the results are plain. The relations between government and business are confused and conflicting. Uncertainty is the consequence. A government can make or break an economic system. All factors must mesh like the cogs of a wheel."

Dr. Moulton said the New Deal system of heavy taxation has retarded business enterprise.

"Maybe the government won't always spend huge sums of money on waterways that take trafic away from the railroads and then we won't have to subsidize both," he said.

Stars May Reveal Secret.

A new, powerful, nebular spectrograph installed at the McDonald observatory at Fort Davis, Tex., may solve one of the problems astronomers wonder about, and reveal what there is between the stars or what constitutes inter-stellar matter. Dr Otto Struve, director of the McDonald observatory and the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., held out this hope as he discussed the luminous background of the milky way today at a meeting of the astronomy section of the convention.

The new spectrograph has revealed a large number of regions in which the background between the stars radiates in the light of hydrogen, ionized oxygen and perhaps ionized nitrogen, Dr. Struve explained, to the enlightenment of his scientific audience and the confusion of his less erudite hearers.

Milwaukee Once a Sea.

Robert R. Schrock of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology reported that in the quarries around Milwaukee and Wauwatosa, and in the Soldiers' Home grounds here, can be found the proof that a great sea covered Milwaukee in an era long before there even were fishes, and when corals and mollusks were the only living things. The evidence is in the fossilized forms found in the rocks.

Washington Island in Lake Michigan, north of the tip of the Door county peninsula, is a never ending subject of study and interest by the scientists. Schrock called it the connecting link between the Door peninsula and the garden peninsula in Michigan.

Population Near Peak.

In twenty years Wisconsin's population will stop increasing and a large share of its residents will be older than 45 years, Samuel Teper, senior statistician of the state planning board, reported. Its cities are big enough and should be careful about extending their limits, he said. Rural and farm expansion have decreased, he added; cities are draining the country, and the northwest is returning to the wilderness.

Wisconsin's population will continue to increase until 1960, Teper said, but 95 per cent of the increase will be in the group older than 45 years.

In 1850, he said, those under 20 years of age formed 52 per cent of the population of the state. By 1960 those under 20 will compose only 31 per cent.

In 1850 only 3 per cent of the population was older than 60 years. By 1960, he said, the older group will form 12 per cent of the total.

'BUCK' BENNY RIDES AGAIN — INTO WAUKEGAN

Jack Benny finally came home yesterday. He came back to Waukegan with his wife, Mary Livingston, his adopted daughter, Joan, 5 years old, and a whole troupe of friends and confederates, for what Waukegan has been heralding for a long time as "celebrity days." An enormous crowd of autograph seekers and other curious souls packed the Dearborn station for the Benny arrival on the Santa Fe Chief. From there the party boarded a North Shore "Benny Special" for Waukegan, where they were catapulted into a big parade to the city hall. The world première of Benny's new picture, "Man About Town," will be held in Waukegan Sunday, as will the radio comedian's weekly Sunday broadcast.

Succession Tax of $18,742 Paid on McCormick Estate

Santa Fe, N. M., June 21.—(AP)—A succession tax of $18,742.35 on the estate of the late Medill McCormick was paid to the state of New Mexico today by McCormick's mother and executrix, Mrs. Ruth Hanna Simms of Albuquerque. It amounted to 1 per cent of a $1,874,235 estate. Young McCormick, member of the Chicago publishing family, and Richard Whitmer of Albuquerque, a student at Princeton university, were killed last June while attempting to scale a peak in the Sandia mountains.

Father and Son Deny Using Mails to Defraud

Charles P. Campbell, 71 years old, 9400 South Damen avenue, and his son Marshall, 43 years old, 9325 South Bell avenue, pleaded not guilty yesterday before Federal Judge William H. Holly to charges of using the mails to defraud. They are charged with defrauding more than 100 Presbyterian ministers of $250,00 in real estate promotions in which they promised investors interest ranging from 6 to 24 per cent a year. Judge Holly set Sept. 26 for their trial.

MAKE LEARNING ITS OWN REWARD, PARENTS URGED

Don't Pay for High Marks, Says Educator.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

If your child is poor in his schoolwork, give him some chores to do at home. It will develop a sense of responsibility. Don't wait on him. And stop paying him a dime for every gold star he brings home. Learning is its own reward.

This is the advice of Miss Ethel Mabie Falk, former director of curriculum in the public schools at Madison, Wis. Speaking at the second annual conference on reading at the University of Chicago, she said parents often are to blame for their children's failures in the early grades.

"A mother who reads to her child when he is old enough to read for himself does him a great injury," she said. "It is like tying his shoelaces when he is in high school. She often reads advanced books to him merely because he shows interest. He is interested, of course, but the result is that he is bored with reading material he can manage himself."

How to Test Reading.

There is no established test for reading accomplishment in the primary grades, Miss Falk believes. Some third graders can toss off "Pinocchio" and "Heidi" with ease, and others, as mentally alert, are still interested by the Peter Rabbit series. Pay no attention to oral reading. It may be only word calling. Have your child read a story, then tell you what it is about. You will soon know whether he can read.

Girls, generally, are better early readers than boys. They also conform to school rules and traditions quicker. But boys overtake them in the upper grammar grades, she has learned. Personality is directly affected by reading ability. Success in reading improves every child's social relationships.

"A boy who pulls a girl's hair, or trips every child who passes him, is probably looking for attention," she asserted, "a feeling of supremacy in something, even if it is anti-social."

Primary Tastes Change.

One of the greatest problems in primary reading, according to Miss Grace E. Storm, professor of kindergarten-primary education at the university, who also addressed the conference, is that many words do not have any meaning to very young children. The word "cow" to a city child, may evoke only the vision of a bottle of milk. The phrase "The Arab rode a camel through the desert," would mean nothing.

Excursions, discussions, construction, pictures, exhibits, and dramatizations planned to broaden experience are being hailed as more important in primary education.

Radio, moving pictures, and the automobile have wrought a change in today's children, Miss Storm said. Fairy tales are losing their lure. In most cases they are neglected for simple, but factual books on aviation, mechanics, and industrial development. Even taste in poetry is changing. Eugene Field, considered sad and a little morbid these days, has been replaced by the modernist, Rachel Field.

MARRIED FOR 54 YEARS, THEY DIE TEN DAYS APART

Mrs. Ida Mae Park, 84 years old, died ten days ago. The news was kept from her husband, Leonard, also 84, because he was seriously ill with a heart ailment in their home at 3617 North Kedvale avenue. Yesterday, while talking to his son, Ralph, the aged man said:

"Son, I would like to go and see mother."

Shortly afterward, the son returned to the bedrom and found his father dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Park celebrated their fifty-fourth wedding anniversary last Feb. 24. They ha dlived in Chicago for the last forty-four years. Mr. Park retired as a carpenter contractor on his 77th birthday.

OBITUARIES

Walter J. Przybylinski.

Walter J. Przybylinski, former secretary general of the Polish Roman Catholic union, died in the Jackson Park hospital yesterday of pneumonia. He was 58 years old. Born in Poland, Mr. Przybylinski came to the United States as a boy of 13. For twenty years he was a clerk in the Municipal court, and for the last five years had been head of the real estate department of the Polish Roman Catholic union. He served two terms as its secretary, from 1928 to 1934. Surviving are his widow, Margaret, of 8114 South Shore drive, and three daughters. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Rep. Emmett M. Owen.

Washington, D. C., June 21.—(AP)—Representative Emmett M. Owen of the Fourth Georgia district died suddenly tonight of a heart attack as he was riding in a taxicab from the house office building to his hotel. The congressman, who lived at Griffin, Ga., was serving his fourth consecutive term from the Fourth Georgia district. He was about 60 years old. Before coming to congress Owen was solicitor general of his Georgia circuit. Earlier this session he was critically ill of pneumonia.

Mrs. Edna Rolfe Weber.

Mrs. Edna Rolfe Weber, wife of the president of the First National bank of Blue Island, died yesterday in her home at 12956 Greenwood avenue, Blue Island. She was 62 years old. Surviving are her husband, William H., and a daughter, Mrs. Adele Moller Kennelly. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the home. The body will be cremated at Mount Hope cemetery.

Miss Mary Hein.

Funeral services for Miss Mary Hein, a former Chicagoan, will be held this morning in Christ the King church in Los Angeles, Cal., where she was parish housekeeper for ten years. Miss Hein died Sunday. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Helen Gross, Mrs. John Eck, and Mrs. P. W. Stack, all of Los Angeles, and three brothers, John, Joseph, and Nicolas Hein of Chicago.

Henry B. Berry.

Funeral services for Henry B. Berry, 6905 South Union avenue, will be held at 1:30 p. m. today at 8400 South Ashland avenue. Mr. Berry, a carpenter contractor, died in St. Luke's hospital Monday. He was 70 years old. Two daughters survive.

Mrs. Eleanor Harriet Beebe.

Boston, Mass., June 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Eleanor Harriet Beebe, 74 years old, widow of Junius Beebe, Boston banker and merchant, and mother of Lucius Beebe, New York columnist, died today.

Walter Belasco Sr.

Oakland, Cal., June 21.—(AP)—Walter Belasco Sr., 75 years old, brother of the late theatrical impresario, David Belasco, was killed today by a street car. He was a theatrical makeup artist.

Mrs. Wallis R. Sanborn.

Mrs. Wallis R. Sanborn, wife of the president of the Lehigh Stone company, Kankakee, died Tuesday night in her Kankakee home. She was 64 years old. Funeral services will be held from St. Paul's Episcopal church, Kankakee, at 2 p. m. tomorrow, with the Rev. Wayne Gerrard, rector of St. Paul's church, and the Rev. Ray Everett Carr, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Chicago, officiating. Mrs. Sanborn was a native of Streator. Surviving besides her husband are two sons, Daniel C. and Clarence A., and two daughters, Mrs. Armand E. Hanshaw and Mrs. Anna Marsh, all of Kankakee.

Dr. George H. Wilson.

Funeral services for Dr. George H. Wilson, a retired Chicago dentist, were held Tuesday in his home at Union, Mich. Dr. Wilson, who was 74 years old, died in Union Monday. He moved to Michigan nine years ago after practicing in Chicago for more than thirty years. Surviving are his widow, Mary, and two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Cleveland of Union and Mrs. Andrew Larson of Maywood.

Mrs. Anna Weil.

Mrs. Anna Weil, widow of Isadore Weil, died yesterday in her apartment at the Admiral hotel, 909 Foster avenue. Her husband was one of the founders of the plumbing supply firm of Weil, McLain & Co. She was 69 years old. Surviving are a son, Martin Weil, and a daughter, Mrs. Harry Misch. Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow in the Rosehill cemetery chapel.

SUBWAY SINK MAKES 4 STORY BUILDING BULGE

Additional settling of earth as a result of subway construction yesterday caused the brick veneer of a building wall at State street and Chicago avenue to bulge outward several inches at one point. The building is a four story structure on the northwest corner of the intersection.

A member of the firm of architects for the manager of the building said the heavy brick walls themselves were not damaged. Clamps will be placed over the bulge to guard against the possibility of bricks falling, he said.

The city sewer department last night dug into State street south of Chicago avenue to repair a break in a three foot brick sewer over the subway tunnel. The break occurred about a month ago when pavement settled in front of the Holy Name Cathedral as a result of the subway work. Tom D. Garry, superintendent of sewers, said repairs were deferred until concrete had been poured in the subway tunnel beneath the sewer break, thus minimizing the chance of further settlement at that spot.

GRIM SUGGESTION OF ASTROLOGER LEADS TO SUICIDE

Baker Hangs Himself After Prophecy.

George Walter, 52 years old, paid an astrologer $10 last September and was told: "Your destiny is suicide. You'd better take the easiest way out." Tuesday night he was found hanged in a closet of his rooming house. He had fashioned a noose out of a piece of cord attached to a shelf bracket.

Yesterday psychiatrists pointed out that Walter's death was not a case of an astrologer being right in a gruesome guess. It was, they said, an illustration of the danger of a suggestible person visiting an astrologer or fortune teller.

Fires Mental Powder Kegs.

They said it happened frequently: the suggestion is made by the professed seer; then it's carried out. Result: the fakir appears gifted with occult powers, whereas he has merely touched a match to a series of mental powder kegs.

A coroner's jury, at the inquest over Walter yesterday, returned a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane. A friend, Hubert Graber, 3407 Nagle avenue, a baker, told the jury of the astrologer's prophecy. He said Walter had been upset and nervous since. Police and court records rounded out the strange story.

Walter testified in Women's court last Oct. 1 against Mrs. Katherine Sill, 44, who at the time had a fortune telling studio at 2442 North Clark street. After quoting her suicide prediction, he said, she charged him $20 for two dozen pills, which had cost her 50 cents. He was found unconscious from the effects of a drug the next day.

Admits Sale of Tablets.

Mrs. Sill said she had sold him sleeping tablets, and that by "easiest way out" she meant only he was to get some rest. She was found guilty of advertising herself as a fortune teller and fined $100. The fine was suspended and she was put on probation.

Walter's body was found by Mrs. Lee Barton, operator of a rooming house at 113 West Elm street. A baker, he had been unemployed for a year and his $2,500 savings had dwindled to $500. He left a note giving this money to Graber, "my last friend in the world."

Psychiatrists were asked about a hypothetical case in which the circumstances were similar.

"Quite frequently," said Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, of the Criminal court behavior clinic, "I have seen individuals get a report from a fortune teller, and carry out the acts forecast. This occurs in depression cases. It is a dangerous thing for an emotionally unstable person to consult anyone who pretends to predict events of the future."

"An interest in the occult is often associated with persons in the early stages of mental disorder," said Dr. David B. Rotman, Municipal court psychiatrist. "Such interest indicates there is a change of personality taking place. The case described is a picture of a schizophrenic [literally split-mind] reaction."

Another psychiatrist, who asked to remain anonymous, had this comment on fortune telling in general:

"The fortune teller can say to a thousand men: 'You're going to commit suicide,' and the thousand men will reply 'Pooh!' and walk away. But for another man, who is mentally ill or at least highly suggestible, the prediction will have a fatal result."

Dr. Hoffman was asked if fortune telling acts another way: Is the person for whom a happy future is predicted stimulated to bring about that raise in pay, put over that long ocean trip, or marry the wealthy blonde? Dr. Hoffman replied somewhat ruefully that it didn't seem to work out that way.

JOSEPH CANNON, NO. CAROLINA TOWEL AND HOSIERY MAKER, DIES

Hot Springs, Ark., June 21.—[Special.]—Joseph F. Cannon, North Carolina towel and hosiery manufacturer, was found dead today in his bed at the Arlington hotel here. Cannon, whose home was at Concord, N. C., and whose factories are at Kannapolis and Albemarle, N. C., was 63 years old. He had been ill for several months.

The manufacturer's name was in the news a few years ago when his son-in-law, F. Brandon Smith Jr., sued him for $250,000, charging he had alienated the affections of Mrs. Smith. Before her marriage to Smith, the daughter, Anne, was divorced from Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, who later became the husband of Libby Holman. Reynolds committed suicide shortly after this last marriage.

HIRAM PENSE, 94, G. A. R. VETERAN, DIES IN DETROIT

Hiram Pense, one of Cook county's few remaining G. A. R. veterans, died yesterday in Detroit, Mich., according to word received here by his son, George, assistant custodian of the G. A. R. Memorial hall. He was 94 years old.

Mr. Pense enlisted in the Union army as a boy of 19, serving as dispatch carrier in Company E of the 140th Illinois volunteers and Company G of the 75th Illinois volunteers. Although he served at Bull's Gap and Nashville, he often said he saw little actual fighting, as he was too busy carrying messages. He later became a sheet metal worker.

Mr. Pense's death leaves nine members of George H. Thomas post, No. 5, of the G. A. R., of which he was an active member. His son and a daughter, Mrs. Rose Dickinson of Detroit, survive. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in Detroit.

SOWING FOR GREATER RETURNS

The richer the soil the more abundant the yield . . . whether you plant seed and reap grain or sow advertising and harvest sales.

The newspaper advertiser seeking greater returns finds his most fertile field for advertising response where circulation is built without the use of subscriber contests, or premiums or prizes to subscribers—circulation built solely on reader interest.

In Philadelphia, ONE newspaper, The Evening Bulletin, provides the advertiser with this fertile field of circulation gained entirely by merit alone.

In all its history, The Evening Bulletin has never used any subscriber inducement but the interest of its pages.

And for thirty-four continuous years, every day, six days a week, The Evening Bulletin has led all Philadelphia newspapers in circulation — without the use of subscriber contests, or premiums or prizes to subscribers

Every reader of The Bulletin makes a voluntary purchase of his newspaper every day. He buys it to read.

Remember, The Bulletin offers the advertiser many more of these careful readers . . . for The Evening Bulletin regularly goes into more homes, to be read by more families, than any daily newspaper in Philadelphia, morning or evening.

And The Bulletin's great reading audience is concentrated where advertising is most likely to get most results — within the responsive Philadelphia retail trading area (95.3% ABC).

Ask your advertising agency about recent surveys on advertising response among Philadelphia newspaper readers . . . made by an impartial research organization — surveys which show that advertising in The Evening Bulletin gets more attention than in all other Philadelphia newspapers combined—surveys which prove that the people who buy The Bulletin to read . . . read to buy!

More readers . . . more attentive readers . . . more responsive readers—these the advertiser in The Evening Bulletin reaches at one of the lowest costs per reader in America!

In Philadelphia - City of Homes - nearly everybody reads The Evening Bulletin

Squashes Add Interest to Summer Meals

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Summer squashes are delicious when not overcooked. They aren't particularly good raters in food value, but they add interest and pleasure to a summer meal.

The three varieties we see most in the markets are the beautifully symmetric, scalloped "patty pan," the yellow crookneck, and the green, cucumberlike Italian or zucchini squash. All of them may be prepared in the same ways.

Cook them by steaming, if possible. If you haven't a steamer, cook them in boiling, salted water until barely tender, no longer. Overcooked summer squash is watery, soft, and bodiless. It should have some crispness left if it's to be appetizing.

Summer squashes needn't be peeled. Peeling and seeds both are edible unless the squash is elderly, in which case you wouldn't want to cook it.

Add salt, pepper, and plenty of butter to steamed or boiled summer squash slices, and serve them hot. Sprinkle with fine crumbs which have been browned in butter, if you like, or with grated cheese.

SQUASH IN A CASSEROLE.

Sliced squash may be baked in a casserole, too. Butter the dish, slice the vegetable in layers, sprinkling each layer with salt, pepper, and fine buttered crumbs. Add a fourth to a half cup of meat stock or tomato juice, and bake covered at 400 degrees until the squash is just tender when pricked with a fork. Grated cheese may be sprinkled over the top of the dish and it may be uncovered for browning during the last few minutes in the oven.

Exit the Flowing Long Bob; Coiffures Return to Normal

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Now that the shouting is all over, the extreme upswept hair laid to rest unmourned, the freak styles generally ignored, your hair style settles down to what is most becoming to you and what is most youthful in coiffures.

We see disappearing reluctantly the long, unkempt looking manes of hair flowing shoulder length and longer. One of our amusing professionals, Sheila Barrett, said in our presence not long ago that women with hair worn like that always make her think of drunken cocker spaniels. Disorderly might be a better word. But, as we say, except on a few of the movie stars we see around, the general head is being removed from that unruly moppish frame, emerging from it with infinitly more tidiness. At least, it is lifted up on the sides of the brow and cheek and, if long hair flows in back, it does it with more grace and tidiness.

When we say that shorter hair is what we have settled down to now that the shouting's over, we do not mean close short. We mean just shorter. Short enough to allow for a public expression, may we say, of a well shaped head and good neck.

That long bob that dropped and straggled over the shoulders left the shape of the head in large doubt, and it foreshortened the neck, which made it extremely bad for the woman with a short, full throat.

Your best hair style now is the style that exhibits a sleek head shape and lengthens the neck. How short, then? Not a return to the shingle, thank the powers that be. Short hair means simply the short length that is rignt for you, a length determined by your individual features. For the tapered neckline and well planned contour above it, from three to three and a half inches is conceded by our best hair artists as about right.

Parks Will Present Lake Front Concerts; Number Is Uncertain

Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago Park district, declared upon his return from Springfield yesterday that a series of concerts would be given in Grant park this summer. The length of the series is uncertain.

The park district already has appropriated $25,000 for concerts. This amount is adequate for a little over three weeks. Legislation now before the general assembly in Springfield may make it possible to continue the concerts until Labor Day, as in former years.

The 1939 series will start early in July, the exact date to be determined by the Chicago Federation of Musicians, under whose supervision the concerts are given.

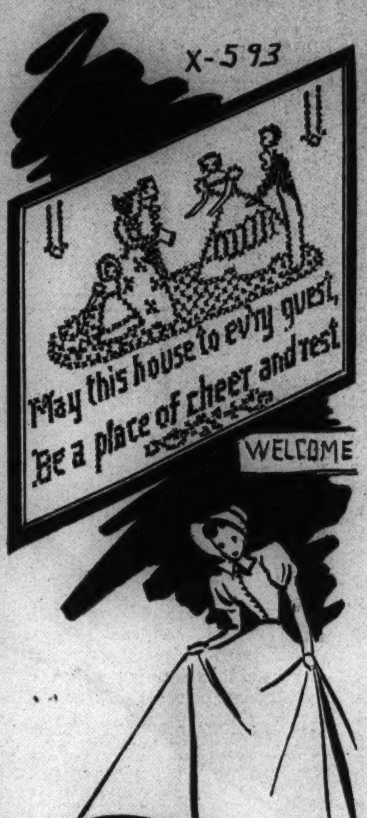
Motto Created in Cross-Stitch Is a Charming One



X-593
May this house to evry guest,
Be a place of cheer and rest.
WELCOME

BY NANCY CABOT.

There is no more charming welcome than that extended by a motto placed at the entrance of every home. This lovely cross-stitch expression of greeting is easy to create and furnishes an equally beautiful color spot. Since cross-stitch is one of the easiest forms of embroidery, it will take no time to make this motto. It is mounted and framed in natural or white wood, depending upon the background.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the cross-stitch motto, No. X-593, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Talk on Charm.

Mrs. Luella Canterbury will speak on "Charm, Today and Tomorrow" at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Woman's City club.

Frothy Clothes Do Their Bit for Bright Summer

BY RHEA SEEGER.

All staid fashions are banished come midsummer . . . frothy confections appear . . . picturesque garden clothes suddenly become extremely important, getting all the best spots for showings. Spectator sports clothes and grand stand fashions bloom in every window. Silly little hats and floppy outsize straws with little if any visible crowns are hung around to take the last penny from the weekly allowance.

The best of the top jackets and boleros have arrived to help the separate skirt addict complete a good summer daytime outfit for little cash outlay.

Most of the best looking jackets are of smooth, semi-coarse weave linen cut with a fitted streamline and buttoned down the front with glittering gold metal filagree buttons. Some have a row of huge pearl ball buttons and others have china white decorative discs. These linen finds allow for minimum underlayers . . . they are not transparent though airy and cool to wear.

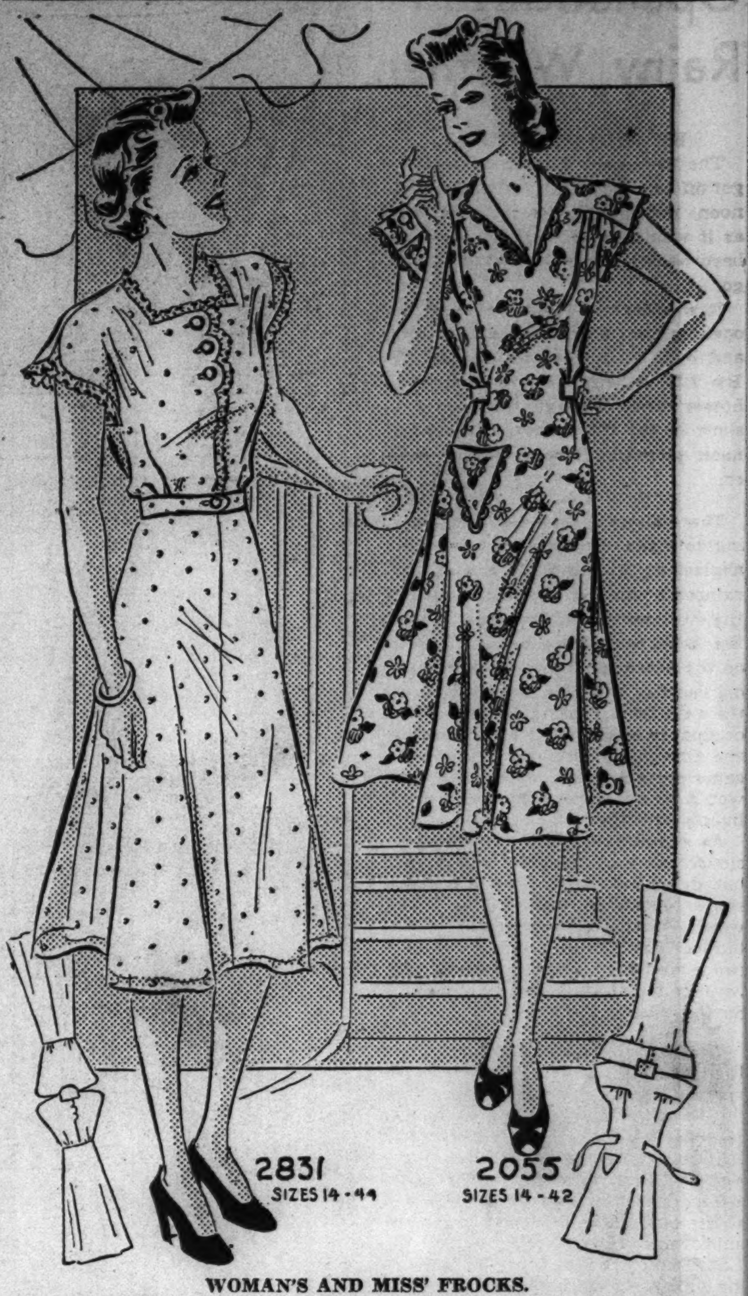
All you need is the jacket and whatever skirt you decide to wear, and presto—the smartest and most modestly priced of trim daytime duets.

New arrivals this week are the lovely boleros made of rows and rows of gathered narrow lace bands. Such confections are used for dress parade and summer party frocks . . . red, cornflower blue, pale pink, yellow, black, navy, and white assure a wide selection.

For cool dramatics atop any black or navy dress you can't beat the crisp piqué and linen jackets with cutout patterns around the edges and the cuffs of the sleeves. They'll make any ordinary dress look like something right off the boat.

And these are the days to find good looking all white spectator outfits . . . smartly fashioned dresses, with matching jackets, each detailed differently, so that a flawless summer time costume is achieved. Pleats still take the spotlight, and fitted hip length jackets are running the long redingotes and boxy type coats a good race for popularity. Dull crêpes and sharkskin are the most popular materials.

Two Practical Home Frocks



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCKS.

Two patterns today, two practical models for the home. They're comfortably styled to keep you cool and smart looking through the hottest days. You can wear them for informal hostessing, too, and they make grand gifts for bridal "showers."

At the left, a style that makes up well in cotton sheers. The square neckline, the kimono sleeves and the scalloped and buttoned closing are trimmed with either lace or ruffling. The skirt has simple flare.

The other model takes readily to all the inexpensive printed cottons. It has a V neckline with a rever collar which may be trimmed with edging or not, as you choose. The same applies to the triangular pocket on the skirt. The sleeves are cut in one with the shoulders, and there is a self-fabric belt that extends only from the side seams.

Style No. 2831 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 39 inch material.

Style No. 2055 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inch material and ⅜ yard of contrasting.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Pool Vacation Problems Is Tip to Parents

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

This is just a hint, not a practically worked out article giving your definite suggestions and advice, which is what I try, as a rule, to do. It has to do with vacation.

Now, it may be that for you when school is out vacation time just takes care of itself. You may have things worked out so that you keep the children happy and contented all summer long, with perhaps a brief trip for all the family by car, or to camp or seashore. Or you may each summer go to the same resort where the children can be outdoors from morning till night, with plenty of companionship and things to do. You may live in the suburbs where the children's days have enough quiet variety in them so you do not have to give vacation more than a passing thought.

But all mothers do not find the combination of children and summer quite so simple. After the first freedom from school has lost its novelty children often become aimless and quite obviously at loose ends. If this happened in your family last year and you don't want it to repeat itself, start doing some thinking now.

But don't necessarily do all that thinking alone. Talk it over with a friend who is in the same boat, or several other mothers, and try to work out something that will give the children some definite interest [amusing or educational, or both], and keep them happily occupied for part of each day.

In various parts of the country mothers are doing this, not elaborately but in an informal way. The possibilities are endless, really.

If you need help write to the National Recreation association, 315 4th avenue, New York, for a bulletin called "Family Fun," price 10 cents.

"Play Materials and Play Equipment" is a leaflet of references helpful to parents, nurses, and teachers. Send a large, stamped, addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Horse Show Is Opened Despite Rainy Weather

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The 39th Lake Forest Horse show got off to a wet start yesterday afternoon, nothing like as wet, however, as it would have been had the show been held a few miles nearer Chicago.

It was dark and gloomy when the opening class was called at 2 o'clock, and by 2:30 it was raining slightly. By 2:55, when the heavy harness horses drove through the in-gate to show in the third class of the afternoon program, it was raining harder.

There also was thunder and lightning to make the spectators who had neglected to bring umbrellas and raincoats wish they hadn't ignored the rain warnings. The new roof of the boxes may have been rainproof, as the press agent for the show said on Tuesday, but this did not prevent the rain from beating in on the box occupants as the wind blew it across the Onwentsia meadows. It was the same press agent who said the show would go on, barring floods or cloudbursts, and it did.

As a matter of fact, there was no cloudburst nor flood in Lake Forest, but driving back to town along the shore route made one feel as if the words "barring floods and cloudbursts" had tempted fate too far. A canoe would have been an easier conveyance to handle than an automobile during much of the way.

The hard, blinding rain did not hit Lake Forest until after the afternoon program, fortunately, and by the time the first evening class was called at 8 o'clock it was clear again. It was far from good horse show weather, though, and the association members are hoping that the weather of the next three days will be a vast improvement over yesterday's.

Saturday morning's performance is the children's as far as their participation in the show goes, but yesterday afternoon's was the youngsters' from the standpoint of the box parties. There were more children than adults in the boxes and in the bleachers there were ten youngsters to one adult. The rain didn't bother them and there they sat, uncovered, watching the show.

One little fellow decided at last that with so many unoccupied box seats there was no reason why he shouldn't make use of one, but a stern usher killed that idea by yelling, "Hey, you, trying to climb over back there, you can't come in the boxes."

There wasn't the parade of fashion there would have been had the day been fair, but there were enough smartly dressed young women to allow some general observations as to what "they" are wearing.

Practically all young legs were bare; high heeled white pumps are just as popular as the newer toeless, heelless numbers that masquerade under the name of shoes; the young women all were wearing very short skirts, skirts that just covered their knees; open turbans still are seen, and sweaters are number one in the hit parade of wraps. Short sleeved ones and long sleeved ones, but the latter usually were rolled up to look briefer.

Miss Margaret Hutchins, a debutante of last year, wore white tennis shorts and a loose white sweater. Mrs. John L. Cochran and Mrs. George T. McLaughlin, who had with them their daughters, Nancy Cochran and Patsy McLaughlin, knitted busily all afternoon, Mrs. Cochran on a white sweater and Mrs. McLaughlin on a black one. The former was smart in a chartreuse green linen frock with plaited skirt and the latter was in white.

Mrs. Albert B. Dick, whose husband is president of the Horse Show association, had with her her debutante daughter, Helen; Miss Helen Mary Bryan, Miss Jean Van Sinderen, Mrs. Ted King, Mrs. William Watkins, and Mrs. William W. Brainard Jr. Miss Dick was charming with a white carnation in her hair and a soft pink wooly coat covering her white frock. Subdeb Hary Louanna Jelke is as pretty as a picture, and she looked especially well yesterday in a bright purple skirt and a yellow blouse which she had to cover with a yellow slicker early in the afternoon. Colorful, too, was the costume of Mrs. William R. Odell Jr. The dress was of brown, gold, rose, and green striped silk, the stripes running around, and over it she wore a peach sweater. Her hat was a white panama, an immensely popular sort of hat with the audience.

Mrs. John J. Jelke, Mary Louanna's mother, stood at the rail before the rain with Mrs. Odell, looking chic in a chartreuse printed gown and a cypress green sweater. Bradford Ripley's bright pink shirt, checked cap, raincoat, and umbrella tucked under his arm gave him a very English appearance. Young Mrs. Watson Armour's dark suntan was set off to advantage by a white turban. Her suit was of dark blue and white pin stripes that ran diagonally.

Mrs. J. Andrews King's dress and coat were alike, of light weight wool in a soft rosy beige. She wore about a dozen strands of pearls. Mrs. Donald Ryerson, who sat with her, was all in white except for a short sleeved sweater of blue.

Mrs. Morrison Waud and her wee Diana and Mrs. Solomon B. Smith and her tiny Wendy were two of the most picturesque mother and daughter pairs.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Portrait of a business girl making good use of her leisure! Exercise, especially the outdoor kind that combines pleasure with the healthy improvement of muscle tone, is one of the best of all beauty aids for the girl who works.

This is the season when the business girl, who needs exercise more than any other woman, can get it—absolutely free.

You working girls will find yourselves immensely refreshed after following an exercise program for even a short time. Your skin will be better, your figure will improve, and all the end-of-the-day lassitude that is the career woman's greatest curse will disappear. We'd give just about anything if we could make the sedentary workers realize what miracles good exercise can bring about, and our idea of the golden age is the one where daily periods of exercise will be part of the day!

Right now, with the weather so beautiful and the outdoors so inviting, there are dozens of things you can do that will pay beauty and health dividends. There's walking. It's still one of the best muscle toners and stretchers, provided your posture is what it should be. In the cool of the twilight if you haven't a bicycle or if you can't swim or ride a horse you can at least go for a long, brisk walk. Your nerves will all come nicely undone and your walk will have the immediate virtue of making you sleep better.

Bicycling is marvelous. It's a normalizing exercise, as good for the too thin as for the too fat. And it's inexpensive. You can rent bikes most everywhere these days. Take to the streets with a minimum of trafic and try it!

Horseback riding presents some difficulties in a large, busy city, but these can be circumvented. It's a grand form of exercise and rather more fun than most. A great theatrical producer told us one time that horseback riding was compulsory for the young women he trained for the stage. He felt that it was more than an aid to health and beauty; learning to control a horse was his formula for the kind of serenity and poise nothing could shatter.

It doesn't matter much what exercise you take up. Anything that gets you out of doors and makes your muscles do the good work will do. The important thing is to start!

Club Book Talks.

The Thursday afternoon book discussions at the Army and Navy club have became so popular that the wives of the governors have asked that they be resumed in mid-July. Harry Thornton Moore will lead a discussion on the novels of John Steinbeck following luncheon at the club today.

Guests Await 2 Garden Parties on North Shore

BY JUDITH CASS.

ENTERTAINING out of doors becomes increasingly popular every year. Chicagoans have two gay garden parties to which to look forward. One will be an all day party on July 8 at the Lake Forest estate of Mrs. Harry M. McIntosh, who annually opens Belorme for a benefit for the Lake Bluff orphanage.

The other will be a garden tea for which Mr. and Mrs. Horace White Armstrong are opening their Winnetka home at Sheridan and Willow roads on Monday. The English-Speaking union is giving the tea, with Sir Adrian Boult, distinguished British conductor, as the especial guest.

The party at Mrs. McIntosh's always is an informal affair, and a popular one with young and old. A pet show, introduced successfully at last year's party, will be held again, with Helen Niblack again as manager. Irene Castle McLaughlin will be the judge.

Luncheon and Tea Will Be Served.

Luncheon and tea will be served at gay tables in the shade of the giant oaks and within sight of a luxuriant rose garden. There will be fortune tellers, puppet shows, pony rides, flower and gift booths, and a fashion show.

Mrs. Alden B. Swift and Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell are co-chairmen of the benefit. Mrs. T. Philip Swift, Mrs. Thomas Connors, Mrs. Marvin Pool, Mrs. Owen West, Mrs. Nicholas Starosselsky, Mrs. Alexander H. Revell Jr., Mrs. Wirt Morton, Mrs. Albert D. Williams Jr., and Mrs. Percy Wilson are on the committee.

Miss Jean Armstrong, elder daughter of the Armstrongs, is a director of the English Speaking union, of which Rufus C. Dawes is the newly elected president. Sir Adrian is to be the guest conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra during the first two weeks of the Ravinia festival, which opens next Thursday night. The hours of the party are from 5 until 7 o'clock.

Rummage Sale at Lake Geneva.

Horticulture hall and the gardens adjoining, in Lake Geneva, Wis., will be humming with activity today as the annual rummage sale for the benefit of Holiday home is held. Mrs. Frances Lowden Drake has sent up two truckloads of furniture, clothing, and china to be disposed of in the sale.

Some of the articles are from the old Prairie avenue home of her grandfather, the late George M. Pullman. One, a large screen of hand tooled leather with lots of gold in it, is said to be worth several hundred dollars. Mrs. William F. Petersen, chairman of the benefit, has priced the screen at $50, and if it isn't sold she and some of the committee will buy it and give it to the Lake Geneva Country club.

Mrs. Drake's sister, Mrs. Alfred F. Madlener Jr., is president of the Holiday Home association. She and Mrs. Drake have donated some of the furnishings from the Lake Forest home of their father, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden. Mrs. A. Frederick Gartz Jr. has contributed an interesting item, a model caravel of silver.

The cake and cookie niche where the specialties of lake shore cooks will be placed on sale will be in charge of Mrs. Earle Zimmerman and her daughter, Miss Jane, and Miss Sara Peace. Mrs. Henry H. Porter and Mrs. Henry Hammersley will be in charge of the clothing section; Mrs. William P. Finney, Mrs. Charles G. Frank, and Mrs. Harry L. Macdon-

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Water Under the Bridge.

Hollywood, Cal., June 21.—"Remember the night we went to Brooklyn?" asked Claudette Colbert at a party the other night. . . . The others lifted their eyebrows in astonishment, so we had to explain it. . . . It was on one of the Colbert trips to New York, and you can get an approximate date from the fact that we had dinner at the Central Park Casino.

I'd always wanted to take a girl to the Central Park Casino who could order her dinner in French, and Claudette was the answer to an à la carte prayer. . . . Even the captain regarded me with new respect at the linguistic prowess of my fair companion.

In the middle of this there came a telephone call from the Loew outfit. . . . I'd promised to go to the Pitkin Avenue theater in Brooklyn to judge an amateur contest. . . . Claudette went along. . . . When I started to introduce her the audience thought it was a gag. . . . When the spotlight hit her there was a gasp of surprise and then the most amazing tumult of applause that's been heard in Brooklyn since the Dodgers won a double-header from the Giants.

There was a girl, an amateur on the bill, and when she was introduced to the movie star, her eyes popped out. . . . "What do you do?" asked Miss Colbert. "I'd like to see your act." . . . The youngster said that she whistled. . . . So Claudette stood in the wings while the girl whistled, and then autographed a piece of paper for her.

It was a great night at the Pitkin Avenue theater when glamor dropped out of the clouds and a Brooklyn girl whistled "The Last Rose of Summer."

"He took you to the Pitkin Avenue theater," said Loretta Young, "but he took me to the aquarium and a heavyweight championship fight." . . . Then Colbert stared across the table: "You took me to hear a girl whistler."

Loretta went on: "It was the fight between Max Baer and Jimmy Braddock and we sat in the working press." . . . There never was a heavyweight fight to match that one for unexpectedness. . . . The experts in the press row kept bending over to Loretta and assuring her that any minute Baer would knock Braddock into her lap, that he was just carrying Jimmy along.

But at the end of the fight nobody had been knocked into any one's lap and the heavyweight championship crown had been knocked off Baer's slap-happy head. . . . Later we went to Dempsey's, where Miss Young of Salt Lake renewed acquaintance with Mr. Dempsey of Salt Lake, and Dempsey uttered a prophecy that was fairly prophetic. "I'm afraid," said Dempsey, "that our Mr. Baer is a bum."

It was an evening of reminiscences. Last time I'd seen the pianist in the band was in Paris, in a Montmartre club . . . we had gone there with Maurice Chevalier to hear a French girl singer who owned the place. . . . The singer was very unhappy. The place was bankrolled by a Chinaman, who made his money manufacturing firecrackers. . . . As a result of the trouble which was starting with Japan, his fireworks business had been shot to pieces and he had notified the girl singer that he would have to withdraw his support.

She pointed out the Chinese gentleman to us. . . . He was sitting in a rear table, thoughtfully tearing a piece of paper. . . . Most night club owners, Caucasian or Chinese, wind up just that way, tearing paper.

"Remember the day we went to prison?" asked Fred MacMurray. . . . This time there was no mistaking the expressions of interest. . . . MacMurray, at the time, was playing with the California Collegians in the stage hit, "Roberta," and we were staging a big show at Sing Sing. . . . In the front row sat Col. Snyder, later to hit page 1 as "The Gimp." . . . From time to time the colonel made his way backstage to me: "Listen, pal," he'd say, "when are you goin' to put on the little lady?" . . . The "little lady" was Ruth Etting, who had come along on the trip, and as always, the colonel was fighting for a good position on the bill for her.

Peggy Joyce acted as mistress of ceremonies. . . . Just before she went on stage Miss Joyce carelessly divested herself of an ermine coat and handed it to one of the trusties in the wings. . . . "You picked the right Gee to hold this, Miss Joyce," he said. "I'm doing a tenner for a fur loft job." . . . Peggy carried it off with a smile, but she kept her eye on him between introductions of acts.

Let the Tinkle of Ice Be Plea to Help Needy

BY IRENE STEYSKAL.

The tinkle of ice against glass—it is so familiar in summer to most families that few persons ever consider that it means anything but pleasure.

But if Miss Edna May Wray of the United Charities could be the interpreter, that sound would be a definite signal. It would serve as a reminder to every adult contemplating a cool drink and to every boy and girl sitting at a soda fountain. Miss Wray would like them to recall that there are basement and attic rooms and hot and over crowded flats where a 10 cent piece of ice or the lack of it can mean the difference between acute suffering or relief, health or illness and, in some cases, even life or death.

Miss Wray has been administrator of the free ice fund of Tribune Charities, Inc., for ten years. There have been seasons when, through the family welfare offices of the United Charities and other agencies, she has distributed free ice tickets for more than half a million pounds of ice—all provided by donations from TRIBUNE readers. As many as 700 families have been supplied with ice coupons in a season.

But even in the years of most generous giving—last summer was not one of them—it has been possible to answer only a fraction of the pleas from the needy.

Already the requests for ice coupons are flooding Miss Wray's office, letters from worried mothers who read in the mounting thermometer the threat that the baby's milk will sour; from consumptives and patients suffering from heart diseases; from the aged; from physicians who require ice in treating persons too poor to buy it.

One woman of 82, who is subsisting on an old age pension, has written, "today it is pretty warm in my attic room. It soon will be very hot again. I think every summer that I won't be able to stand another one. I will be so thankful if you can send me some ice tickets, as you did last summer."

One aged man requesting ice tickets, explains, "my wife has been confined to bed for two years. She must have three injections of insulin daily, and this drug must be kept in an ice box."

After the fishing tackle has been checked and rechecked, the camera loaded, the boots, bathing suits, slacks and shorts all packed and the car tuned up for that vacation trip, there is still one thing to remember:

A gift of $1 will supply a needy family, one that will have no chance to escape the hot days in the city, with a week's supply of ice. Grateful acknowledgement will be made of all contributions sent to the Free Ice Fund, Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower.

Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

(Copyright: 1939: By News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Gruenwald, in a café in Vienna, hear the radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. The girl, Marian, has been staying in Franz's home, studying voice. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. Josef von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book. He refuses to flee the country and leave his wife, Gisela, and son, Johann, who has the mind of a child. Leopoldine, a pro-Nazi woman surgeon, is love with Franz, sends for him and asks him to send the American girl home, threatening him if she doesn't go. Her brother, Karl, is a Storm Trooper. Gisela confides in Marian that she is worried about getting her money out of the country. Marian promises to take it out for her and deliver it to Emil Wiedermann, a friend, in Riga. Marian takes a room with an Austrian linguist, Frau Radovic. Von Plasy is taken off to jail.

INSTALMENT X.

A VICTIM.

Marian went into the Volksgarten and sat at a veranda table and ate some kuchen without tasting it and drank a cup of coffee.

The bells began to ring from all the steeples, even the proud ancient spire of old St. Stephen's. She heard them faintly, hardly audible above the roaring and the rattling, the shouting and the singing. Bright white flashes from photographers' flash bulbs filled the Heldenplatz as the Fuehrer stepped out and showed himself on the center balcony of the Neuehofburg. He would not speak tonight, but tomorrow.

Marian sat on where she was, numb with exhaustion, while the crowds withdrew and the sounds receded. Later she found a taxi to take her home.

It was a surprise to find that Franz was there waiting for her, his young face grimmer than she had yet seen it, his eyes feverishly anxious.

He strained her in his arms in Frau Radovic's bristling drawing room. "Dear God, I thought something had happened to you. You left no word where you had gone."

"Franz, darling, no, I just wandered. I didn't dream I would be out so late."

He was holding her so tightly that he was hurting her. Impossible not to feel that he was under some special stress. "Franz, what is it? Tell me quickly, what is the matter?"

"It's the worst, darling; I hate to tell you——"

"O, I know—I know. It's the darling old professor."

Franz relaxed his terrible grip and drew her head on his shoulder. "It was the shock, you see. He's been suffering for years with a terribly weak heart."

"Franz!" Marian was weeping now. "You don't mean he's dead?"

"Yes, I do. But it's above board, I think. At least they're going to return his body."

"Gisela's bearing it."

"My dear, what will she do?"

"Go away, of course. There's no life for her any more in this bedeviled city."

Franz released Marian and took a cigaret out of his pocket. She saw his lean brown fingers tremble as he lit it. "You can come to see Gisela if you like. Do you want to see her?"

Marian hesitated. She did not know how she would face those deep astonished wounded eyes. She faltered—"I wonder if you will understand me. I do—and yet I don't."

"I understand, liebling. I will come for you tomorrow."

"Early?"

"No, I must work as usual. The shops are closed, but the laboratory is going full swing. I will come for you at 6 o'clock."

Marian did not offer to go alone before he came. She could not yet face the thought of being alone with Gisela. There was a point beyond which her immature courage could not go.

She went to bed, but did not sleep. For hours her mind worked on the problem of Gisela's money. It would be madness to try to take it out unchanged. She must get marks for it somehow. And if she had the marks dare she risk them?

Like a miracle the solution came to her. Too restless to endure the oppressive hours indoors, she went out to sit in the local cafés, listen to the radio and wander through the open streets. The noise and bustle on the Kaerntnerstrasse drove her to the quiet streets behind the main thoroughfares. Now she had occasion to observe the character of the Seilerstatte. One after another she passed the little foreign stamp shops. She paused unseeingly at one of the windows and became suddenly aware of a precious stamp standing alone in a little frame.

It was like an answer to prayer. She had heard of them—these fantastically precious stamps which by their rarity commanded and retained their prices more surely than precious stones—all over the world. She could carry a fortune in a little envelope in her handbag. Her heart leaped against her ribs. The door of the shop was open.

The rare Franz Josef stamp in the frame transpired to be a forgery exhibited by the dealer partly as a matter of interest and partly to tempt the stamp collector to halt and examine the stock. It was soon apparent to Marian that he was too poor to carry a stock of really expensive stamps.

Acting her rôle of wealthy American tourist and expert stamp collector she shook her head sadly over the cheap everyday specimens in his books. But he told her what she wanted to know. "If you want the genuine issue like this," he said, indicating the counterfeit, "I know the man who has one—and others that would interest you. I know because I obtained them for him. He might be willing to part with one. If you like I will give you his name."

She watched him write the name Herr Otto Speyer, Prinz Eugen strasse. "It's near the Belvedere. If I were you I'd go and call on him. He's nearly always in. But he will not answer the telephone."

Marian thanked the man gratefully.

It was only too probable that Herr Otto Speyer was out watching history in the making, but if so she could call again. Tomorrow, any day, schillings might be withdrawn to make way for marks. And once Marian had made up her impetuous mind there was never any time to be lost.

Herr Speyer, however, proved to be no lover of demonstrations. He preferred the luxurious quietness of his somber garden-embowered home. But his servant was out, and after Marian had rung his front door bell for the fourth time he came and answered it himself. A genial ivory-faced wrinkled old man, wearing an embroidered skull cap with swinging tassel, holding in his palm the bowl of a long, delicate meerschaum pipe. Marian's nervousness left her.

"I hope I don't disturb you," she said with her fresh debonair young charm. "A dealer in the Seilerstaette sent me to you because I am looking for some special foreign stamps."

He opened the door wider. "You are very welcome. A fellow philatelist. Well, you are starting an entrancing occupation very young. Please step inside."

She followed him through a dim hall which left an impression of red curtains and the pale gleam of old marble busts and into a booklined room where a shaded daylight lamp threw an island of white light on a polished table. Trays full of stamps, collecting books lying open, pincers, magnifying glasses, watermark trays indicated that she had indeed disturbed him at his hobby. He was not mounting his stamps in a book, however, but creating a picture of the Karlskirche in Vienna by combining the stamps on a mounting board. Marian exclaimed with pleasure when she saw it. "Why, how clever you are! That's quite beautiful."

He pulled a chair for her at the table. "Thank you, my dear Fraulein——"

"Marian Taylor of Long Island, Herr Speyer."

"Fraulein Taylor for admiring it. Other philatelists say it's an extremely childish occupation for a mature mind, in fact quite an insult to the more serious side of the work." His eyes twinkled. She felt him measuring her very shrewdly with those gleaming old eyes. "Now what can I do for you?"

"Well, I'm collecting, as you have probably gathered, and Herr Haydn in the Seilerstaette said you might be willing to part with some of your special stamps."

"I might. But they are very costly, you know."

"That does not matter. I mean I was aware of that."

Quits Job at Boy's Request and He Cools

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Lonesome" tells that she gave up a good position to come to the city in which her fiancé lives. This she did at his request. The matter of getting another job in the big city has been most discouraging. At present she is forced to get along on less than half the income she enjoyed back home and, of course, she finds the living expenses now double, if not tripled.

For a few months after her arrival in the city her fiancé was devoted. Then his attentions began to wane, until now he only comes to see the girl on pressure.

"I'm despondent over the whole thing. I would go back willingly myself, but I hate to face my friends and family back there. It would mean too much explaining. I am sure I could get my old job back again, but there is still the feeling in my heart for this man that I have to reckon with. I don't know if I could stand it away from him. He says grudgingly that he still cares for me and that there isn't any other girl—but that he gets discouraged about money and the cost of living and so on. What is your opinion?"

◆

That bears out the old theory about distance and the heart remaining fonder. Maybe it would be a good idea for you to return home, get your job back, and see what happens. He may get lonesome for you, too, and get up courage enough to make the plunge into matrimony.

It is better to go back and face the music—best faced without a word of explanation at all—than cling to the uncertainty you now feel.

ald are in charge of toys; Mrs. E. B. Frost, Mrs. Storrs B. Barrett, and Mrs. George Hotton will sell books, and Mrs. Harry Gifford and Mrs. James G. Allen will have the china and glassware booth. Mrs. E. C. Blomeyer is the furniture chairman.

Yachts to Escort Norwegian Royalty.

A pleasant afternoon is in store today for sailing and cruising enthusiasts who keep their yachts in Belmont harbor. And there won't be a race on the program. Ships in the harbor will cast moorings at 2 o'clock and sail up to the Montrose harbor to meet Albert I. Appleton's Apelco, on which Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princess Martha of Norway are traveling from Milwaukee to Chicago.

The entire Belmont harbor fleet and yachts from the Columbia, Wilmette, Jackson Park and South Shore yacht clubs will act as a convoy to the Apelco from Montrose to the Chicago Yacht club clubhouse. The royal visitors expect to be landed in Belmont harbor at 4:30 o'clock.

Their trip from Milwaukee will furnish excitement for yacht clubs all the way. The Apelco will be escorted out of Milwaukee harbor by cruisers and sailboats of the Milwaukee Yacht club, headed by Commodore Louis Quarles. As they leave the harbor the crown prince and princess will be given a twenty-one gun salute. As they pass the Great Lakes Naval Training station, a similar salute will be fired and the Norwegian national anthem will be played by the training station band.

Off Evanston the party will be joined by the harbor master of the Chicago Park district. Aftey they arrive, the royal couple will visit the Viking ship in Lincoln park, and then go to the Blackstone hotel for dinner.

Couple to Attend Glee Club Concert.

While the crown prince and princess are attending the Norwegian Glee club concert tonight in Orchestra hall, Chicago Yacht club members will end the day at a Capt. Kidd buffet supper and sailing party in the Belmont Harbor clubhouse.

Tonight's concert will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the glee club. Crown Prince Olav will address the audience.

The royal visitors will spend tomorrow in Springfield as guests of Gov. Horner. They will leave for the east from Chicago tomorrow night. While in Springfield they will attend a luncheon at the Mid-Day club. Following luncheon the crown prince will lay a wreath on the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, and then the group will visit public buildings and landmarks in the Springfield area.

Shreve C. Badger Weds in East Today.

Cecelia and Theodora Badger, daughters of Shreve Cowles Badger; Otto Madlener, and Prince Rostislav have gone east to attend the marriage today of Mr. Badger and Mrs. Lucy Norton Throckmorton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Leonard of New York. The wedding will take place in Amagansett on Long Island. Mr. Madlener's fiancée, Miss Elaine Wetmore, also will be present.

Mr. Badger and his bride will be at home in his Arlington place house after July 15. At that time the Badger girls will go to Vergennes, Vt., to spend the rest of the summer with their mother, Mrs. Winterbotham Badger, and grandmother, Mrs. John H. Winterbotham.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Doris L. Nohren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Nohren, to George W. Murison II., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Murison, will take place at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon in the John Timothy Stone chapel of the Fourth Presbyterian church. The Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson will officiate.

Mr. Murison is a graduate of the University of Illinois and of the Yale Architectural school, and is a member of the American Institute of Architects. Miss Nohren, a graduate of Northwestern university, is a vice president of the Women's Bar association of Illinois. After July 15 Mr. Murison and his bride will be at home at 5832 Stony Island avenue.

Miss Janet Mabel Sheahan, daughter of Frank Sheahan of 11227 South Artesian avenue, will become the bride of John Glen Speirs of 642 Belden avenue, at 8 o'clock Saturday at the Thorndike Hilton chapel of the University of Chicago.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Elizabeth Forster to William Hugh Challis Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Welles Doyle of Evanston, will take place at 8:30 Saturday night at the Georgian hotel.

The marriage on June 17 of Miss Catherine Darling to Fred Lee Barnes Jr. has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Noble Darling of Chicago.

Miss Pauline Mills, daughter of Mrs. A. W. Mills of Evanston, became the bride of William Porter Swisher on June 19.

Mrs. F. Allison Moore of 124 Clyde avenue, Evanston, announces the marriage on June 17 of her daughter, Margaret, to Francis D. Roth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Roth of Winnetka.

TODAY'S RADIO BROADCASTS

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

[Central daylight saving time.]

A description of the arrival of King George and Queen Elizabeth at Southampton, England, will be given over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system beginning at 9:10 a. m.

Lightning Jim, popular western drama on W-G-N at 7:30 p. m., will present "The Real Goldilocks." Working from bits of evidence, which were given inadvertently by a young woman, Lightning Jim Whipple and his faithful deputy, Whitey Larson, are able to discover the solution to the mysterious disappearance of gold dust from a government assayer's office. Francis X. Bushman plays the part of Lightning Jim and Henry Hoople is heard as his deputy.

At 9:30 p. m. the Concert Revue, directed by Henry Weber and featuring the singing of Kathryn Witwer, William Miller, and the mixed octet, will be presented from W-G-N's main audience studio. Themes from Gilbert and Sullivan will highlight the program. Miller will sing. "O, That We Two Were Maying," by Nevin, and will join Miss Witwer and the octet in the Gilbert and Sullivan selections. Miss Witwer will do "La Partida," by Alverez, for her solo.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Thursday, June 22.

Emotional stress may appear in the morning; smooth it out—don't take sides, even your own, if calling for definite statements or writings. Afternoon hours are much better, offering clearer vision on the basis of more accurate information.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead from today, your anniversary, brings more chance for occupational expansion, but avoid extremes. June 12-Oct. 6 responsibility connected with friends or partners. Danger: Dec. 30-Jan. 9; May 6-25, 1940.

Tomorrow.

To get your 1939 Personal horoscope send 10 cents to Wynn, Tribune Astrologer, 286 Fifth avenue, New York City. Write plainly your name, date of birth, and address.

Tavern Art Show.

An exhibition of the work of Raoul Josset, Chicago sculptor, who is a member of the Tavern club, has been installed in the club's rooms by the art committee. "Three Years in Texas" is the title of the show, which covers sculptural work for the Dallas Centennial Exposition and memorials for the board of control of Texas.

Nature Lovers to Have Second Dunes School

You need purchase no textbooks, should you be planning to attend the school in the dunes. With pages spread open invitingly, they are on hand, ready for your perusal—leagues of land and lake and a noble sweep of sky.

The Duneland school for nature study was launched last summer by the Friends of Our Native Landscape as a new and important adjunct for spreading its gospel of conservation.

Its second term, a one-week session, will open next Sunday evening at the hub of activity, the Dune Acres clubhouse, which crowns a giant dune just west of Dunes State park in Indiana.

"A friendly school in a friendly place," its sponsors describe it. It addresses an invitation to "every one who finds refreshment of spirit in the out-of-doors to share its learning, its companionable search for plant and bug and bird and star, its informality, its sweaty exertions when the day is hot, its twilight calm, its evening song, its peace of spirit."

The brevity of the course calls for an intensive schedule, and that is what the school will offer: Early morning bird walks, midmorning lectures; afternoon field trips, evening lectures, and—weather permitting—outdoor star talks, during which 7 and 9 inch telescopes will be trained on the sky.

Drawn by their interest in the work, an imposing array of scientists and artists lectured last summer. Several will return to the Duneland school this term.

BLAKE ANSWERS

Scheduled Dates All Right.

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think I am wrong by asking the one I love to keep Saturdays and Sundays reserved for me? These are the only days we can get together.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

Bridge players sometimes ask me: "How about these very long huddles that I read about in expert play? Is there really any sound reason for a player to sit and think five minutes before playing a card?" Sometimes I merely answer "yes"; at other times I let the account of a hand such as the following speak for me:

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ 4 2
♦ A 4 3 2

WEST
♠ J 5
♥ A J 9 5 3
♦ 8 7
♣ J 10 6 2

EAST
♠ 10 8 7 2
♥ 10 8 6
♦ J 9 6
♣ 7 5 4

SOUTH
♠ A K Q 3
♥ K Q 7
♦ K Q 10 5
♣ A 9

This hand occurred in an England vs. Austria team-of-four match. With neither side vulnerable the English team, playing North-South, reached a six diamond contract and, of course, had no trouble fulfilling it. At the other table Austria reached six no trump with South the declarer. West, obviously looking for a safe opening, led the diamond eight. The play developed as follows:

Declarer won three rounds of diamonds in his own hand and the fourth round in dummy, West discarding the three and five of hearts, and East the four of clubs. A heart was then led to the king. West won and, after considerable study, returned the jack of spades. South won and cashed two more rounds of spades, West now letting go the nine of hearts. This left the position as follows:

NORTH
♠ None
♥ 4
♦ None
♣ K Q 8 3

WEST
♠ None
♥ J
♦ None
♣ J 10 6 2

EAST
♠ 10
♥ 10 8
♦ None
♣ 7 5

SOUTH
♠ 3
♥ Q 7
♦ None
♣ A 9

Now, all declarer had to do was lead three rounds of clubs, and East would have been squeezed to death. On the third round, if he let go the spade ten, declarer would discard the heart seven and his spade three would be perfectly good. If East decided to let go a heart, declarer would throw the spade three, and the queen and seven of hearts would both be good.

Apparently, however, declarer felt that the defensive position was now quite different. He was afraid that it was East who had clubs stopped, along with the high spade which was already located. If that were true, the lead of the heart queen before entering dummy with the clubs would force East to let go the high spade or to unguard the club suit. Hence, declarer cashed the heart queen—and the squeeze vanished.

Now let us consider whether or not declarer should have known the true position of cards. First, East had let go one club on the fourth round of diamonds, which immediately suggested that he did not hold the club stopper [unless he had started with five or more]. More important than that, however, was West's return lead after taking the heart ace. West had returned the spade jack and, as it later developed, could not have had any knowledge about East's holding in the suit and the fact that this jack lead would be safe. If East had really held the A-J-10 of hearts [which declarer's calculation made necessary, since the heart ten had not yet appeared, and he figured East was void], West certainly would have returned the heart jack as a perfectly safe exit card. Thus declarer could be absolutely certain that West had not started with the A-J-10 of hearts and this would have led him to the conclusion that the only propitious squeeze play was to run three rounds of clubs in the hope that East would have to let go his high spade or unguard the heart suit.

Television Viewed by 15,000 in 2 Days; Extend Engagement

During the first two days of television demonstrations, held daily in Marshall Field & Co.'s loop store in coöperation with the Radio Corporation of America and the National Broadcasting company, 15,000 persons have viewed the telecasts. The showings are continuous from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily.

Store officials have arranged to continue the demonstrations through July 3 and have taken options on the show for purchase, or for additional showings beyond this date.

Television spectators stand 12 and 15 deep around a glass studio where radio artists from NBC and models perform. Sometimes amateurs or lively youngsters are picked from the visitors for an appearance before the television camera. After viewing the telecasts the guests proceed to another room and view the images on one of nine receivers.

All express amazement at the clearly defined pictures, according to store officials. The images are about 7 by 11 inches. About 25 persons at a time can view the pictures on one receiver.

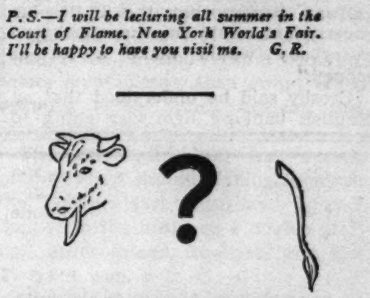
WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

Any woman who has the slightest interest in putting zip and originality into her warm weather meals without too much expenditure of energy, must learn to buy and stock her pantry with a selected variety of easy to serve items.

There are over 75 appetizing Tinned Ready-to-Serve Meat items available under the Wilson Certified label. Many can be opened and served, others require only a few minutes of heating when piping hot meals are required. There's Tender Made Ham, ready to eat or heat only 5 minutes to the pound. Then there's Certified Chickens, Corned Beef Hash—Stews—Sandwich Spreads, Spiced Hams, and oh! so many others, just as delicious, and easily prepared. For a more enjoyable summer, buy your meats, as many as you can, ready to serve—and use them with subtlety and judgment.

George Rector
Food Consultant
Wilson & Co.

P. S.—I will be lecturing all summer in the Court of Flame, New York World's Fair. I'll be happy to have you visit me. G. R.



HEADS OR TAILS?

The remarkable thing about an ox is that the creature seems to be all tongue and tail, with nothing in between, so far as the cook books are concerned. A couple of jars of Wilson's Certified Ox Tongue is an essential on the pantry shelf as it will come in handy for an emergency.

Wilson's Certified Tongue is ready cooked. It may be heated and served with spinach, carrots and hard-cooked eggs, or sliced, chilled, for sandwiches, a cold platter, or cut into tempting little cubes for appetizers.

For a buffet supper or summer luncheon, Tongue in Aspic is a delicious dish, and most pleasing to the eye.

Wilson's Certified Ox Tongue in Aspic

Make 1 pint of Aspic Jelly using a prepared powder if you are in a hurry. Drain the liquid from a jar of Wilson's Ox Tongue and use as part of the liquid for the jelly.

Pour a thin layer of the jelly into a mold rinsed out with cold water. Chill. When set, arrange a layer of attractive garnishes over it—slices of cold beet, strips of green pepper, rings of hard-cooked eggs and stuffed olives. Arrange these according to your artistic mood. Pour a little of the aspic over these garnishes very carefully so as not to disarrange them. Chill and set. Place the tongue in the center of the mold, and pour over it the remainder of the aspic.

LET 'EM COME!

Summer sets the world a-traveling. When the end of the trail is your front doorstep, there is nothing to do but to greet the friends or relations and thank your lucky stars you had the inspiration to have a Wilson's Tender Made Ham on hand, ready for the onslaught.

Carve into it just as it is, give it a hasty heating in the oven (5 minutes to the pound) or first cut off some steaks—it's all the same to a Wilson's Tender Made Ham. Use it, too, for sandwiches, salads and snacks. When you want your guests to leave, tell them the ham is all gone, and they'll move on to the next roost.

If it's you that's doing the trailing, assure your welcome by tucking one of these Tender Made Hams under your arm as a thoughtful offering. Your hostess will appreciate it.

FRAUD IN BOND DEAL ADMITTED, CROSBY SWEARS

Bing's Brother Shies at Buckner Scheme.

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—C. Wesley Turner, a stock speculator, asked Everett Crosby, brother and business manager of Bing Crosby, the crooner, to put up $35,000 to help in an admittedly dishonest deal relating the Philippine railway bonds, Crosby testified today in federal court. He did not contribute a cent, he said.

Turner, William P. Buckner Jr., and three others are on trial before Judge Henry W. Goddard and a jury charged with a million dollar mail fraud in connection with the bonds.

Crosby testified that Turner told him money was needed for expenses and a little fixing here and there. It was brought out that he had testified at a hearing in Los Angeles last January that he had been informed the two men to be fixed were Buencamino and Quezon.

Introduced by Briton.

Crosby testified he had known one of the co-defendants, John Stuart Hyde, Hollywood producer, for fifteen years and that Hyde introduced him to Turner last summer.

"Hyde," he testified, "said a friend of his had a very good deal. He said that he was going to buy Philippine railway bonds, that the Philippine government would buy them back and everybody would make a lot of money."

Crosby said he understood that an English banking firm was going to buy the bonds and then Philippine officials were going to pass legislation to buy them back. The profits, he was assured, were to be colossal.

William P. Maloney, assistant United States attorney, asked Crosby: "Did Turner say why it was to be handled by an English banking firm?"

"He said it was against the law to handle it that way here," replied Crosby. "The securities and exchange commission wouldn't allow it."

Asks $35,000 of Bing.

Crosby testified that Turner wanted Bing to put up $35,000 for expenses, the profits to be 20 per cent.

"What expenses?" asked Maloney.

"O, a trip to England," said the witness, "and a little fixing here and there."

Crosby asserted that Turner admitted the deal was not honest, and said that was the way things had to be done.

Another witness, Alvin Johnson, treasurer of Selznick International corporation, testified that Turner called on him last August and asked for $25,000 to satisfy additional requirements of Buencamino and others.

"I asked him," testified Johnson, "if this wasn't bribery and he said no, that it was a commonly accepted practice in the Philippines."

Describes Rigging Scheme.

Johnson said Turner described a proposed plan to depress the price of the bonds before the deal was put through. He added that Turner told him a rumor would be circulated that Buckner's mission to the Philippines to sell the bonds at $35 had failed.

Turner also tried to get $6,000 from the British actor, Herbert Marshall, his secretary, Helen Dawson, testified. Miss Dawson said Turner did not want to see Marshall's business manager, but stressed that if Marshall put up the $6,000 it would be handled by a British firm and he would not have to pay an income tax here.

Maloney also examined a private investigator, a manufacturer, a dealer in securities, a trustee of estates, a stock broker and a lawyer in relation to activities to raise funds for redemption of the bonds.

MRS. DOROTHY SUNDAY.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 21.—[Special.]—Testifying that her husband no longer cared for her and that he told her to go home to her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Sunday was granted a divorce from George M. Sunday Jr., grandson of the late evangelist, Billy Sunday. The Sundays were married in 1934.

Mother Saves 3 from Fire, Burned as 4th Child Dies

Mrs. Jessie Mae Wasp, 30 years old, colored, saved three of her four small children yesterday when a fire destroyed their shack at 2523 Cleveland street, in Gary. The fourth child died in the flames, and the mother was burned critically trying to reach him. Mrs. Wasp, a widow, was awakened by the flames. She picked up her twins, Joseph and Josephine, 2 years old, and ran outside, shouting to Willis and Nathan, 5 years old, also twins, to follow her. Only Willis was able to get out. Mrs. Wasp then tried in vain to reach Nathan.

DAPPER DON, 59, GETS 15 TO 30 YEARS IN CELL

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—Dapper Don Collins, notorious swindler and thief, was sentenced in the Court of General Sessions today to serve fifteen to thirty years in prison for extortion. Judge Koenig also sentenced Collins to serve concurrently seven and a half to fifteen years on a charge of attempted extortion. Sentence for impersonating a federal officer was suspended.

Collins, 59 years old, was convicted May 15 of extorting $200 from Mrs. Helen Modzelewski by posing as a federal officer and threatening to reveal that her husband entered the country illegally. The report of the chief probation officer, Irving W. Halpern, said Collins has been arrested twenty-nine times since 1908 and has been an extortioner, blackmailer, swindler, and rum runner, as well as a participant in less polished crimes such as robbery and assault.

FIRE KILLS 7; CHINATOWN IN N. Y. MENACED

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—Seven persons were burned to death today when fire swept two tenement buildings in Doyers street. Eight other residents of the building and eight firemen were injured. The blaze threatened to wipe out much of Manhattan's Chinatown.

The fire started in a reconstructed building where twenty persons were burned to death thirty years ago.

When firemen arrived, flames were leaping from the two buildings and hundreds of Chinese were in panic. Most of those who lost their lives had been trapped as they slept. It was estimated 200 persons were in the buildings when the fire was discovered.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS ENDS GEHRIG'S PLAYING CAREER

STAR TO REMAIN AS CAPTAIN OF YANKEE TEAM

Brings Report from Rochester Clinic.

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—Lou Gehrig, one of baseball's greatest heroes, has accepted calmly a medical verdict that he probably will never play the game again.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees, the team with which Gehrig set a record of 2,130 consecutive games, disclosed today that physicians at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., had found the veteran first baseman a sufferer from chronic infantile paralysis.

There was almost an air of relief about Gehrig as he confirmed this.

"At least I know now what's the matter with me," he said. "I am told that with proper treatment and rest I may regain my health. I've already started taking the injections the doctors ordered."

His Future Is Uncertain.

Several New York physicians marveled that baseball's iron man had been able to continue so long [he benched himself voluntarily in Detroit on May 2] while he had the disease, which shows itself in a wasting or atrophy of the muscles.

"Only a man of remarkable constitution could have kept going for the last two years under the circumstances," they said.

Gehrig's future is uncertain. For the present season he will continue as non-playing captain of the Yankees. Edward G. Barrow, club president, indicated that he would be given an unconditional release at the end of the season, if he desires it. The smiling sufferer was in uniform as usual today.

The trip of the first baseman, who is now 36 and well aged as ball players go, to the Mayo clinic was made last week. He went under observation there on June 13. Six days were required to complete the diagnosis. The formal report on his condition, signed by Dr. Harold C. Habein, read:

"This is to certify that Mr. Lou Gehrig has been under examination at the Mayo clinic from June 13 to 19, 1939.

Lou Earns $400,000.

"It was found that he is suffering from amyotrophic lateral sclerosis. This type of illness involves the motor pathways and cells of the central nervous system and in lay terms is known as a form of chronic poliomyelitis [infantile paralysis].

"The nature of the trouble makes it such that Mr. Gehrig will be unable to continue his active participation as a baseball player, inasmuch as it is advisable that he conserve his muscular energy. He could, however, continue in some executive capacity."

It was not indicated whether an executive place would be made for Gehrig next year. His duties as non-playing captain are not onerous, the only exercise necessary being the walk up to the plate at the start of each game to deliver the official team lineup to the umpire.

Gehrig is believed to have a comfortable fortune. His salary in 1925, his first season as a regular, was only $3,750. In his fifteen seasons, however, he has earned more than $400,000 in salaries and world series purses.

His playing held up well to the end of the 1938 season. In spring training this year he was unable to get going. Sports writers noticed in Florida that his coördination bordered on the pitiful. He was unable to hit beyond the infield, in most games, and his fielding was poor. At the time he took himself out of the game he was batting only .143.

Takes Verdict Stoically.

From Rochester came an unofficial report showing that the veteran had taken the verdict stoically. In the course of the examinations he was told that it appeared unlikely that he could ever play baseball again. Then,

After Tonight.

After tonight there will be time for tears,
Let us be bright and blithesome while we may,
Thinking of the heedless, happy years
When our young hearts were jubilant and gay;
Why should we peer into the future gloom
Seeking the bitter pangs that parting brings?
After the shadows lift there will be room
For the sad songs that somber sorrow sings.

Let us pretend we shall not feel the pain
Of separation, though our hearts be sore;
Better to laugh and revel once again,
Though after this we mourn for evermore.
What though the coming days be white with fears,
After tonight there will be time for tears. —T. E. B.

PACIFIC COAST TRACK MEN BEAT BIG TEN, 94⅓-36⅔

Midwest Team Wins Only 2 of 15 Events.

Berkeley, Cal., June 21.—(AP)—Pacific coast track athletes demonstrated their superiority over the Big Ten today by winning, 94 1-3 to 36⅔, in the third annual meet between picked teams from the two big conferences. The meet, run at twilight, attracted 12,000 fans.

The coast athletes, rounded up from eight of the ten conference schools, took thirteen first places in the fifteen events. The westerners also scored one clean sweep, in the hundred yard dash.

Schwartzkopf Wins Two Mile.

Times and distances were mostly average, although the 880 yard, mile, and two mile runs produced outstanding speed. Bill Dale, Washington State college, won the half mile in 1:51.5 and Louis Zamperini, Southern California, came through with a winning mile of 4:11.9. In the long race Ralph Schwartzkopf, Michigan captain elect, ran away from the field in 9:12.8.

The coast mile relay quartet beat the Big Ten by inches, according to official ruling, in the closest race of the meet. Motion pictures were to be studied later to confirm the decision. The time was 3:12.8.

Piker Pulls Muscle.

The 440 yard relay was called no contest. Myron Piker of Northwestern pulled a leg muscle while running the first lap and stopped. The coast team finished but the event was not counted.

Clyde Jeffery of Stanford was the individual star, taking the 100 and 220 yard dashes for 10 points. Bill Watson, Negro star of Michigan, was second with 9 points. He took seconds in the discus, shotput, and broad jump.

The Big Ten squad in addition to winning the two mile run took the 220 yard low hurdles, in which Roy Cochran of Indiana hit the tape ahead of Earl Vickery of Southern California in 23.3 seconds.

ONE MILE RUN—Won by Zamperini, Southern California; Mehl, Wisconsin, second; Cole, California, third. Time—4:11.9.

440 YARD RUN—Won by Miller, Southern California; Watts, California, second; Balyeat, Michigan, third. Time—47.4 seconds.

100 YARD DASH—Won by Jeffery, Stanford; Anderson, Southern California, second; Ledford, Washington State, third. Time—9.9 seconds.

SHOT PUT—Won by Andersen, Stanford; Watson, Michigan, second; Wohl, Stanford, third. Distance—53 feet 11⅛ inches.

120 YARD HIGH HURDLES—Won by Humphrey, Southern California; Gutting, Purdue, second; Hathaway, Northwestern, third. Time—14.6 seconds.

880 YARD RUN—Won by Dale, Washington State; Storli, Oregon, second; Petrie, Wisconsin, third. Time—1:51.5.

220 YARD DASH—Won by Jeffery, Stanford; Ledford, Washington State, second; Lewis, Ohio State, third. Time—21.2 seconds.

JAVELIN THROW—Won by Peoples, Southern California; Brown, Oregon, second; Poorman, Indiana, third. Distance—215 feet 1 inch.

HIGH JUMP—Won by Mallery, Southern California; Wilson, Southern California, and Diefenthaler, Illinois, tied for second. Height—6 feet 5¾ inches.

TWO MILE RUN—Won by Schwartzkopf, Michigan; Whittaker, Ohio State, second; Garner, Washington State, third. Time—9:12.8.

220 YARD LOW HURDLES—Won by Cochran, Indiana; Vickery, Southern California, second; Heiserman, Stanford, third. Time—23.3 seconds.

POLE VAULT—Monroe, California, and Varoff, Oregon, tied for first; Day, Southern California, Cassels, Chicago, and Padway, Wisconsin, tied for third. Height—14 feet.

MILE RELAY—Won by Pacific coast [Pettichord, Washington State; Upton, Southern California; Watts, California; Miller, Southern California]. Time—3:12.8.

DISCUS THROW—Won by Zagar, Stanford; Watson, Michigan, second; Haviland, Illinois, third. Distance—158 feet 6¾ inches.

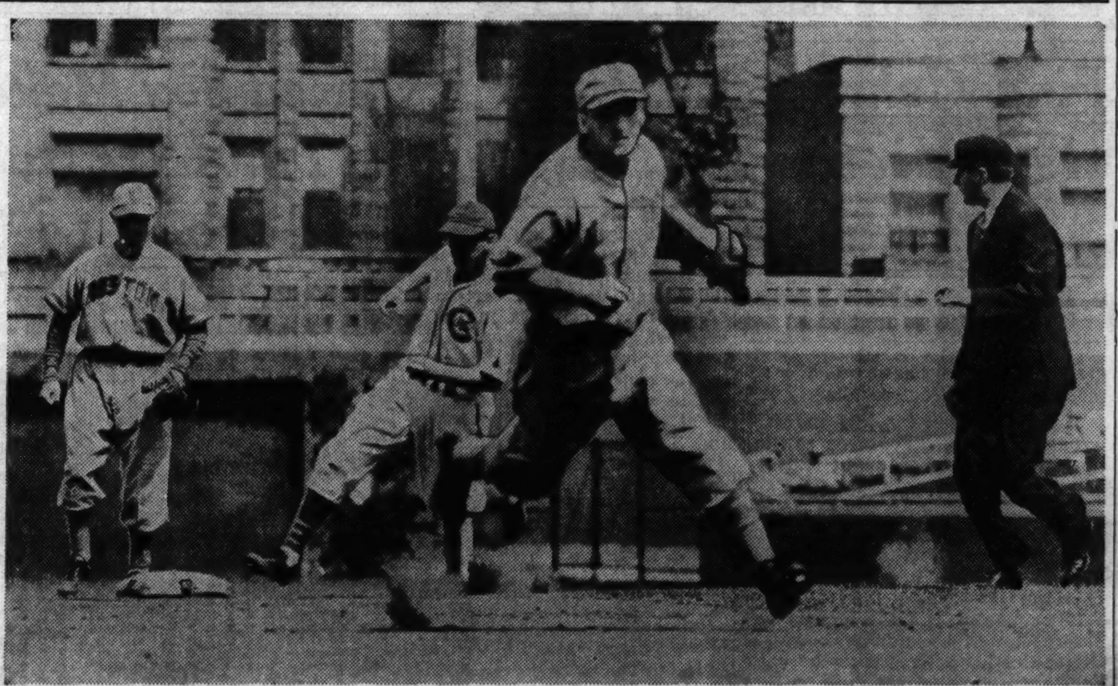
Angott-Scott Fight Put Off Until Monday Night

Louisville, Ky., June 21.—(AP)—The scheduled ten round bout between Sammy Angott of Louisville and Howard Cowboy Scott of Washington, D. C., two of the nation's outstanding lightweights, was postponed tonight for the second time. Promoter Vernon Franklin said the fight, originally scheduled for last Monday night and reset for tonight, would be held Monday night.

Cubs' First Run in the Making



Stan Hack hustles around second on Billy Herman's single in the first inning of yesterday's game against the Boston Bees. Hack scored a moment later with the Cubs first run. Shortstop Miller (foreground) hurries into a position where he can cut off the throw from the outfield, while Second Baseman Warstler and Umpire Stark make sure Hack touches second. Pitcher Lou Fette, ace of the Bees staff, takes a rest after attempting to work the soreness out of his arm. Fette missed the hall of fame by a hit his last time out.

Moreland's 109 Leads Field in State Golf

Champaign, Ill., June 21.—[Special.]—Gus Moreland of Peoria, Ill., one time member of the United States Walker cup team, captured medalist honors today in the 27 hole qualifying round of the ninth annual Illinois Amateur Golf tournament at the Champaign Country club.

Moreland's score was 109, one over par. As in the Illinois State Professional tournament, played earlier in the week, today's program was marred by the weather. A score of contestants withdrew when a terrific wind and rain storm struck at 5 o'clock. The storm delayed the return of several players and blew down the press and score tent.

Moreland went out in 39, came back in 33 for a morning 72, then scored 37 this afternoon being among the fortunate ones who finished before the storm. John Holmstrom of Rockford and the University of Illinois, is the defending champion. He was not forced to qualify but played a practice round and shot 114 for 27 holes. Including Holmstrom, thirty-one qualified for championship play scheduled to start tomorrow morning.

Earle Wilde of Westward Ho Country club, Chicago, trailed Moreland by shooting 110, leading more than a dozen Chicagoans into the qualifying circle. Jack Hoerner of North Shore Country club of Chicago, and Art Andrews, 19 year old Northwestern university student from Peoria, tied for third with 111.

James Frisina, Taylorville, 1938 medalist at Elgin, reported with a 112, the same figure posted by Larry Moeller, the 1937 champion. Warren

Dickey Homer with Mate On Beats Sox, 9-8

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 21.—Knocking Señor Vernon Gomez, kingpin of southpaws, into a state of temporary extinction, proved a hollow honor for the White Sox today. They lathered him with hits for a six run lead. They recovered the lead off his successor, Steve Sundra, but the audacity of the Chicagoans failed to nettle the title-holding Yankees. The champions merely pulled one of their favorite tricks. They belted home three runs, two on Bill Dickey's homer, in the seventh and took their seventh straight from Jim Dykes' warriors, 9 to 8.

The six runs off Gomez, picked up in three pairs, meant nothing at the finish because Thornton [Lefty] Lee couldn't withstand the Yankee pressure. He did well enough for four innings, but in the fifth was blown out of the park by a blast in which five champions crossed the plate. Doc Clint Brown, in his twenty-second rescue job of the season, saw the Yankees tie it in the sixth and then, after his mates had scored two runs off Sundra in the seventh, Brown was nailed for the decision in the same inning by Dickey and pals.

Gomez Was a Cousin.

It was too bad for the Sox batting averages that Señor Gomez wasn't permitted to linger at his trouble strewn task. In his five innings of service the Chicagoans piled up ten assorted hits. One of these, a single, by Eric McNair, drove in two runs in the second. Another pair scored in the third on a single by Gerry Walker. Luke Appling drove in the third pair in the fifth.

Another unhappy occurrence in the life of the Sox was the chasing of Manager Dykes from the scene. Dykes annoyed Umpire Cal Hubbard with some conversation relating to a called ball which Brown pitched over the plate in the seventh so the manager drew his second ouster order of the season.

Sox Score a Pair.

The Sox, after a futile first inning, were so tough on Gomez in the second that four of them reached base before an out was registered. Radcliff inaugurated the scoring movement by singling to left. Walker singled to the same spot and the bases were loaded when Appling walked. McNair punched a single past Crosetti to push Radcliff and Walker across the plate, and put Appling on third. A hit and run was flashed but Tresh missed the ball and Appling was out at the plate, Dickey to Crosetti to Dickey, McNair taking second. Tresh then flied to Henrich and the latter also made a swell catch of Lee's low liner.

Hayes started the two-run affair in

Louis Remains Big Enigma to Interviewers

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pompton Lakes, N. J., June 21.—Joe Louis may be more mature, more confident, and a smoother citizen in the world of pugilism where he rules supreme, but he is no more easily interviewed today than when he trained here four years ago.

Then Joe was preparing for Primo Carnera, his first fight in the east. Those of us who had known him for a year, which dated from his Golden Gloves victories and through his early professional triumphs, felt we could discern the complexity of impressions bubbling in his thoughts. Actually, of course, we described those sentiments and sensations which we thought Joe Louis should have.

He's Earned a Million.

It is doubtful if any one ever has fathomed the reactions of this youngster, for none who tried could measure accurately a path begun in poverty, nor diagram the response to wealth and fame of one with such a background. There are so many adjectives which can not be used to describe Joe Louis.

Louis' story now is as famous as any of Alger's. Moreover, it is authentic. Gradually, however, it has been written in uninspiring facts and phraseology restricted to physical description.

Louis has earned a million dollars. He weighs 202 pounds. His reflexes are automatic; the results devastating. He has no bad habits, as habits are defined for one in his business, nor, possibly, does he enjoy the pleasures his wealth can give him.

STORM IN NINTH HELPS WHITEHILL SCORE SHUTOUT

4th Straight Victory for Chicago.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Earl Whitehill, the Iowa squire, who loves to work at the baseball trade despite his 39 years and a big estate out where the tall corn grows, came back yesterday after three days rest and shut out the Boston Bees, 3 to 0, in a game which was halted in the ninth inning by rain.

The victory was the Cubs' fourth in a row, and tied the champions' best previous streak, on April 23, 24, 25, and 26, when the Cubs won the third game of their season opening series in St. Louis, then swept their opening home series against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The old squire, you may recall, pitched eight shutout innings against the Dodgers last Saturday. A bad bounce in the ninth on a double play ball upset things, however, and the Dodgers won, 5 to 0.

Undaunted, the old gentleman made it clear he wanted to come right back against the Bees, whom he had whipped, 2 to 1, a week ago Saturday, losing a shutout in the ninth. He got the job.

Then Comes the Rain.

And this time the weather man helped Earl avoid the ninth, the inning that had knocked him out in his last two prior starts. After holding the Bees to no threats in eight innings Whitehill pitched a double to Max West at the start of the ninth. It was raining hard, and it was dark at the time, although it was only 3:20 o'clock, sun time, on the longest day of the year. But the umpires signaled to proceed.

Al Simmons popped to Hartnett, who had to exercise caution to keep from losing the ball in a water sheet and a storm cloud. Then the umpires gave up. There was the usual half-hour pause, then the game was called off, everything that happened going into the record books.

It was the second eight inning game of the week in Wrigley Field, but brought no regrets such as the last minute tie effected by the Dodgers in the eight inning rain-dowsed game Monday, which is to be played off later in a double-header.

The Cubs made only five hits in support of Whitehill, three of them in the first inning, one in the fourth, and one in the eighth. The only smack that was wasted was Capt. Bill Herman's second single, in the eighth.

That First Inning Punch.

The first two Cub batsmen accomplished enough to win the match, with a run to spare. Hack opened the Chicago offensive by beating out a single to Warstler and went to third on Herman's single to center. Hack scored on Galan's sacrifice fly, and Reynolds followed with his triple, a drive to center, Herman scoring. The third run came at the start of the fourth. Reynolds drew Posedel's first pass and ran home on Hartnett's double to right.

The Bees, though they outhit the Cubs, 7 to 5, did not get two hits in the same inning until the eighth and did not make an extra baser until West's double in the ninth inning. Henry Majeski was the only Bee to get more than one hit, and each time he went down in a Bartell-Herman-G. Russell double play.

The Cubs have made as many as five errors behind Whitehill but yesterday confined misplays to one. Posedel was safe at the start of the third inning on a fumble by Herman.

GIANTS SCORE EARLY TO BEAT PIRATES, 6 TO 4

Four Runs in First Two Innings Help Melton.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 21.—(AP)—The old master, Carl Hubbell, suppressed the Pirates again today—but it was in a relief appearance and another man got credit for the New York Giants' 6 to 4 victory. Cliff Melton, benefiting by the four runs the Giants amassed in the first two innings, earned his fourth victory.

Midget Drivers Continue Title Contest Tonight

Sam Hanks of Alhambra, Cal., will be a marked man tonight when the midget automobile drivers continue their quest of the world's board track championship on the Soldiers' Field quarter mile raceway. The races will start at 8:30 o'clock, following two hours of time trials.

Hanks, who never raced on a board track before, won the fifty lap class A feature in the opening session Sunday night, and the main event again Tuesday night.

Paul Russo of New York, national board track champion is Hanks' biggest problem. The New York Italian won the pole Sunday night and led the race from the ninth to the thirty-first lap, where tire trouble stopped him. Tuesday night, Russo pressed Hanks in second place until his car again failed.

WINKLER MEETS BIOGRAPH.

Winkler A. C. and Biograph club of the Greater Chicago softball league will play the feature game tonight in Weber park, Wellington and Ashland avenues. Northwest Tigers meet Beaver Carbons and Robin's Tavern plays Park View in other games.

Find Gehrig Is a Victim of Paralysis

gradually the true nature of the ailment was placed before him.

"I knew something was radically wrong," he said. "I've been slowing up faster than a man ought to."

It was said that he met other persons who were suffering from similar complaints. With these he was on friendly terms. Tuesday he attended a party at the clinic and appeared cheerful.

He requested, and the request was observed, that the announcement of the end of his active career be withheld until he could get back to New York and inform McCarthy and Barrow. His last action in Rochester was to autograph a ten cent baseball for a juvenile admirer at the airport.

The rest of the Yankees had been informed in advance of his appearance on the bench today that he was through. They gave no sign that they knew of his plight, but joined in the cheers that went up for him.

Hit 494 Home Runs.

Gehrig began his iron man streak on June 1, 1925, and it was not until May 2, in Detroit, that it ran its course.

He suffered injuries of all types during his record breaking span—broken bones, sprains, finger injuries, and countless bumps and bruises. But he kept playing day in and day out. During his streak he made 2,721 hits for 5,060 bases, including 494 home runs.

In 1927 Gehrig was voted the American league's most valuable player. In 1934 he led the league in batting with .363.

A year by year comparison between Gehrig and Babe Ruth for all-around performance gives the veteran first baseman none the worst of it. He was much more consistent than the Babe. Gehrig paced the league four different seasons in total runs. He was leader in total bases four seasons. In 13 consecutive years he batted in 100 or more runs.

A Native of New York.

His batting average in seven world series was .361 for 34 games, in which he drove in 35 runs and made 43 hits.

The stricken star is a native of New York. He was born in Upper Manhattan in 1903 and was graduated from the High School of Commerce in New York in 1920. That was the year his team won the prep baseball championship of New York and invaded Wrigley Field in Chicago to meet Lane Tech, the Chicago high school champion.

On the field where he later was to cause consternation among two Chicago Cub teams in world series, Gehrig hit a home run over the right field wall. In 1932, when the Yankees defeated the Cubs in four straight games, Gehrig drove two homers over that same wall. He hit no homers in the 1938 world series against the Cubs.

During his three years at Columbia, Gehrig both pitched and played first base. John McGraw, then manager of the New York Giants, attempted to send Gehrig to Hartford of the Eastern league under the name of Lewis at the end of his freshman year, but university authorities intervened. After his third year at Columbia, Gehrig signed with the Yankees and was farmed out to Hartford. He hit .304 his first season and .369 in 1924.

Lou was married on Sept. 29, 1933, to Miss Eleanor Grace Twitchell of Chicago.

Physician Tells How Lou Gehrig's Illness Developed

The disease with which Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, is afflicted occurs only in adult life. It is caused by a degeneration of certain microscopic nerve columns in the spinal cord, which in return results in gradual atrophy of the muscles controled by these nerves.

This explanation of Gehrig's ailment was given yesterday by Dr. Irving S. Cutter, health editor of THE TRIBUNE and dean of the Northwestern university medical school.

The disease, known as amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, is referred to in lay terms as a form of chronic infantile paralysis [poliomyelitis]. Actually, Dr. Cutter explained, the two have no connection.

Poliomyelitis, primarily a disease of childhood, attacks the anterior horns of the spinal cord. Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis is a degeneration of nerve bundles on either side of the cord. Occasionally some of the cells in the anterior horns are involved.

No one knows, Dr. Cutter said, what causes either ailment, but it is generally presumed to be some virus infection. Poliomyelitis strikes suddenly with its paralyzing and crippling assault. The other is a slower process.

Montrose, Pa., June 21.—(AP)—By some fancy sprinting as darkness fell 17 year old David Thompson played 200 holes of golf over the nine hole course here today. Thompson started his marathon at 4:30 a. m. and quit at 8:18 p. m. He paused for a half hour at noon. For sustenance he consumed four quarts of chocolate milk. Thompson, whose home is in Washington, D. C., is vacationing here.

Red Sox Make Ten Hits But Lose, 6 to 0

Boston, Mass., June 21.—(AP)—Rookie Jack Kramer kept 10 hits and four bases on balls well scattered today while pitching the St. Louis Browns to a 6 to 0 shutout over the Red Sox. The Browns chased Joe Heving, making his first start of the season, with none out in the third after getting eight hits and half of their runs.

Here's a New Armpit Deodorant (in liquid form) Ideal for Men

Takes place of pastes and creams.

It's not the least bit messy to use—even on unshaved armpits.

Just pour a little into your palm and apply to armpit—that's all. Offensive odors disappear at once—stay away for hours.

And it's as nice to use as your after-shave lotion. It dries immediately, leaves no greasy uncomfortable feeling, no snarled hair.

Liquid Immac does not stop perspiration, just takes the odor out. It's harmless to skin and clothing.

Smith, Poor Boy, Faces Yankees for Sox Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 21.—Manager Jim Dykes of the White Sox debated with himself for a good portion of the afternoon before sending forth a messenger with announcement that Ed Smith would make his fourth start against the Yankees in the series final tomorrow. The Sox probably will have to look at Red Ruffing.

The Sox learned today that they have been booked for a synthetic double-header next Sunday at Boston. The extra game was moved up from later in the season.

The official scorer changed his mind on a ruling of yesterday in which Radcliff fumbled Dickey's hit and the throw in was fumbled by Appling. Investigation revealed that Radcliff's throw in hit Dickey as he was going into second. So Radcliff, under the revision, stands charged with two errors.

Trimmel Is Re-elected Soccer League President

Joseph Trimmel was reëlected president of the International Soccer league at the annual meeting last night in the Atlantic hotel. Others returned to office were Thure Gustafson, vice president, and E. M. Plambeck, secretary-treasurer. Delegates elected were Hilding Karlson, Marino Mazzei, and Jack Maher, with James Niotis and Mydel Ellingsen as alternates.

Dizzy Sheds His Sunday Pitching Togs

Dizzy Dean, master competitor and orator of parts, will pitch for the Cubs this afternoon in the final of the three game Boston-Chicago series. The great man will be opposed by Dick Errickson.

This afternoon's start will be Dean's fifth of the season and the only one that has not been made on a Sunday. In his five Sabbath starts Diz has won three times, lost none.

No resentment was expressed among Cub players over Dizzy Dean's Association of Commerce spiel on Tuesday. All the players automatically included themselves in Diz's "hustling two-thirds" and consequently each felt he didn't have an individual beef coming.

YANKS LAUGH OFF 6 RUN HANDICAP; DEFEAT SOX, 9-8

the third by singling to right. Kuhel tried to bunt him to second but Dahlgren made a spectacular barehand pickup of the ball and turned it into a force play. Kreevich singled over Rolfe's head and the two runners moved up on Radcliff's grounder to Dahlgren. They skipped across the plate on a looping single dropped in front of DiMaggio by Walker.

The Sox's fifth inning attack was made up of only two hits but they were for extra bases and a pass was sandwiched in, hence a pair of runs. Kreevich opened the incident with a double down the left field line. Dahlgren's one-handed stop robbed Radcliff of a hit, Kreevich going to third. Walker, with two hits to his credit, was given a walk. Appling doubled to right center, Kreevich and Walker scoring.

Passes Start Trouble.

The end of Lee and his six run lead began with passes to Selkirk and Dahlgren in the fifth. Powell, batting for Gomez, filled the bases with a scratch single to McNair. Lee thought he saw sunshine when Crosetti bounced into a double play, Selkirk scoring, but it was only an optical illusion. Rolfe singled and Dahlgren scored. Henrich added a single to the disturbance. DiMaggio singled, scoring Rolfe and putting Henrich on third. DiMaggio went to second on Kreevich's wild throw-in. Dickey singled Henrich and DiMaggio across the plate and Doc Brown was summoned. He halted this jamboree.

Kuhel walked to open the seventh and, after two were out survived at second because Gordon dropped the throw on an attempted steal. Walker and Appling drew passes and two scored when McNair's tall fly fell close to the left field line for a double. This put the Sox ahead, 8 to 6, but only for a moment. In the home half Henrich doubled and scored on a single by DiMaggio. Then Dickey calmly arched his seventh homer into the upper right field deck and the champions finally got into the lead.

Use of Nets Near Piers Barred by House Bill

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—[Special.]—A fishing bill was passed by the house tonight by a vote of 115 to 0. It provides that no nets may be used in Illinois' portion of Lake Michigan within 1,000 yards of a pier or pillar. Rep. Stanley E. Martynowski [R., Chicago] said the bill's purpose is to give fish a chance to reach the hooks let down by fishermen.

100 C.Y.O. BOXERS THINK THEY CAN WHIP THOSE IRISH

13 Champions Hope to Fight July 19.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

There's going to be quite a scramble for the ten places on the Catholic Youth Organization boxing team which will be charged with keeping its international record unsullied against Ireland's best in Soldiers' field on July 19.

Thirteen of the sixteen C. Y. O. champions will be among the squad of 100 scheduled to start open air training on July 7 at the Lewis Holy Name School of Aeronautics near Joliet. Five of the ten members of the 1938 team that defeated Ireland, 6 to 4, last year, will try to repeat. Only one of the five, Joe O'Connell, lightweight, is among the thirteen champions. This adds up to seventeen champions or veterans against Ireland in the bulky squad from which Coach Paddy Kane will fashion his forces.

Only One Champion Missing.

John Gendell, light heavyweight, is the only one of the eight open division champions who will be missing. Two novice champions, Ray Schmitz, lightweight, and Joe Clemente, heavyweight, have decided to pass up the competition.

Three of the five youngsters who aimed blows at their Irish antagonists last summer were victorious. The other two will have an added incentive to make the squad in order to obtain revenge. They are Joe Dupont, featherweight, who was beaten by Jimmy Smith, and Joe O'Connell, who lost the decision to Ernest Smith. Walter Cavalieri, flyweight, scored a verdict over John Healey; Ed O'Connell, featherweight, beat Harry Fischer, and Cornelius Young, light-heavyweight, defeated Dick Hearns.

Hearns Is a Coach Now.

Young and Hearns will play important rôles in the 1939 show. Hearns, who captained the invaders last year, will coach them this time.

Young will make his bid for a place on the C. Y. O. team as a heavyweight.

Jimmie Miller Leads with 76 in Hullabaloo

A. L. [Jimmie] Miller, club champion, shot 38—38—76 to lead a record field of 200 over a rain swept course in the first round of Bob o'Link's eighteenth annual Hullabaloo yesterday. The second eighteen holes will be played today.

Most of yesterday's field played through a steady rain which attained gale proportions late in the day, causing scores to soar. W. D. Kerr of Beverly and Steve Williams of Evanston trailed in second place with 78, while C. F. Donnelly of the home club was third with 79.

A. C. Lindquist of Pasadena posted a 93—26—67 for the best low net score of the day. Other leading low net shooters were E. P. McNeill, 89—20—69; L. J. Donohue, 82—12—70, and C. F. Donnelly, 79—7—72.

Ray Rinderer yesterday won the 1939 championship of Naval Post No. 372 of the American Legion in the annual tournament at Twin Orchard. He shot a 33—36—74 to win from Herb Klein, who came in with 42—39—81.

Mat Niesen and Charles Barry both shot par 72 to capture low gross honors at the annual golf outing of St. Timothy parish at Sportsman's Golf club yesterday. A field of 225 played. George O'Shea won low gross for members with 41—38—79. The Rev. J. P. Kiley carded a 38—36—74. Low net honors went to James Conway with 104—39—65. The driving contest between Gabby Hartnett and Chick Evans ended in a deadlock when both compiled a 243 average with four drives. Rain halted the contest.

LOUIS REMAINS BIG ENIGMA IN TRAINING CAMP

He has not shown that he desires or likes fame. Certainly, he has not courted it except as it is an inescapable companion to his successes in the ring.

His physical perfection is apparent, but his existence is so completely ordered by his managers, trainers, and intimates—all of whom have been with him since 1934—that his thoughts are an enigma. They can not be solved because of this friendly protective screen.

Nice, But Quiet.

Louis is approachable, blandly courteous if not affable. The champion is friendly in his own fashion, but in his quiet greeting there is no personality comparable to the charm of Barney Ross, the intentness of Lou Nova, or even the vociferous heartiness of Max Baer.

This quiet, unassuming poise is attractive. It also makes Louis an extremely difficult subject for interview. The surest approach to conversation always has been a mention of the Detroit Tigers although Gerald Walker, now of the White Sox, remains his favorite athlete. To routine queries, Joe confines replies to monosyllables.

He has knocked out five former heavyweight champions of the world. He has been knocked out. His one rebellion against the monotony of the training camp was checked by the punishment he received in his first bout with Max Schmeling. That defeat was forgotten after his one round victory over his only conqueror last September.

Louis likes music, but he has no talent. He no longer has his violin, which four years ago was a camp prop here at Doc Biers'.

He's Sure He'll Win.

He is certain he will whip Tony Galento next Wednesday night just as he was that he would lick Max Schmeling the night he was befuddled by a right hand smash and hammered into helplessness. This means, of course, that his opinions are formed second hand.

"Going to beat Galento?" we asked him today.

"Sure."

"Feel fine? Everything going along O. K.?"

"Yes."

And in the meantime, Louis had become the center in the inevitable group wishing autographs and desiring to take pictures.

He finished scribbling on the last proffered paper and sauntered on toward the cottage.

"Come on in," he invited.

Now, we admit that no fighter can be expected to explode precedent by admitting he will lose, certainly not to a Galento already beaten 28 times, but amplification of such trite themes forms camp gossip.

A more important report from Louis' camp, where now he has prepared for six fights, including his victory over Carnera, is that he is in perfect physical condition. Trainer Jack Blackburn is satisfied with his work. Blackburn wasn't satisfied at Lake Wood, N. J., before the first Schmeling bout, but he forgot to mention it until after the defeat.

Walter Wood's Gross 154 Wins Edgewood Valley Valley-Hoo

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Three west side clubs yesterday held their annual invitational golf tournaments in spite of wind driven rains which threatened to stymie the afternoon play. The three events were Edgewood Valley Valley-Hoo day, the Hinsdale Buggy Ride, and the Elmhurst Blowout.

Walter W. Wood paced the low gross scorers among the members at Edgewood Valley with a thirty-six hole card of 76—78—154, followed by H. A. Fletchner with 81—81—162. The low net leaders were Larry Pridmore with 185—44—141 and Al Robb with 175—32—143.

John Sipchem led the members in the eighteen hole low scoring, shooting a 40—43—83 to beat out President K. W. Moore, who had a pair of 42s for his 84. Dr. J. S. Owen, 89—19—70, and C. S. Kistler, 85—15—70, were the net victors.

Hinsdale's Buggy Ride attracted a field of 150. Jim Foulis of Ruth Lake played in the morning and turned in a 69. Fred Wagner of Westward-Ho came home in front at thirty-six holes low gross with a 72—76—148, while N. L. Stephens' 164—18—146 headed the net scorers.

Elmhurst's thirty-ninth annual Blowout, originally scheduled for thirty-six holes, was reduced to eighteen by a cloudburst. Among the members the best gross shooters were E. V. Bertolini, 38—38—76, and L. W. Brodt, 39—38—77, while net prizes were taken by E. C. O'Connor, 76—9—67, and Fred Vincent, 82—14—68. Harvey Sheppard, a guest, had the best round of the day, a 39—36—75, for low gross among the visitors.

John Houston of Ridge won the sixteenth annual tournament of the Central Manufacturing District Golf club at Calumet. He shot a 37—38—75, two strokes better than the 39—38—77 posted by William Jacobson, who took four penalty shots. Jerome Debs, with 40—41—81, and R. O. Brinker, with 42—40—82, led the members.

Harold D'Ancona turned in a 40—41—81 to win the first low prize in the annual golf tournament of the Chicago Executives' club yesterday over the No. 1 course at Olympia Fields. J. H. Dingle was second with 43—40—83.

Ellamae Williams, whose next tournament is the sixth annual Illinois women's battle opening Monday in Freeport, yesterday led the gross winners in the first open day of the season conducted by the Chicago Women's District Golf association at Flossmoor. The young Medinah star fired a 41—38—79, two over par, for first prize in the first flight.

Gross leaders in the second flight were Mrs. M. L. Westering of Midlothian, 47—46—93; Mrs. Thomas Lahr of Edgewood Valley, 47—47—94, and Mrs. J. M. Clark of Flossmoor, 47—49—96, while the third flight leaders included Mrs. J. O. Mesa of Wilmette, 46—53—99, and Mrs. W. W. Hodgson of Oak Park, 50—53—103.

R. C. Williams led the low gross shooters in the tournament conducted by the Gym Knights of the Chicago Athletic association yesterday at Olympia fields. His 41—40—81 over the No. 4 course was two shots better than the 38—45—83 submitted by Elmer F. Smith. Low net winners were Aubrey Pigott, 105—35—70; Ralph Thorsen, 93—21—72; D. B. Johnson, 89—14—75; W. P. Youngcleese, 96—20—76, and A. C. Barnett, 91—14—77. The winning low net foursome was made up of A. C. Barnett, 77; F. J. Birk, 78; Ralph Thorsen, 72, and Charles Patten, 80, their total being 307.

Oak Park Country club will hold its Founders' day to celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary today. Fifty-two of the founders still belong to the club.

TALBERT TURNS BACK SUTTER IN TENNIS UPSET

Billy Talbert of Cincinnati scored a surprise victory over seeded Ernest Sutter of New Orleans, 8-6, 6-3, in the national clay court tennis tournament at the River Forest Tennis club yesterday. A heavy rain cut short the program.

Other seeded players, including Hal Surface Jr. of Kansas City, Henry Prusoff of Seattle, Robert Harman of Oakland, Cal., Gene Mako of Los Angeles, and Wilbur Coen Jr. of Kansas City, won.

Harman, seeded sixth, was forced to go three sets before triumphing over Tate Coulthard of Berkeley, Cal., 2-6, 6-0, 6-0. Prusoff, sixteenth in the select class, dropped his first set, 0-6, to Gordon Reeder of Gambier, O., and then won the next two sets of 7-5, 6-3.

The first round of doubles, which were scheduled to start yesterday, will be resumed this afternoon, and the unfinished singles matches also will be continued from the point where play was halted.

Third Round.

Douglas Imhoff, Berkeley, Cal., defeated Robert Jakes, Milwaukee, 6-3, 6-3.
Robert Harman, Oakland, Cal., defeated Tate Coulthard, Berkeley, Cal., 2-6, 6-0, 6-0.
Ronald Lubin, Los Angeles, defeated John Krictenstein, Chicago, 6-4, 6-4.
Henry Prusoff, Seattle, defeated Gordon Reeder, Gambier, O., 0-6, 7-5, 6-3.
Wilbur Coen Jr., Kansas City, Mo., defeated Ed Lorfing, Kansas City, Mo., 6-3, 6-1.

Worlds of Havana Smokers' Delight in This Glamour Cigar

SIT yourselves down with a Robt. Burns Corona, you lovers of rich, hearty cigars and discover how completely it fulfils your ideal. A luscious, full-bodied smoke, this newcomer to the ten-cent field. It's the glamour cigar of its class. It comes from the upper regions of excellence, a cigar you never expected at ten cents.

With the glamour of its patrician shape, with its prestige and aristocratic associations, it combines the taste that satisfies. Till any skepticism you have puts this glamour cigar to test, you pay a penalty for not knowing what hundreds of smokers have learned to their delight: "New luxury at a dime."

● At last four luxury cigar features at a dime: 1. All-Havana filler. 2. Skilled craftsmanship. 3. Shade-grown wrapper. 4. Corona shape.

DETECTOR BEATS SPORTS WRITER IN CRETE FEATURE

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Detector demonstrated yesterday that he runs as well in the afternoon as he works in the morning. The Lincoln Fields bettors made him the 6 to 5 favorite in the Bellwood purse, basing their judgment on some exceptional trainig moves and on the class of the horses against which he had been competing.

He rewarded their confidence by going to the front in the first quarter mile of the six furlong sprint, drawing out to a commanding lead on the turn and coming home five lengths ahead of the Milky Way farm's Sports Writer. Broken Pieces, an 80 to 1 shot, saved the third place from the fast finishing Slavic by the margin of a nose.

The Betters' Choice.

Detector had led the way home only once before in his career, but that didn't count against him on this particular occasion, because the race was written for maidens and one time winners. Last year he had been trying against horses like Johnstown and Allegro, so the betters decided this assignment should be easy. Moreover he had worked five-eighths in sixty seconds recently to show that he was sharpened up for a successful effort.

After his easy victory in 1:13 2-5, he returned his backers $4.40, $2.80, and $2.80. Sports Writer, the second choice, paid $2.80 and $2.60. Show tickets on Broken Pieces were worth $8.20.

Jayfcee, making his first start since last August, won the Lincoln Wood purse, another six furlong sprint for the same class of horses as the Bellwood. Ernest Hanke took him out on top and kept him in front all the way to finish three lengths ahead of Risenfly. Chi ran third. Jayfcee's prices were $9.00, $5.80, and $3.80.

Sky Cloud Takes Charge.

Sky Cloud, which had made a creditable effort Monday while running third to Royal Broom, took full charge of the first race on yesterday's program. Under Ernest Hanke's hustling tactics, he left the starting gate at high speed, drew into a commanding lead approaching the stretch, and won by three lengths. The 35 to 1 shot, Silver Braid, finished second and Fair So third. The crowd had established Sky Cloud as favorite by a slight margin over Star Bess, which finished fourth. The winner paid $7, $4.80, and $3.60.

Louis B. Mayer, motion picture executive who has assembled a large and expensive stable in the last year, had his second winner of the Lincoln Fields meeting when Arline, a 2 year old filly, scored at 15 to 1 in the second race. Mayer's previous winner was San Monica, which turned the trick on Friday of last week. Jockey George South brought Arline up in the stretch to beat Shine o' Night by a length, Hazel Lee finishing third.

Double Pays $313.

When another outsider, Merry Pete, came home at better than 8 to 1 in the third, the daily double paid off at $313. Merry Pete was scoring his first victory in five starts at the meeting. Despite the fact that he had been second on two of those occasions, the crowd threw most of its support to Frozen Mask, Sweeping Wind, and Pay Check. Sweeping Wind gave a better account of himself than any of the other well regarded starters, finishing third a little more than two lengths back of Ada W.

Time: :25 1-5, :49 3-5, 1:14 4-5, 1:41 2-5, 1:48. Two dollar mutuels paid: Penrill, $11.60 straight, $5.20 place, $4.20 show; Tristrap, $5.20 place, $4.40 show; Maskillo, $5.40 show. Winner trained by F. Carra. Went to post at 5:44. At post 4½ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily, place driving.

PENRILL, rank at the post and away slowly, was taken to the outside after a quarter, raced to the leaders as they entered the back stretch, took command on the stretch turn, and drew out steadily thereafter. Tristrap, well in hand for five-eighths, saved ground much of the race and held on well in the drive. MASKILLO, reserved off the pace, moved up entering the stretch but faltered in the late stages.

NOW ONLY 60¢
3XB

FIGHT A FUNGUS WITH A FUNGICIDE

Science says infection must be fought 2 ways... (1) Starve fungus parasite by neutralizing sugar and albumen of sweat upon which it feeds (2) Peel off dead skin faster than infection can penetrate newly formed layers.

Inflamed and itchy toes, with deep, sore cracks between them, are signs that Athlete's Foot is making you its victim. The dead, white skin peels painfully in patches. This disabling disease can spread to other parts of the body... often leads to more serious infection.

Athlete's Foot is caused by a fungus that bores deep beneath the skin. It actually feeds upon the sugar and albumen in human sweat. Because these fungus cells are tough and tenacious, you need quick, persistent treatment.

Warning! Don't scratch itching, infected toes. At the first symptom of Athlete's Foot, apply the new 2-way, high-speed 3XB Liquid-Powder combination. 3XB Liquid relieves itching, tends to penetrate the tough cell-wall and to peel off diseased skin faster than fungus can burrow into newly-formed layers. 3XB Powder neutralizes the sugar and albumen in sweat upon which the fungus feeds... starves it into submission.

Apply 3XB Liquid morning and night. Sprinkle 3XB Powder on feet, into socks and shoes daily. Powder and Liquid in same package.. at all drug stores.. now only 60¢.. money back if not satisfied by returning used bottle to The 3XB Corp., 370 Lexington Ave., New York.

MAN O' WAR COLT WINS 1ST PLACE IN HORSE SHOW

Showers Interrupt Events in Lake Forest.

Twenty events were decided in the opening day's sessions of the thirty-ninth annual Lake Forest horse show yesterday at the Onwentsia club. More than 160 entries competed during an afternoon and evening punctuated by heavy showers.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hubbard and her daughter, Elizabeth, won the Elizabeth M. Hubbard challenger trophy for parent and child jumping. Mrs. William B. McIlvaine Jr. and son took second place and Mrs. Kimball Salisbury and daughter, Joy, third.

Mrs. Salisbury rode a colt by Reigh Count in the final afternoon event for light weight hunters, but failed to place. The event was won by a Man o' War offspring, Holystone, owned by Crispin Oglebay.

The main event of the evening, the Grace Farwell McGann challenge trophy for single harness ponies, was won by Stonehedge Temptation, driven by Mr. Adrian Van Sinderen.

Winners in yesterday's events were:

JERSEY VOTES IN PARI-MUTUELS; NEW YORK NEXT?

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—The horses will be running in New Jersey next spring under sanction of a 3 to 2 vote by the public. On the face of complete unofficial returns the vote for legalization of the pari-mutuel betting system for racing in New Jersey today stood at 459,646 to 302,652.

Proponents of the pari-mutuels system of betting in New York today regarded ending of the 42 year ban on betting on horse racing in New Jersey as a move also virtually assuring legalization of the machines in time for operation here next year.

LOW RENT HOME PLAN IS ADDED TO SLUM BILLS

BY HOWARD WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—A plan for providing low rent housing for the bottom income groups at no cost to the taxpayers today was incorporated in the public service building corporation legislation by the senate.

Oscar W. Rosenthal suggests amendment.

On a motion by Senator Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago] the Daley-Benson bills were recalled from third to second reading, amended to include the low rent housing contribution plan and then returned to third reading. The senate is expected to take final action on the bills tomorrow.

Today's amendment was suggested by Oscar W. Rosenthal, chairman, and other members of the Illinois state housing board. Rosenthal two weeks ago indorsed the public service building corporation bills, but urged that they include provision for taking care of some of the present tenants of old buildings in slum areas which, under the pending legislation, may be demolished to make way for the new privately financed housing projects.

Take Part of Dividends.

The amendment provides that 10 per cent of all dividends distributed by public service building corporations organized under the terms of the pending bills must be paid into a state housing fund of which the state treasurer would be custodian. Amounts thus paid into the fund would be immediately returned to the local housing authorities to be used for the construction of low rent housing for low income groups.

The operations of the local housing authorities in building low rent dwellings would have no connection with the operations of the public service building corporations themselves. The function of the latter remains the same as in the bills as originally drawn—to rehabilitate obsolete or "blighted" areas by the construction of large scale housing accommodations for rental at a reasonable profit to the investors.

Two Parts to Problem.

Sponsors of the public service building corporation bills assert that the measures in their amended form recognize the two fold nature of the problem facing all cities today. The first part of the problem, they say, is that of reclaiming rundown, obsolete areas by the construction of attractive dwellings—the lack of which is driving people of moderate incomes to the fringes of the city and to the suburbs.

The second part of the problem, they add, is the necessity for providing desirable low rent dwelling units for present occupants of unsanitary buildings in slum areas. They point out that no single plan can provide the solution to both phases of the problem, and they cite the federal government's subsidized housing projects as an example of the failure to be expected from attempts to wrap them in a single package.

Planned for Private Capital.

The public service building corporation plan was devised to make it possible to assemble land for sites on which privately financed housing projects may be constructed. Such corporations would be permitted to acquire fractions of their necessary sites through condemnation proceedings subject to the rulings of the Illinois state housing board, which, the bills provide, shall have strict supervision over the operations and finances of the corporations. They would be permitted to operate only in districts designated by the board as slum or "blighted" areas and they would be subject to the local zoning ordinances and plan commission rulings. They would also pay the full tax rate.

The entire plan represents an attempt to halt the present deterioration of cities and to revive the lagging building industry by making it possible for private capital to be enlisted in the rehabilitation of depreciated areas.

LONDON SILVER PRICE SETS NEW 8 MONTHS LOW

The price of silver for immediate delivery declined ⅛ penny yesterday in London to a new eight month low of 19 pence an ounce. This was equivalent to 37½ cents in United States currency. The decline was attributed to uncertainty over the future silver buying policy of the United States.

London traders feared the United States may either reduce or discontinue foreign purchases of silver. At present the United States pays 43 cents an ounce for foreign silver and 64.64 cents for newly mined domestic silver. The current purchase proclamation expires June 30.

The New York Federal Reserve bank announced the engagement of $6,082,000 of foreign gold for shipment to this country.

U. S. to Attack Restraints in Building Trade

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—The department of justice is preparing for a nationwide attack on trade restraints in the building industry, Thurman W. Arnold, assistant attorney general, disclosed today. He addressed the New York Building congress.

Arnold said high construction costs resulted from "unreasonable restraints of trade." The object of the drive, he said, will be to free the industry of these restraints imposed by both capital and labor so that modern techniques can be used in housing and lower priced homes produced.

Arnold said that both civil and criminal statutes will be used. He declared, however, that the department was not engaged in "witch hunting." The goal is to put an end to practices indulged in by every one from the manufacturers of building materials to the laborers who built the houses which had "virtually ruined the building industry," he said.

Edwards to Direct Drive.

The drive will be directed by Corwin Edwards, an economist who has been trained in anti-trust problems as an employé of the federal trade commission.

One of the problems to be attacked will be the price fixing by producers of building materials, by private arrangement or through trade associations, he said. Another will be the fixed markups of distributors of building materials and their efforts to control the trade through forbidding new methods of distribution. Another will be the fixed bids filed by contractors in their efforts to distribute business, sometimes through the maintenance of bid depositories.

The use of labor unions as strong arm squads to enforce agreements of other organizations in the building industry and the refusals of unions to permit the use of new products and new processes will be attacked. Legislative restraints on trade, such as licensing systems set up by states which enable contractors to discipline other contractors who violate agreements, will be under fire.

Restraints Obvious, He Says.

"The restraints of trade in building have been neglected so long that they are obvious," Arnold said. "The unreasonableness requires no elaborate technical learning to demonstrate. We need an organization to proceed simultaneously in as many cities as possible."

As a result of the restraints in the industry, he said, progress practically had been stopped so that no one knew the best way to build a modern house or what materials were most economical or how they should be distributed.

Arnold said all previous attacks on restraints had been piecemeal and never presented to the courts in a comprehensive report. This was partly due, he said, to the fact that the department of justice anti-trust division had been understaffed and was partly due to the complexity of the problem and the geographical difficulties.

AURORA ROAD'S EMPLOYES VOTE TO TAKE PAY CUT

About 500 employés of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railway voted yesterday in two meetings to accept the reduced pay rates proposed recently by Receiver A. A. Sprague. Those affected by the reduction schedule are employés whose rate of pay is more than 50 cents an hour. The constitute a large majority of the employés.

The schedule calls for a 10 per cent cut when the monthly gross revenue goes below $5,500. The cut will be 8 per cent when the revenue is between $5,500 and $5,649; 6 per cent between $5,650 and $5,799; 4 per cent between $5,800 and $5.949; 2 per cent between $5,950 and $6,099. The reduction will be eliminated when the revenue is more than $6,100 a month.

The men voted down the proposal on June 7. Sprague then obtained an order from Federal Judge J. H. Wilkerson that the men must accept by July 1 or Sprague would go before the Illinois commerce commission and ask for permission to cease operation. The employés voting yesterday were members of Division 215, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway, and Motor Coach Employés.

UNITED CORP. TO REVEAL ITS STOCK HOLDINGS

New York, June 21.—(AP)—United corporation announced today it will publish about July 1 an itemized list of its investment of about $2,500,000 in nonutility common stocks of the so-called "blue chip" variety.

The company has hesitated because of the disturbed foreign situation, it was said, to invest in nonutility equities the remaider of 8 million dollars which the Securities and Exchange commission authorized last March for a six-month period. The move was described as a step in the company's plan to change its status from that of a public utility holding company to that of combined investment, financing, and underwriting organization.

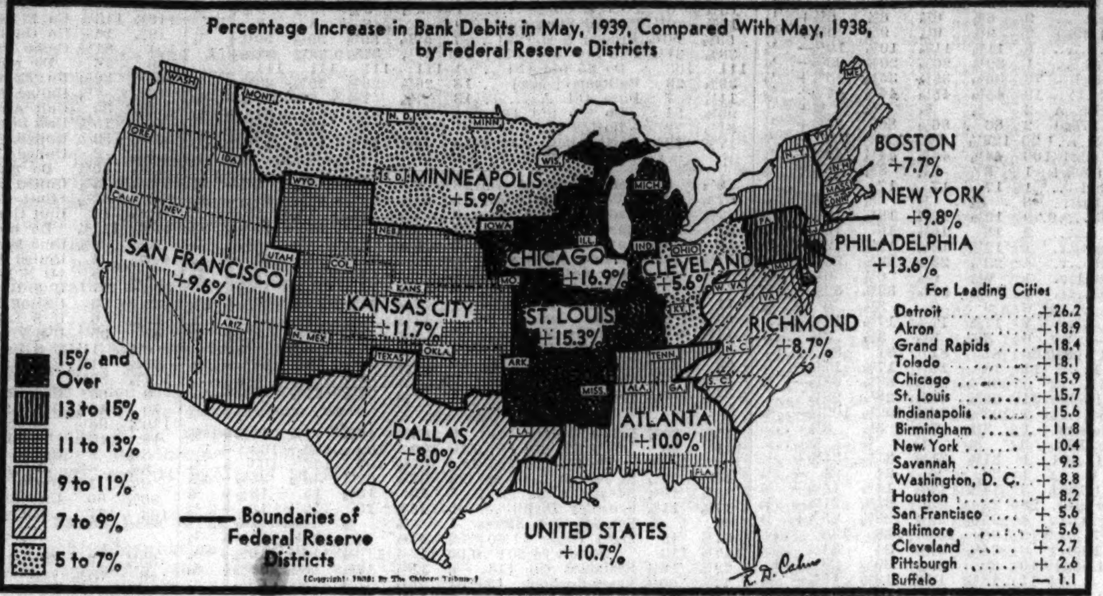
Business in May, 1939, and a Year Ago as Shown by Bank Debits



[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Credit Hitler as Salesman of U. S. Arms

Washington, D. C., June 21.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, helped by the Japanese military machine, has unwittingly become the greatest salesman for American products this country has seen in many years.

Hitler is sending business to the United States at the rate of nearly $10,000,000 a month. The business, of course, is in war planes, machine guns, shells, explosives, and bullets.

If sales continue as they have during the first five months of this year the United States will have sold about $130,000,000 worth of war equipment in 1939, and Hitler, aided by Japan, will be given credit for nine-tenths of it.

France, Britain Good Buyers.

France and Great Britain have been especially good customers this year. Alarmed by Germany's progress in the air, they scurried to order war planes. In the first five months of 1939 France had obtained export licenses for $20,997,040 worth of war goods and Great Britain $14,236,132, a total for the two of $35,233,172. In May alone France got licenses for $9,492,400.

Canada has purchased $1,251,574 worth of war materials in the United States so far this year.

Australia recently entered America's munitions market. Australia is worried about Japan's penetration on the Asiatic continent and fears her turn may come next if Hitler keeps the British navy occupied in other seas.

Will Increase Navy.

She has decided to increase her small navy and develop a war plane industry. Meantime she is turning to the United States for assistance. In May she placed an order for $4,270,870 worth of war planes.

The Netherlands' Indies, with their wealth of rubber and tin, feel themselves in somewhat the same position, and have embarked on a huge program of aerial rearmament. Thus far this year they have obtained licenses for $1,075,524 worth of war materials, and, mostly on the basis of licenses issued previously, imported $5,376,846 worth of such goods from the United States.

The Indies' motherland, The Netherlands, is herself alarmed over the increasing might of her neighbor Germany. She placed orders this year for $2,522,755 worth of war supplies.

TELLS HOW ALUMINUM BEGAN ON SHOESTRING, CUT $20 PRICE TO 20C

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Arthur Vinton Davis, chairman of the board of Aluminum Company of America, testified today in the government's anti-trust suit against the corporation and its subsidiaries that the price of aluminum had dropped from $20 a pound in 1888 to 20 cents a pound at present.

Asked about the acquisition of several sources of bauxite, an element essential to the business, Davis said they had been acquired with no monopolization in view.

Questioned by Aluminum's counsel, William Watson Smith, Davis said he got his first job with the Pittsburgh Reduction company, Aluminum company's predecessor, in 1888, and that his pay was "$60 a month when I got it."

The company, he said, was capitalized at $20,000, the aluminum on hand was kept locked in a safe at night, and the plant had "sheet iron sides and a dirt floor."

The testimony was the first offered by the defense.

STEEL OUTPUT NEAR HIGHEST LEVEL OF YEAR

Steel ingot production this week has risen to 55 per cent of capacity. This is within 1 per cent of the highest weekly record of the year, the Iron Age magazine reported yesterday. The gain over the preceding week was 2½ points. Best record for 1939 was in the week of March 12.

The present rate of production may not be maintained during the next few weeks the publication said, although the prospect appears good for a further stepup several weeks hence when automobile manufacturers are ordering more heavily for 1940 model production.

Myron C. Taylor Ready to Leave Hospital in New York

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Myron C. Taylor, a director and former chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, who has been convalescing at the Harkness pavilion of the medical center following an operation four weeks ago for the removal of the gall bladder, has recovered sufficiently to return tomorrow to Killingworth, his country home at Locust Valley, N. Y.

New Building Makes Large Gains in May

Building of all types in Illinois cities during May was larger in both number and cost than in April and in May of last year. According to a survey made by the Illinois department of labor, the largest improvement in the construction field last month throughout the state was in home building.

Last month permits were issued for 819 residential units in 166 cities, for buildings costing $4,969,685. During May of last year there were 450 permits for structures valued at $2,551,316. The gain was 82 per cent in number and 94.8 per cent in estimated cost.

In April of this year 654 permits were issued for new homes costing $3,678,307. The May gain over April was 25.2 per cent in number and 35.1 per cent in cost.

Buildings of all types in Illinois, for which permits were issued last month, totaled 3,460, with an estimated cost of $8,375,226. In May of last year there were 2,713 permits, for buildings valued at $4,887,997. The gain over 1938 was 82 per cent in number and 94.8 per cent in cost.

For the first five months of 1939 permits were issued for 3,078 homes, compared with 1,755 a year earlier.

LITTLE BUSINESS LOAN PLAN NEAR, HOPKINS ASSERTS

Washington, D. C., June 21.—(AP)—Secretary Hopkins said today he expected to offer a plan of providing easier credit or capital to small business "in the very near future." He refused to give details of the proposal, but said it was being evolved in conferences with other administrative officials on the bill of Senator Mead [D., N. Y.] to insure bank loans to business and other suggestions.

Several witnesses including William Castleman of Chicago, who said he represented 72,000 members of the Little Businessmen's League of America, testified in support of the Mead bill.

FOREMAN BANKS' OLD SITE LEASED BY BELL SAVINGS

Will Be Remodeled, Air Conditioned.

BY AL CHASE.

The Bell Savings, Building and Loan association yesterday leased the bank floor of the 30 North La Salle building for fifteen years at a term rental of $291,000. This space, at the southwest corner of La Salle and Washington streets, has been unoccupied since 1931. For many years it was the home of the Foreman banks, which ceased business in 1931 after having moved into a new building across the street in 1929.

Arthur G. Erdmann.

Arthur G. Erdmann, president of the association, said the property will be completely remodeled and modernized, and occupied by the lessee about Oct. 2. It was leased from Harold F. McCormick, as trustee, through Judson F. Stone, agent.

Association State's Largest.

The Bell Savings association, which has nearly 15,000 members, is the largest in Illinois. It has quarters on the seventeenth floor of 208 West Washington street.

The space leased extends approximately 180 feet on La Salle street and 100 feet on Washington street. Henry G. Zander Jr. of Henry G. Zander & Co. represented the lessee.

Will Be Air Conditioned.

The modernization program calls for a complete air conditioning system and acoustically treated ceilings. A mezzanine balcony will be built for serving privately clients who want loans for homes.

Bell Savings was organized in 1925 by thirteen employés of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. It has grown to nearly 15,000 shareholders and the original capital has increased so that total assets are more than $15,000,000, Erdmann said.

ENGINE MAKER REPORTS LARGE GAIN IN ORDERS

Philadelphia, Pa., June 21.—(AP)—The dollar value of orders taken in May by the Baldwin Locomotive Works and subsidiaries including Midvale company was $2,705,382, an increase of $1,516,198 over May last year.

The total for the five months of the year was $26,977,175, against $11,847,011 in 1938.

Wallace Tries to Show He Has Hull's Backing

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 21.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace today attempted to reconcile the differences between his surplus disposal programs and the state department's reciprocal trade treaties. He also defended export subsidies.

He asserted that Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who from time to time has balked Wallace's efforts to dump crop surpluses in foreign markets, is willing to yield in the event President Roosevelt and Wallace decide that "temporary emergency treatment" is necessary in any given situation.

In a statement issued at his press conference, Wallace quoted a statement by Hull to this effect, made on March 28, and said "with regard to an export subsidy on cotton, I am informed that Secretary Hull still stands on his statement."

Sees "Emergency Conditions."

Wallace then said that there was no question, in his mind, that "emergency conditions do exist with respect to agricultural surpluses, arising to a large extent from present unsettled world conditions and, in the case of cotton, from the enormous production of 19 million bales in 1937.

"Such a situation may require emergency action," said Wallace, who is well known for his prominent contributions to the President's long list of recurring "emergencies."

"Such action may include the strictly temporary use of export subsidies to enable the United States to maintain during these unsettled times its fair share of the export market.

Urges World Collaboration.

"But undoubtedly a sounder approach to this problem of agricultural surpluses, which, it must be recognized, is not confined to the United States, is to be found in international collaboration looking toward an adjustment in basic maladjustments between the supply of these products in the exporting countries and the demand in the importing countries.

"With certain foreign countries now taking from the United States only a small fraction of their former imports of specific agricultural products, it is obvious that those departments of government which have power to deal with this situation in one way or another should give the problem the most careful consideration."

In speaking on the relationship between the agriculture and state departments, Wallace said that he believed both departments are agreed that "the trade agreements program represents the soundest long term approach to the solution of the foreign trade relations of the United States, including, particularly, the problem of disposition of our agricultural export surpluses."

May Retail Auto Sales 44 Per Cent Above 1938

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Retail sales of passenger cars and trucks in May totaled 321,614, a gain of 44 per cent from May, 1938, the Automobile Manufacturers' association said today. The gain over April was 3 per cent. Included in the total were 275,457 passenger cars, 47 per cent more than last year, and 46,157 trucks, a gain of 30 per cent.

MONEY POWERS ARE IMPERILED BY FILIBUSTER

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 21.—[Special.]—Western senators demanding inflation of the currency and a higher price for domestic silver continued their filibuster in the senate today. They threatened to tie up the entire legislative program in an effort to force concessions to their demands.

Administration leaders became apprehensive, for should the filibuster be continued through June 30, President Roosevelt's dictatorial monetary powers, including authority to maintain the 2 billion dollar stabilization fund would lapse. There would be no funds on hand to pay the 3,000,000 WPA relief workers and the government would lose more than $1,700,000 a day in expiring nuisance taxes.

Extension Bill Pending.

A bill to continue for two years the President's monetary powers, as well as the stabilization fund, is the senate's pending business. A bill appropriating 1 billion, 735 million dollars to finance the WPA and related activities during the next fiscal year has been passed by the house and will be reported by the senate appropriations committee in the next day or two.

The miscellaneous nuisance taxes and the 3-cent postage rate, yielding 640 million dollars a year, are extended in the business tax appeasement bill already passed by the house and reported by the senate finance committee. This is the measure which eliminates the 2½ per cent vestige of the undistributed profits tax and substitutes a flat 18 per cent corporation tax. It also removes various other irritants from the tax structure.

Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, served notice in the senate that at noon tomorrow he would move to displace the pending monetary powers bill and make the tax bill the sen-

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 21.—The stock market dragged through another listless session today and at the close gains and losses were almost equally divided. A total of 242 issues advanced, 240 declined, and 181 closed unchanged. Most changes were fractional. Only 466,050 shares changed hands, compared with yesterday's total of 484,930 shares.

Foreign developments were blamed by observers for the wary attitude of most traders. Domestic business news was regarded as favorable, but apparently it had little influence on prices.

After a nervous opening prices began to exhibit some firmness, but the improvement was shortlived, and moderate losses replaced the early gains. In the afternoon prices backed and filled narrowly.

Steels and motors reflected diminished interest. United States Steel, Bethlehem, United States Rubber, Goodrich, and Youngstown slipped fractionally.

Motors did relatively well. Chrysler rose 1 point on some late support. General Motors, aided by reports of increased sales from automobile centers, bulged a fraction. Yellow Truck gained ¼ point.

Most oils closed lower, although Standard of New Jersey added ⅜ point. Copper and merchandising issues backed away. Airplane stocks ruled unchanged to lower.

New York Bonds.

New York, June 21.—(AP)—New York traction issues and utilities led the bond market to higher levels today. Investors, hoping for an early solution of the Metropolitan Transit unification problem, bought briskly in Interborough Rapid Transit 7s, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit 4½s, and Manhattan Railway 4s. Prices of each rose more than a point to 56¼, 79, and 48½, respectively.

Utilities gained fractionally, with the closing quotations showing Commonwealth Edison convertible 3½s at 118¼; Consolidated Edison 3½s at 106¼; Western Union 5s of '60 at 62¾, and Montana Power 3¾s at 100¼. Rails were uneven.

United States government bonds gained as much as 12-32 point in small transactions. Foreign governments were mixed with the exception of Panama and Buenos Aires issues, which gained 2 to 3 points.

Transactions totaled $5,545,100, face value, compared with $5,203,775 yesterday.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks moved higher yesterday in moderate trading during which three new 1939 highs were reached. Commonwealth Edison, one of the group to set a new peak, also was the trading leader. It closed at 29⅝, up ⅛. Chain Belt reached a new high of 16¾, up ⅞, and Walgreen reached a peak of 19⅞, up ⅜.

Among the other issues which led in trading volume were Marshall Field, Chicago corporation, Armour of Illinois, Northwest Bancorporation, Middle West, and Butler Brothers.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks closed with slight changes yesterday. Continental Illinois lost ½ point. The market was dull again.

WHEAT FUTURES PRICES DECLINE ON LIQUIDATION

Wheat futures followed an erratic course on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. In the closing minutes local longs who had purchased futures in recent sessions began to liquidate their holdings.

The market quickly moved downward as the liquidation increased and stop loss selling orders were uncovered. At the close prices had fallen ⅞ to 1⅛ cent a bushel from Tuesday's close and were at the lowest levels of the day. December reached a new seasonal low.

Brokers said the longs who liquidated had expected at least a technical recovery, but became discouraged when yesterday's reports of wet weather hindering harvesting failed to give prices much of a lift.

Corn prices sank ⅜ to ¾ cent a bushel as weather continued favorable for the growing crop. Oats broke ¾ to 1⅞ cents a bushel under pressure of liquidation by locals and commission houses. Soy beans finished 1 cent to as much higher.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Top grades of hogs rose to new high prices for the month yesterday on brisk competition. Best loads reached $7.00 per hundred pounds, highest since May 22. Broader consumer demand for fresh pork coupled with a further decline in supplies at all leading packing centers brought buyers into the trade with urgent orders for hogs. Prices advanced mostly 10 to 15 cents.

An advance of 10 to 15 cents in the lamb trade carried top native stock to $10.50, the highest price since June 5.

Commodities

The trend in commodity futures prices at New York yesterday was generally higher. Metals markets were outstanding with an advance in the export copper quotations and fairly heavy demand for lead. Export copper sold at 10.14 cents a pound after opening at 10.05 cents.

Trade interests said lead purchasers, after yesterday's buying, had probably covered 60 to 65 per cent of July requirements. Demand is likely to continue, it was said, because August books will be opened soon. Prices of spot lead held unchanged. Futures gained .01 cent a pound.

Cocoa futures rose as much as .02 cent a pound from Tuesday's near record lows. Better demand from manufacturing interests and favorable London cables boosted buying. Higher Yokohama prices stimulated purchases of silk futures, which finished unchanged to 7 cents a pound higher.

In the sugar market domestic futures moved up .02 to .04 cent a pound. World futures finished .01 to .03 cent higher. Other commodities closing higher were tin and coffee contracts.

BILL TO DIVORCE OIL PRODUCTION, SELLING LASHED

'Senseless,' Says Head of Socony-Vacuum.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 21.—The Harrington bill to divorce marketing of petroleum products from the other production operations is "senseless" and infringes upon freedom of buying, John A. Brown, president of the Socony-Vacuum Company, Inc., told a house subcommittee today.

John A. Brown.

The bill, introduced by Representative Vincent F. Harrington [D., Ia.], declared that "harmful effects and monopolies result from the operations of persons in the marketing of petroleum products combined with operations in production, refining, and transportation of petroleum products."

Outlines Effects of Plan.

Brown told the house judiciary subcommittee, which is holding hearings on the bill, that disintegration would be similar to prohibiting an automobile manufacturer from maintaining local sales offices or forbidding a farmer to sell vegetables or eggs from in front of his house.

"Even the departments of the government, the United States army and navy service, and the merchant marine would be deprived of their 'buying freedom' unless they went to the refinery itself and there took title to what they wanted," Brown said.

Could Not Have Warehouses.

"If it is a good principle for the oil industry that retail sellers and consumers must not buy from manufacturers unless they take title at the factory, and that manufacturers must not have warehouses or depots or make deliveries of products, then it it ought to be true for all industries.

"If the proponents of this bill have their way, the American petroleum manufacturer will be the real isolationist of the world. He will sit in his refinery yard, forbidden to do anything about finding his raw material or bringing it to his plant. He will be unable to have terminals or warehouses or depots of any kind for the storage and convenient delivery of his products."

Gives Estimate of Profits.

He estimated that during the five year period ended Dec. 31, 1938, the company made net profits on all business and services in the United States equal to something less than ½ cent per gallon on total volume of crude oil and all petroleum products sold in this country.

"This profit," he said, "represents 3.4 per cent on our depreciated investment and working capital employed in the business during this period.

"It is interesting to compare this profit of less than ½ cent per gallon with taxes of all kinds [including gasoline sales tax], which in this same period amounted to 2.45 cents per gallon, even when spread over sales of crude and all products."

Standard Official Testifies.

W. T. Holliday, president of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, told the committee that "our company has always made a profit on its marketing operations and it has only been the profits from its marketing operations which have enabled it to survive during the last ten years."

Declaring that the Harrington bill, if passed, meant the destruction of "unintegrated" or so-called independent refineries, Holliday said that the proposed legislation, if passed, "would be a step toward promoting rather than preventing monopoly."

NAT. REPUBLIC INVESTING FIRM RULED BANKRUPT

Federal Judge Michael Igoe yesterday declared the National Republic Investing company bankrupt. The action came in response to a suit filed on June 5 by the Reconstruction Finance corporation asking that the company, which was once an investing subsidiary of the Central Republic Trust company, be placed in bankruptcy.

The RFC claims of $523,955 against the National Republic company. As a stockholder of the parent corporation, the National Republic company incurred a liability of $41,985 when the RFC won an $11,000,000 judgment in a stock holders' suit against the Central Republic Trust company.

Milwaukee Firm Bids Low on Water Tunnel Project

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, recommended to PWA authorities yesterday that the Wenzel and Henoch company of Milwaukee be awarded a $1,589,200 contract for the construction of 10,200 feet of a 16 foot water tunnel. The company was the lowest of six bidders. The tunnel will connect the present 67th street water tunnel with the filtration plant being constructed at 75th street and the lake.

Eastern Air Lines Gets Permits for Six Routes

Washington, D. C., June 21.—[Special.]—The Civil Aeronautics authority issued certificates of convenience and necessity to Eastern Air Lines, Inc., for operation of six air routes. Terminal points of the routes are Newark to New Orleans, Newark to Miami, Chicago to Jacksonville, New Orleans to Houston, Tampa to Memphis, and Houston to Brownsville and San Antonio.

BUSINESS THAT MAKES MANY STEALS IS SAFE FROM FEDERAL PROBE

Washington, D. C., June 21.—(AP)—Bob Feller, Cleveland baseball pitcher, was assured by a member today that the federal monopoly committee does not intend to investigate baseball.

Feller dropped in on the committee's investigation of life insurance practices and was quickly spied in the audience by Acting Chairman Reece [R., Tenn.].

"We have Bob Feller with us," Reece interrupted the hearing to announce, "and I will say for him that we have no intention of investigating baseball."

NLRB PROCEDURE IN INLAND STEEL CASE IS UPHELD

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the procedure used by the national labor relations board in arriving at its order to the Inland Steel company of Chicago to sign a labor contract with the Steel Workers Organizing committee [C. I. O.].

The court held that the labor board need not answer a list of twenty-two formal questions filed by Inland in connection with its fight against the labor board's order. These questions covered the internal procedure of the board. The steel company charged that the labor board had not studied the evidence taken at labor board hearings on its fight with the C. I. O. but had delegated this task to subordinates.

Inland won one point in yesterday's decision when the court maintained that it [the court] has the power to entertain interrogatories such as were presented. The labor board had held the court lacked jurisdiction.

Yesterday's decision has no bearing on the main points involved in Inland's dispute with the labor board—that the labor board had no right to issue the order requiring Inland to enter a written contract with the C. I. O. An appeal is pending.

WILLKIE PLEADS WAY BE CLEARED FOR UTILITY SALE

Wilmington, Del., June 21.—[Special.]—Wendell I. Willkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, urged today that congress clear the way for the sale of a company subsidiary to the Tennessee Valley authority.

In a statement to stockholders he directed his plea to the joint conference committees of the house of representatives and the senate. He urged the committees "to exercise the utmost of goodwill" and report out a bill authorizing the sale of the Tennessee Electric Power company to the TVA by allowing the latter to issue bonds to make the purchase.

Addressing the annual meeting of the shareholders, Willkie declared that if such a bill is not agreed upon, "the TVA and municipalities in Tennessee with free gifts of money from the federal government will continue the duplication and destruction of our property."

The directors were reëlected. They reëlected the officers.

UTILITY WILLING TO GIVE UP STOCK AT RIGHT PRICE

Washington, D. C., June 21.—(AP)—Counsel for Columbia Gas and Electric corporation told the securities commission today that the company was willing to dispose of certain securities, but should not be asked to do so at present market prices.

Edward S. Pinney, attorney for the $700,000,000 holding company, made this assertion while oral arguments were being presented on the company's proposal for simplification of its structure under the holding company act. The act requires holding companies to simplify financially and geographically. Pinney did not specify the securities he said the company would be willing to sell.

He urged the commission to consider the problem of simplification against the background of geography, engineering and economics. All the gas companies, he asserted, are located within an area which developed as a unit.

Cap Illinois Gas Well Out of Control Since Monday

Carmi, Ill., June 21.—(AP)—Drillers today succeeded in capping the Angle and Eason Oil company's No. 1 Storms, a gas wel which had been out of control since Monday afternoon. W. N. Angle already had asked Carmi city officials for a franchise to furnish gas in that city.

German Exports in May Exceed Imports in Value

BERLIN, June 21.—(AP)—A report today on Germany's foreign trade for May showed that exports exceeded imports by about $18,320,000. This was a reversal of the trend in April, when imports exceeded exports by $13,880,000.

Business Bits

Earl W. Beier, president of the Beier Paper company, Chicago, has been elected president of the Paper and Twine club of the middle western states. Beier is president of the Papers Trade association of Chicago. Other newly elected officers are Charles W. Sterling, Rexford Paper company, Milwaukee, vice president;

Stockholders of Pines Winterfront company voted to reduce the number of directors from seven to five. Directors were reëlected with the exception of Max Adler, resigned, and William J. Scown, deceased.

The American National Life Insurance company of Galveston, Tex., is planning to open four new offices in Chicago. The first office to open will be in the National building at Broadway and Wilson avenue, about July 10.

INDUSTRY'S ROLE IS DEFENDED BY OFFICIAL OF FORD

Record One of Benefits, Kiwanis Group Told.

Boston, Mass., June 21.—(AP)—Assailing "crack brained leaders" who "preach to gullible people that business is naturally evil and necessarily predatory," W. J. Cameron, spokesman for the Ford Motor company, declared today that "business is fundamentally moral as a condition of its own survival."

W. J. Cameron.

"Industry first found itself in the hovels of the people," Cameron said in an address before the annual convention of Kiwanis International. "It removed the work to that modern institution we call the factory and gave the dwellings of the people the dignity of homes.

Cites Reduction in Hours.

"Industry found men and women and little children working fifteen hours a day for pittances. It reduced the work day to eight hours and the work week to five days, and increased wages to unprecedented levels.

"Now, what I would have business men know, as against the gross misunderstandings, is that everyone of these reforms came voluntarily out of industry intent on doing its job the best way. The charge that these improvements were made at the insistence of a morally outraged society is not tenable.

"All of this present day talk about democracy was made possible by the foundation industry provided. All of this great system of public education which prepares a people for democracy was made possible and is maintained by the undergirding support of industry.

"Need Not Hang Our Heads".

"I say this for the encouragement of those engaged in business. We have nothing to be ashamed of in our record. If we have this knowledge of our course and its social effects, we need not hang our reads under the bludgeoning of the misinformed."

Bennett O. Knudson, an attorney of Albert Lea, Minn., was elected president of Kiwanis International by acclamation. Charles S. Donley, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Robert J. Prettie of Winnipeg, Man., were elected vice presidents ,and Dr. W. Eugene Wolcott of Des Moines, Ia., treasurer.

50 MILLION LOAN OF SOCONY TO BE OFFERED TODAY

Refunds Bonds at Lower Interest Rate.

New support for the reviving financing market will be given today with the public offering of $50,000,000 of Socony-Vacuum 3 per cent bonds, due July 1, 1964, by Salomon Brothers & Hutzler. The bonds will be priced at 104 to yield about 2.78 per cent. Two fair sized offerings earlier this week were successful. An issue of $13,000,000 New York State Electric and Gas corporation bonds is expected to be offered tomorrow.

The Socony-Vacuum loan is one of the largest issues to be placed on the market this year. A feature of the transaction is that it is being handled by Salomon Brothers & Hutzler alone. The same house brought out an issue of a like amount of 3½ per cent bonds of the company, which were sold in 1935.

Cuts Interest ½ Per Cent.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to refund the 3½ per cent issue maturing in 1952. Sale of the present issue will enable the company to reduce its interest rate by ½ per cent and at the same time extend the maturity date twelve years.

It is not expected that many of the Socony-Vacuum bonds will fall into the hands of the public because large purchases by insurance companies and other institutions are indicated.

The $8,323,000 of 3¼ per cent Rochester Gas and Electric corporation bonds which were offered yesterday by a group headed by the First Boston corporation and Smith Barney & Co. at 105½ quickly sold at a premium. During the day they were quoted as high as 107½.

Issue Selling Well.

The Central Illinois Electric & Gas company 3¾ per cent bonds offered on Tuesday by a group headed by Harris, Hall & Co. at 100½ were reported to be moving well. The offering price is being maintained. In addition to the bonds $3,000,000 of 3, 3½, and 4 per cent debentures of the same company were offered.

An issue of long term bonds of Southern Bell Telephone company is contemplated, financial sources said. Although the amount, maturity, and interest rate have not been decided, it is probable the total will be $25,000,000, with proceeds of $16,500,000 going to American Telephone and Telegraph company, as reimbursement for money advanced by the parent company for new construction. More than $4,000,000 of 4 per cent notes sold to the pension fund may also be reacquired.

American Air Lines registered 25,000 shares of $10 par common stock with the Securities and Exchange commission. All shares will be reserved for the exercise of options issued to officers and supervisory personnel of the company and are exercisable at $12.50 per share to July 1, 1941. Net proceeds will be added to working capital and used in general in furtherance of the business of the company.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

By HOMER J. NEISZ

41 Hereford Steers Sold.

June 21, 1939.

FORTY-ONE Hereford steers were trucked in early this morning from the Du Page county farm and sold on the Chicago market. They weighed a total of 47,660 pounds and brought $9.60 a hundred pounds.

Marketing costs totaled $126.17, or $3.07 a head. This included $71.49 for trucking the animals in from the farm and $54.68 selling costs at the stockyards. After deductions for trucking and selling charges, the steers brought a net return to the farm of $4,449.19, or $108.51 apiece.

The steers were bought as yearlings last summer in Kansas City. They were born in Texas. They weighed an average of 659 pounds and cost $8.40 a hundred pounds. With freight charges added, the steers cost $57.20 each, delivered at the farm last Aug. 17. The average net return for feed and labor was $51.31 for each steer.

The cattle were on the farm 308 days. They made an average gain of 503.4 pounds, or 1.63 pounds a day.

On Pasture 105 Days.

The steers were kept on pasture for 105 days after they arrived at the farm. During that time they were fed small amounts of oats, chopped green corn, and grass hay.

They were put in the feed lot on Nov. 30 and started on a ration of ground ear corn and oats, corn silage, alfalfa and clover hay, and cottonseed meal. The corn and oats were ground together—two parts corn and one part oats by weight. Hay was kept in the racks all the time.

The amount of feed was increased gradually and by the middle of December the steers were getting a daily average of 14 pounds of grain mixture, 34 pounds of silage, 1 pound of cottonseed meal, and all the hay they could eat.

Later the amount of roughage was reduced gradually and the grain ration increased. By the end of March each steer was getting a daily ration of 18 pounds of grain mixture, 5 pounds of silage, 4½ pounds of hay, and 1 pound of cottonseed meal.

Cracked Corn Fed.

Toward the end of the feeding period the grain mixture was replaced with cracked shelled corn. The amount of cottonseed meal was more than doubled.

For the last forty days the steers were on the farm they were fed a daily average of 24 pounds of cracked shelled corn, 4 pounds of corn silage, 2.4 pounds of cottonseed meal, and 1 pound of chopped alfalfa hay. In addition, they were given a commercial mineral mixture.

There were forty-two steers in the group, but one of them is being made into beef at the farm. The meat will be put in a cold storage locker in Wheaton to be used as needed by the families on the farm.

Only thirty-nine steers now are left on the Du Page county farm. They are feeder calves, bought in Kansas City about six weeks ago. These likely will be kept on pasture all summer and put in the feed lot next fall.

MONEY POWERS ARE IMPERILED BY FILIBUSTER

ate's pending business. If that motion prevails—and it is expected to—the monetary powers bill will go back to the calendar and it will require a majority vote to take it up again.

Plan to Press Filibuster.

Leaders of the two day old filibuster announced that they would not oppose Harrison's motion, explaining that they simply would transfer their amendments and their demands from the monetary powers bill to the tax measure. That is, the tax bill may be taken up, but they will not permit it to pass unless they get what they want.

Senator Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.], the senate's foremost exponent of weird money, held the floor throughout today's session. He demands the issuance of 2 billion dollars in additional currency, devaluation of the dollar down to 50 per cent of its former value, and a mandatory price of $1.04 an ounce for newly mined domestic silver. The treasury now is paying 64.64 cents an ounce for domestic silver, about 22 cents above the world price, and the present program expires June 30. The silverites would be satisfied if the treasury would announce a new price of 77½ cents an ounce. Some of them fear that the treasury will not continue the price of 64.64.

Report Twenty Will Help.

Senator Pat McCarran [D., Nev.], is assisting Thomas in leading the filibuster, and it is claimed that about twenty senators are prepared to support them. Some Republicans may assist them in an effort to kill the President's extraordinary monetary powers. If the resolution continuing those powers should not be adopted by June 30, the original legislation would expire and could not be renewed without re-introduction.

The silverite-inflationists hope that the administration will make some concessions to their demands, just as it did in 1933, when Senator Thomas succeeded in attaching a rider to the agricultural adjustment act giving the President his original power to devalue the dollar by 50 per cent of its former value.

Farm Bill Approved.

The funny money bloc made no effort today to prevent consideration by the senate of a partial conference agreement on the 1 billion, 200 million dollar agriculture department appropriation bill and it was adopted without a record vote. One important item, adding 113 million dollars to the funds available from custom receipts [about $90,000,000] for surplus removal subsidies, must be taken back to the house of representatives for a concurring vote.

The conferees agreed, without any reference to the house, on a senate amendment appropriating 225 million dollars for so-called parity farm payments, in addition to the 500 million appropriated for soil conservation subsidies.

EASTMAN DIVIDENDS.

Investors' Guide: Can you tell me the dividend record of Eastman Kodak common stock in the last ten years? I would like to know exactly how much has been paid each year since 1929. Is it a fact this company has made payments on its common stock every year since 1902?—D. F. W.

Answer: Eastman Kodak company has an unbroken dividend on its common stock since 1902. With only six exceptions, it has paid extras every year in addition to the regular rate. The years in which no extras were paid were 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1933, and 1934.

Here's the record on the common stock since 1929:

	Regular.	Extra.
1938	$6.00	$ .50
1937	6.75	.75
1936	5.00	1.75
1935	4.75	1.00
1934	3.50	....
1932	4.50	.75
1931	5.00	3.00
1930	5.00	3.00
1929	5.00	3.00

So far this year the company has paid $1.50 each on Jan. 3 and April 1. A similar amount is payable July 1 to stock of record June 5.

BOURJOIS, INC.

Investors' Guide: Please tell me the trade names under which Bourjois, Inc., distributes its products. Is the stock listed?—M. W.

Answer: Bourjois, Inc., makes and sells cosmetics and perfumes under the trade names of "Karess," "Viegay," "Evening in Paris," "Ashes of Roses," "Manon Lescault," "Fiancee," "Barbara Gould," and "Java Face Powder." Its stock is listed on the New York Curb.

DRUG CHAINS.

Investors' Guide: Please list the number of stores operated by the following drug chains: Crown, Cunningham, Dow, Katz, Peoples, United, and Walgreen. Thank you.—C. J. K.

Answer: The latest available data shows the companies you list had the following number of stores: Crown, 82; Cunningham, 90; Dow, 49; Katz, 13; Peoples, 135; United [Liggett's and Owl], 561 domestic and 43 foreign, and Walgreen, 508.

how to keep in touch with styles and values in shoes

● You can make your money go farther and buy more satisfaction when you plan your trips to the stores in advance. Because the Tribune prints more women's shoe advertising than the next two Chicago newspapers combined, you can keep in touch with the town's most desirable shoe fashions and values by reading this advertising regularly. No really outstanding shoe offering will escape your notice in the Tribune. Some stores advertise only there. By reviewing this advertising every day you will be able to know where the best footwear fashions are available at the prices you want to pay.

CROP PROGRESS GOOD; WEATHER IS FAVORABLE

Rains Delay Harvesting in Some Districts.

Weather conditions were generally favorable for growing crops in the last week, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Exceptions were unseasonably low temperatures in the northwest and hot dry weather in the far southwest.

Cool and showery weather in the northern grain belt aided spring wheat, but was not warm enough for the best corn progress. In the south it was warm and showery, aiding corn growth, but hampering cultivation of the plant and harvesting of winter wheat.

Rainfall was adequate for current needs except in the western part of the southwest and a part of the Great Lakes area. In many places precipitation was excessive, leading to floods in Ohio and Kentucky lowlands. In contrast, western Kansas, the Texas panhandle, and east central Nebraska received little or no rain. South Dakota wheat will need rainfall soon.

Reports on Rainfall.

Conditions by States.

Crop conditions in leading states follow:

ILLINOIS—Corn progress good to excellent; condition good to very good. Height mostly 18 to 24 inches. Winter wheat progress fair to good; cutting beginning in south and central sections. Soy beans growing well.

IOWA—Corn progress excellent; plants about knee high. Late oats improved. Winter wheat condition fairly good. Chinch bugs damaged corn and small grains in south; grasshopper damage in northwest.

INDIANA—Weather favorable for growing crops, except where heavy rains fell. Winter wheat condition fair to good. Oats progress variable.

WISCONSIN—Nights too cool. Too much rain in northeast; more needed in some other sections. Corn progress good. Winter grains headed short. Good yields of alfalfa and hay.

Michigan Crops Good.

MICHIGAN—Crops in good condition. More sun and warmth needed for haying and crop growth.

OHIO—Soil too wet for cultivation, with Scioto river fields under water. Oats poor. Wheat needs ripening weather.

MISSOURI — Corn and winter wheat made good progress. Some reports of rust in wheat, which is ripening fast. Bulk will be combined in coming week. Best quality in years in several sections.

KANSAS — Western third lacks rain; eastern two-thirds had adequate to too much rain. Winter wheat harvest well under way; delayed by rains in east.

NEBRASKA—Corn progress good. Winter wheat, oats, and rye ripening and filling well, but much acreage too short to bind.

Rain Aids Small Grains.

NORTH DAKOTA—Generous rains greatly improved small grains. Spring wheat condition good to very good, but some headed rather short.

SOUTH DAKOTA — Temperatures favorable for growth, and rainfall adequate, but more will be needed regularly. Winter wheat deteriorated. Spring grains improved.

MONTANA—Generous rainfall made for good growth of small grains, but hindered cultivation and other field work. Spring grains' condition good.

MINNESOTA — Frequent rains mainly beneficial. Leaf rust in wheat in extreme south. Corn needs warmer weather.

COTTON

Cotton futures were in good demand yesterday as the result of hopes for an early settlement of barter negotiations with Great Britain.

Final futures prices were .01 to .05 cent a pound higher for July deliveries in American markets. The nearby contract was subjected to more pressure, mainly of a liquidating nature and including some profit-taking, than were the deferred months. The latter finished with gains of .10 to .14 cent a pound.

Approval of most items in the agricultural appropriations bill by senate and house conferees lifted hopes for the subsidy fund, and some buying was made on that action.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .01 cent a pound higher yesterday, with New York at 9.87 cents, New Orleans, 9.45 cents, Houston 9.35 cents and Galveston 9.42 cents. Prices follow:

Bank Cuts Interest When Payments Are Prompt

New York, June 21.—[Special.]—The Cleveland Trust company today notified its mortgage borrowers who are paying the higher rates of interest of a reduction of 1 per cent when payments of interest, principal, and taxes are made when due. Harris Creech, president, explained that no uniform rate has been fixed, because rates must vary with the terms and nature of the loans.

NOW! A NEW LOAN PLAN
Pick your own
monthly repayment.
Example: $10.07 per month for 12 months repays everything on a $100 loan.

CASH LOAN YOU GET	Amount you pay back each month [including all charges] for the following periods: 6 mos.	12 mos.	16 mos.	20 mos.
$ 20	$ 3.70	$ 2.02
50	9.24	5.03
70	12.94	7.05	$ 5.59	$ 4.73
100	18.48	10.07	7.98	6.74
125	23.05	12.54	9.94	8.38
150	27.58	14.97	11.84	9.97
200	36.60	19.78	15.60	13.11
300	54.28	29.08	22.81	19.06

Payments are calculated at Household's rate of 3% per month on the first 100 of balances, 2% per month on balances above $100 to $200 and 1% per month on balances above $200 to $300, which is less than the lawful maximum rate on all loans above $100.

Our Guarantee
We guarantee the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, where payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay ahead of schedule.

LOAN
Questions Answered

1—HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?
You save on loan charges here because Commonwealth has a reduced rate. From 3% monthly on loans of $100 or less, the monthly rate drops to only 2% on balance above $100.

AMOUNT OF LOAN.	PAYMENTS. [Including int.] First Month.	Last Month.
$ 50	$ 4.00	$ 2.58
100	8.00	5.15
200	15.00	10.30
300	22.00	15.45

2—WHAT SECURITY IS REQUIRED?
Loans made to both single persons and married couples on autos, furniture, or just their personal note.

3—WHEN CAN I GET THE MONEY?

4—HOW DO I APPLY?
Simply stop in, write, or telephone. A representative will call at your home if you cannot come in.
